Ternium Clarifies Status of Sidor Nationalization Process

Luxembourg, August 20, 2008 – Ternium S.A. (NYSE: TX) announced today that, following the expiration of the term for the negotiation of the conditions on which all or a significant part of Ternium’s interest in Sidor will be transferred to the Republic of Venezuela, the negotiations with the Venezuelan government are still under way.

Ternium continues to reserve all of its rights under contracts, investment treaties and Venezuelan and international law and to evaluate its options in realizing the fair value of its interest in Sidor.

Forward Looking Statements

Some of the statements contained in this press release are “forward-looking statements”. Forward-looking statements are based on management’s current views and assumptions and involve known and unknown risks that could cause actual results, performance or events to differ materially from those expressed or implied by those statements. These risks include but are not limited to risks arising from uncertainties as to gross domestic product, related market demand, global production capacity, tariffs, cyclicity in the industries that purchase steel products and other factors beyond Ternium’s control.

About Ternium
