Item 4 Summary of Material Change

The 200 hourly unionized employees at Cameco's Port Hope conversion facility have accepted a three-year contract offer. These employees, represented by the United Steelworkers of America, had been on strike since midnight July 28, 2004, and voted 62% overall in favour of the contract offer.

Item 5 Full Description of Material Change

The 200 hourly unionized employees at Cameco's Port Hope conversion facility have accepted a three-year contract offer. These employees, represented by the United Steelworkers of America, had been on strike since midnight July 28, 2004, and voted 62% overall in favour of the contract offer.

The employees returned to work on Thursday, September 16, 2004. Completing the scheduled summer maintenance and ramping up production will take about five weeks. The conversion facility is currently about 1,000 tonnes behind its 2004 production target of 12,500 tonnes uranium. During the strike, Cameco met sales obligations to customers by reducing its conversion inventory.
