State below in reasonable detail why Forms 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, 10-D, N-SAR, N-CSR, or the transition report or portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period.

During 2006, NeoMedia Technologies, Inc. (the "Company") entered into multiple complex transactions, including (i) five material acquisitions, (ii) divestiture of two subsidiaries, and (iii) three separate convertible financing arrangements, which included two stock warrant repricing scenarios. In addition, the Company is no longer deemed a small business issuer and became an accelerated filer. As a result, the Company requires additional time to complete its audit for its fiscal year ended December 31, 2006.

If answer is no, identify report(s).

Yes No

(3) Is it anticipated that any significant change in results of operations from the corresponding period for the last fiscal year will be reflected by the earnings statements to be included in the subject report or portion thereof?

Yes No

It is anticipated that there will be significant changes in the results of operations for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2006, as compared with the prior fiscal year ended December 31, 2005. Significant accounting events include (but are not limited to) (i) additional net sales and operating expenses resulting from the acquisition of five subsidiaries during the first quarter of 2006, (ii) accounting implications of the convertible financings and related derivative accounting issues, (iii) accounting implications of the disposal of the Company's Mobot, Inc. and Sponge Ltd. businesses during the fourth quarter of 2006, and (iv) a charge of $13,256,000 incurred during the third quarter of 2006 (as reported in the Company's form 10-Q for the period ended September 30, 2006) to write off deferred equity finance charges associated with a delayed financing. The Company has not finalized the accounting for these items and therefore cannot reasonably estimate the overall impact to the results of operations.

If so, attach an explanation of the anticipated change, both narratively and quantitatively, and, if appropriate, state the reasons why a reasonable estimate of the results cannot be made.
