(b) Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In May 2014, the FASB and the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) jointly issued ASU No. 2014-9, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606), which was further updated by ASU No. 2016-08 in March 2016, ASU No.2016-10 in April 2016 and ASU No.2016-11 in May 2016. The new guidance clarifies the principles for recognizing revenue and develops a common revenue standard for GAAP and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). The core principle of the guidance is that an entity should recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods and services. In July 2015, the FASB approved a deferral of the ASU effective date from annual and interim periods beginning after December 15, 2016 to annual and interim periods beginning after December 15, 2017. The Company is in the process of evaluating the impact of the ASU on its consolidated financial statements.

In June 2016, the FASB issued ASU No. 2016-13, Financial Instruments – Credit Losses (Topic 326): Measurement of Credit Losses on Financial Instruments, which eliminates the probable recognition threshold for credit impairments. The new guidance broadens the information that an entity must consider in developing its expected credit loss estimate for assets measured either collectively or individually to include forecasted information, as well as past events and current conditions. There is no specified method for measuring expected credit losses, and an entity is allowed to apply methods that reasonably reflect its expectations of the credit loss estimate. This ASU is effective for the Company on December 15, 2019. The Company is in the process of evaluating the impact of the ASU on its consolidated financial statements.

In March 2016, the FASB issued ASU No. 2016-09, Compensation - Stock Compensation (Topic 718), Improvements to Employee Share-Based Payment Accounting. The ASU was issued as part of the FASB Simplification Initiative and involves several aspects of accounting for share-based payment transactions, including the income tax consequences and classification on the statement of cash flows. The guidance is effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2016, and interim periods within those annual periods. Early adoption is permitted for any entity in any interim or annual period. If an entity early adopts the amendments in an interim period, any adjustments should be reflected as of the beginning of the fiscal year that includes that interim period. An entity that elects early adoption must adopt all of the amendments in the same period. The Company is in the process of evaluating the impact of the ASU on its consolidated financial statements.

12. Deferred income tax assets

In accordance with the provisions of ASC Topic 740, "Income Taxes", the Company assesses, on a quarterly basis, its ability to realize its deferred tax assets. Based on the more likely than not standard in the guidance and the weight of available evidence, the Company believes a valuation allowance against its deferred tax assets is necessary. In determining the need for a valuation allowance, the Company considered the following significant factors: an assessment of recent years' profitability and losses by tax authorities; the Company's expectation of profits based on margins and volumes expected to be realized, which are based on current pricing and volume trends; the long period in all significant operating jurisdictions before the expiry of net operating losses, noting further that a portion of the deferred tax asset is composed of deductible temporary differences that are subject to an expiry period until realized under tax law. The Company will continue to evaluate the provision of valuation allowance in future periods.

The components of estimated deferred income tax assets as of June 30, 2016 and December 31, 2015 are as follows (figures are in thousands of USD):

- The net operating losses carry forward for the U.S. entities for income tax purposes are available to reduce future years' taxable income. These losses will expire, if not utilized, in 20 years. Net operating losses carry forward for China entities can be carried forward for 5 years to offset taxable income. However, as of June 30, 2016, the valuation allowance was $9.8 million, including $7.5 million allowance for the Company's deferred tax assets in the United States and $2.3 million allowance for the Company's non-U.S. deferred tax assets in China. Based on the Company's current operations in the United States, management believes that the deferred tax assets in the United States are not likely to be realized in the future. For the deferred tax assets in other countries, pursuant to certain tax laws and regulations, the management believes such amount will not be used to offset future taxable income. Approximately $5.0 million and $4.9 million of net deferred income tax asset as of June 30, 2016 and December 31, 2015, respectively, are included in non-current deferred tax assets in the accompanying condensed unaudited consolidated balance sheets. The expected term represents the period of time that stock-based compensation awards granted are expected to be outstanding and is estimated based on considerations including the vesting period, contractual term and anticipated employee exercise patterns. Expected volatility is based on the historical volatility of the Company's stock. The risk-free rate is based on the U.S. Treasury yield curve in relation to the contractual life of stock-based compensation instruments. The dividend yield assumption is based on historical patterns and future expectations for the Company's dividends.

Assumptions used to estimate the fair value of stock options on the grant dates are as follows:

Issuance Date	Expected volatility	Risk-free rate	Expected term (years)	Dividend yield
December 11, 2015	126.25	% 1.62	% 5	0.00 %

The above stock options were vested and exercisable immediately. Their fair value on the grant date of December 11, 2015 using the Black-Scholes option pricing model was $0.1 million. For the year ended December 31, 2015, the Company recognized stock-based compensation expenses of $0.1 million.

27. Significant concentrations

A significant portion of the Company's business is conducted in China where the currency is the RMB. Regulations in China permit foreign owned entities to freely convert the RMB into foreign currency for transactions that fall under the "current account," which includes trade related receipts and payments, interest and dividends. Accordingly, the Company's Chinese subsidiaries may use RMB to purchase foreign exchange for settlement of such "current account" transactions without pre-approval. However, pursuant to applicable regulations, foreign-invested enterprises in China may pay dividends only out of their accumulated profits, if any, determined in accordance with the PRC law. In calculating accumulated profits, foreign investment enterprises in China are required to allocate at least 10% of their annual net income each year, if any, to fund certain reserve funds, including mandated employee benefits funds, unless these reserves have reached 50% of the registered capital of the enterprises.

Transactions other than those that fall under the "current account" and that involve conversion of RMB into foreign currency are classified as "capital account" transactions; examples of "capital account" transactions include repatriations of investment by or loans to foreign owners, or direct equity investments in a foreign entity by a China domiciled entity. "Capital account" transactions require prior approval from China's State Administration of Foreign Exchange, or SAFE, or its provincial branch to convert a remittance into a foreign currency, such as USD, and transmit the foreign currency outside of China.

This system could be changed at any time and any such change may affect the ability of the Company or its subsidiaries in China to repatriate capital or profits, if any, outside China. Furthermore, SAFE has a significant degree of administrative discretion in implementing the laws and has used this discretion to limit convertibility of current account payments out of China. Whether as a result of a deterioration in the Chinese balance of payments, a shift in the Chinese macroeconomic prospects or any number of other reasons, China could impose additional restrictions on capital remittances abroad. As a result of these and other restrictions under the laws and regulations of the PRC, the Company's PRC subsidiaries are restricted in their ability to transfer a portion of their net assets to the parent. The Company has no assurance that the relevant Chinese governmental authorities in the future will not limit further or eliminate the ability of the Company's PRC subsidiaries to purchase foreign currencies and transfer such funds to the Company to meet its liquidity or other business needs. Any inability to access funds in China, if and when needed for use by the Company outside of China, could have a material and adverse effect on the Company's liquidity and its business.

The Company grants credit to its customers including Xiamen Joylon, Xiamen Automotive Parts, Shanghai Fenglong and Jingzhou Yude, which are related parties of the Company. The Company's customers are mostly located in the PRC.

31. Segment reporting

The accounting policies of the product sectors are the same as those described in the summary of significant accounting policies except that the disaggregated financial results for the product sectors have been prepared using a management approach, which is consistent with the basis and manner in which management internally disaggregates financial information for the purposes of assisting them in making internal operating decisions. Generally, the Company evaluates performance based on stand-alone product sector operating income and accounts for inter segment sales and transfers as if the sales or transfers were to third parties, at current market prices.

As of June 30, 2016, the Company had 11 product sectors, five of which were principal profit makers and were reported as separate sectors and engaged in the production and sales of power steering (Henglong, Jiulong, Shenyang, Wuhu and Hubei Henglong), and one holding company (Genesis). The other six sectors were engaged in the production and sale of sensor modular (USAI), automobile steering columns (Jielong), provision of after sales and R&D services (HLUSA), production and sale of power steering (Chongqing Henglong), trade (Brazil Henglong), and manufacture and sales of automobile electronic systems and parts (Wuhan Chuguanjie). Since the revenues, net income and net assets of these six sectors collectively are less than 10% of consolidated revenues, net income and net assets, respectively, in the condensed unaudited consolidated financial statements, the Company incorporated these six sectors into “Other Sectors.”

As of June 30, 2015, the Company had 12 product sectors, five of which were principal profit makers and were reported as separate sectors and engaged in the production and sales of power steering (Henglong, Jiulong, Shenyang, Wuhu and Hubei Henglong), and one holding company (Genesis). Critical Accounting Estimates

The Company prepares its condensed consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The preparation of these financial statements requires the use of estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the dates of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Management periodically evaluates the estimates and judgments made. Management bases its estimates and judgments on historical experience and on various factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Actual results may differ from these estimates as a result of different assumptions or conditions. The following critical accounting policies affect the more significant judgments and estimates used in the preparation of the Company’s condensed consolidated financial statements.

The Company considers an accounting estimate to be critical if:

- It requires the Company to make assumptions about matters that were uncertain at the time it was making the estimate, and

- Changes in the estimate or different estimates that the Company could have selected would have had a material impact on the Company’s financial condition or results of operations.

The table below presents information about the nature and rationale for the Company's critical accounting estimates:

Balance Sheet Caption	Critical Estimate Item	Nature of Estimates Required	Assumptions/Approaches Used	Key Factors
Accrued liabilities and other long-term liabilities	Warranty obligations	Estimating warranty requires the Company to forecast the resolution of existing claims and expected future claims on products sold. OEMs (Original Equipment Manufacturers) are increasingly seeking to hold suppliers responsible for product warranties, which may impact the Company's exposure to these costs.	The Company bases its estimate on historical trends of units sold and payment amounts, combined with its current understanding of the status of existing claims and discussions with its customers.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ·OEM sourcing ·OEM policy decisions regarding warranty claims
Property, plant and equipment, intangible assets and other long-term assets	Valuation of long-lived assets and investments	The Company is required from time to time to review the recoverability of certain of its assets based on projections of anticipated future cash flows, including future profitability assessments of various product lines.	The Company estimates cash flows using internal budgets based on recent sales data, independent automotive production volume estimates and customer commitments.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ·Future production estimates ·Customer preferences and decisions
Inventory	Write-down of inventory	The Company is required from time to time to review the cashability of inventory based on projections of anticipated future cash flows, including write-down of inventory for prices that are higher than market price and undesirable inventories.	The Company estimates cash flows using internal budgets based on recent sales data, independent automotive production volume estimates and customer commitments.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ·Future production estimates ·Customer preferences and decisions

Deferred income taxes	Recoverability of deferred tax assets	The Company is required to estimate whether recoverability of its deferred tax assets is more likely than not based on forecasts of taxable earnings in the related tax jurisdiction.	The Company uses historical and projected future operating results, based upon approved business plans, including a review of the eligible carry forward period, tax planning opportunities and other relevant considerations.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ·Tax law changes ·Variances in future projected profitability, including by taxing entity
		The Company is required to determine and assess all material positions, including all significant uncertain positions in all tax years that are still subject to assessment or challenge under relevant tax statutes.	The Company applies a more likely than not threshold and a two-step approach for tax position measurement and financial statement recognition. For the two-step approach, the first step is to evaluate the tax position for recognition by determining if the weight of available evidence indicates that it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained, including resolution of related appeals or litigation processes, if any. The second step is to measure the tax benefit as the largest amount that is more than 50% likely to be realized upon settlement.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ·An allocation or a shift of income between jurisdictions ·The characterization of income or a decision to exclude reporting taxable income in a tax return ·A decision to classify a transaction, entity, or other position in a tax return as tax exempt

In addition, there are other items within the Company’s financial statements that require estimation, but are not as critical as those discussed above, including provision of accounts and notes receivable. Although not significant in recent years, changes in estimates used in these and other items could have a significant effect on the Company’s consolidated financial statements.

Net Product Sales

Net product sales were $101.0 million for the three months ended June 30, 2016, compared to $109.2 million for the same period in 2015, representing a decrease of $8.2 million, or 7.5%. The decrease was mainly due to the economic slowdown in China. The GDP growth rate was 6.7% in the second quarter of 2016, the lowest since 2009. As the major part of the Company's business is conducted in China, China's slow economy led to decreased vehicle sales which correspondingly led to decreased sales volumes of the Company as an auto parts supplier.

The product mix change also caused a decline in the Company's net product sales. With more passenger vehicles assembling electric power steering systems (EPS), the share of hydraulic power steering gears (HPS), the Company's traditional products, is shrinking. Although the Company's sales of EPS increased substantially, they only partially offset the decline in sales of HPS due to the low percentage of EPS in the product mix. Net sales of traditional steering products were $49.4 million for the three months ended June 30, 2016, compared to $63.8 million for the same period in 2015, representing a decrease of $14.4 million, or 22.6%. Net sales of EPS were $28.0 million for the three months ended June 30, 2016, compared to $18.8 million for the same period in 2015, representing an increase of $9.2 million, or 48.9%. As a percentage of net sales, sales of EPS were 27.8% for the three months ended June 30, 2016, compared to 17.2% for the same period in 2015.

The depreciation of China's currency, RMB, against the U.S. dollar in the second quarter of 2016 as compared to the second quarter of 2015 also caused a decrease in net sales as more than 80% of the Company's business is conducted in China.

In summary, the Company had a decrease in sales volume leading to a sales decrease of $1.4 million, an increase in average selling price of steering gears leading to a sales increase of $1.0 million, and the effect of foreign currency translation of the RMB against the U.S. dollar, which led to a sales decrease of $7.8 million.

Further analysis by segment (before elimination) is as follows:

Net product sales for Henglong were $62.5 million for the three months ended June 30, 2016, compared with $68.3 million for the three months ended June 30, 2015, representing a decrease of $5.8 million, or 8.5%, which was mainly due to the decrease in sales of hydraulic power steering gears, partially offset by the increase in sales of EPS. An increase in sales volume led to a sales increase of $4.5 million, a decrease in average selling price led to a sales decrease of $6.0 million, and the effect of foreign currency translation of the RMB against the U.S. dollar led to a sales decrease of $4.3 million.

Net product sales for Jiulong were $20.4 million for the three months ended June 30, 2016, compared with $19.3 million for the three months ended June 30, 2015, representing an increase of $1.1 million, or 5.7%. Jiulong is gradually shifting its strategy from focusing on sales volume to focusing on high gross margin products and developing new markets such as exports. A decrease in sales volume led to a sales decrease of $4.7 million, an increase in average selling price led to a sales increase of $6.8 million, and the effect of foreign currency translation of the RMB against the U.S. dollar led to a sales decrease of $1.0 million.

Net product sales for Shenyang were $9.4 million for the three months ended June 30, 2016, compared to $8.6 million for the same period in 2015, representing an increase of $0.8 million, or 9.3%. Shenyang's products are mainly sold to Shenyang Brilliance Jinbei Co., Ltd. ("Brilliance Jinbei"), one of China's largest commercial car manufacturers. The sales of Shenyang are mainly impacted by the demand of Brilliance Jinbei. An increase in sales volumes led to a sales increase of $2.8 million, a decrease in average selling price led to a sales decrease of $1.5 million, and the effect of foreign currency translation of the RMB against the U.S. dollar led to a sales decrease of $0.5 million.

Net product sales for Wuhu were $5.4 million for the three months ended June 30, 2016, compared to $6.0 million for the same period in 2015, representing a decrease of $0.6 million, or 10.0%. The products of Wuhu are mainly sold to Chery Automobile Co., Ltd., "Chery". Sales volumes of Chery have decreased continuously since 2012. Therefore, Wuhu's ability to increase its sales is limited. A decrease in sales volumes led to a sales decrease of $0.5 million, an increase in average selling price led to a sales increase of $0.3 million, and the effect of foreign currency translation of the RMB against the U.S. dollar led to a sales decrease of $0.4 million.

Net product sales for Hubei Henglong were $14.5 million for the three months ended June 30, 2016, compared to $15.8 million for the same period in 2015, representing a decrease of $1.3 million, or 8.2%. Hubei Henglong's products are mainly sold to Chrysler. Chrysler's demand and prices were quite stable, so the impact of sales volumes and prices were not significant. An increase in sales volumes led to a sales increase of $0.5 million, a decrease in average selling price led to a sales decrease of $0.7 million, and the effect of foreign currency translation of the RMB against the U.S. dollar led to a sales decrease of $1.1 million.

Net product sales for Other Sectors were $6.8 million for the three months ended June 30, 2016, compared to $9.9 million for the same period in 2015, representing a decrease of $3.1 million, or 31.3%, primarily due to a decrease of $2.2 million in the sales of Jielong, which engages in the production and sales of automotive steering columns, and the disposal of Fujian Qiaolong.

Cost of Products Sold

For the three months ended June 30, 2016, the cost of products sold was $82.9 million, compared to $87.4 million for the same period of 2015, representing a decrease of $4.5 million, or 5.2%. The decrease in the cost of products sold was mainly due to the net effect of a net decrease in sales volumes which led to a cost of products sold decrease of $2.7 million, an increase in unit cost which led to a cost of products sold increase of $2.3 million, and the effect of foreign currency translation of the RMB against the U.S. dollar which led to a cost of products sold decrease of $4.1

million. Further analysis is as follows:

Cost of products sold for Henglong was $53.7 million for the three months ended June 30, 2016, compared to $56.2 million for the same period of 2015, representing a decrease of $2.5 million, or 4.5%. An increase in sales volumes led to a cost of products sold increase of $4.8 million, a decrease in unit cost led to a cost of products sold decrease of $4.7 million, and the effect of foreign currency translation of the RMB against the U.S. dollar led to a cost of products sold decrease of $2.6 million.

Cost of products sold for Jiulong was $17.6 million for the three months ended June 30, 2016, compared to $17.2 million for the same period of 2015, representing an increase of $0.4 million, or 2.3%. A decrease in sales volumes led to a cost of products sold decrease of $4.8 million, and an increase in unit cost led to a cost of products sold increase of $5.9 million, and the effect of foreign currency translation of the RMB against the U.S. dollar led to a cost of products sold decrease of $0.7 million.

Cost of products sold for Shenyang was $8.2 million for the three months ended June 30, 2016, compared to $7.3 million for the same period of 2015, representing an increase of $0.9 million, or 12.3%. The increase in cost of products sold was mainly due to an increase in sales volumes, which led to a cost of products sold increase of $2.4 million, a decrease in unit cost, which led to a cost of products sold decrease of $1.1 million, and the effect of foreign currency translation of the RMB against the U.S. dollar, which led to a cost of products sold decrease of $0.4 million.

Cost of products sold for Wuhu was $4.9 million for the three months ended June 30, 2016, compared to $5.6 million for the same period of 2015, representing a decrease of $0.7 million, or 12.5%. The decrease in cost of products sold was mainly due to a decrease in sales volumes, which led to a cost of products sold decrease of $0.4 million, and the effect of foreign currency translation of the RMB against the U.S. dollar, which led to a cost of products sold decrease of $0.3 million.

Cost of products sold for Hubei Henglong was $11.0 million for the three months ended June 30, 2016, compared to $11.5 million for the same period of 2015, representing a decrease of $0.5 million, or 4.4%. Cost of products sold for Other Sectors was $5.6 million for the three months ended June 30, 2016, compared to $8.3 million for the same period of 2015, representing a decrease of $2.7 million, or 32.5%. Gross margin was 18.0% for the three months ended June 30, 2016, compared to 20.0% in the same period of 2015, representing a decrease of 2.0%, mainly due to changes in the product mix in 2016.

For the three months ended June 30, 2016, gain on other sales amounted to $1.2 million as compared to $0.7 million for the three months ended June 30, 2015, representing an increase of $0.5 million, mainly due to the increase in sales volumes of materials.

The decrease was mainly due to the economic slowdown in China. The GDP growth rate was 6.7% in the second quarter of 2016, the lowest since 2009. As the major part of the Company's business is conducted in China, China's slow economy led to decreased vehicle sales which correspondingly led to decreased sales volumes of the Company as an auto parts supplier.

With more passenger vehicles assembling electric power steering systems ("EPS"), the share of hydraulic power steering gears ("HPS"), the Company's traditional products, is shrinking. Although the Company's sales of EPS increased substantially, this increase only partially offset the decline in sales of HPS due to the low percentage of EPS in the product mix. Net sales of traditional steering products were $105.7 million for the six months ended June 30, 2016, compared to $134.6 million for the same period in 2015, representing a decrease of $28.9 million, or 21.5%. The depreciation of China's currency, RMB, against the U.S. dollar in the first six months of 2016 as compared to the first six months of 2015 also caused a decrease in net sales as more than 80% of the Company's business is conducted in China.

In summary, the Company had a decrease in sales volume leading to a sales decrease of $5.3 million, an increase in average selling price of steering gears leading to a sales increase of $6.6 million, and the effect of foreign currency translation of the RMB against the U.S. dollar, which led to a sales decrease of $16.0 million.

Further analysis by segment (before elimination) is as follows:

Net product sales for Henglong were $138.4 million for the six months ended June 30, 2016, compared with $152.1 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015, representing a decrease of $13.7 million, or 9.0%, which was mainly due to the decrease in sales of hydraulic power steering gears, partially offset by the increase in sales of EPS. A decrease in sales volume led to a sales decrease of $2.5 million, a decrease in average selling price led to a sales decrease of $1.9 million, and the effect of foreign currency translation of the RMB against the U.S. dollar led to a sales decrease of $9.3 million.

Net product sales for Jiulong were $37.2 million for the six months ended June 30, 2016, compared with $37.1 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015, representing an increase of $0.1 million, or 0.3%. Jiulong is gradually shifting its strategy from focusing on sales volume to focusing on high gross margin products and developing new markets such as exports. A decrease in sales volume led to a sales decrease of $5.5 million, an increase in average selling price led to a sales increase of $7.6 million, and the effect of foreign currency translation of the RMB against the U.S. dollar led to a sales decrease of $2.0 million.

Net product sales for Shenyang were $16.7 million for the six months ended June 30, 2016, compared to $16.5 million for the same period in 2015, representing an increase of $0.2 million, or 1.2%. The decrease in the cost of products sold was mainly due to the net effect of a net decrease in sales volumes which led to a cost of products sold decrease of $6.0 million, an increase in unit cost which led to a cost of products sold increase of $6.6 million, and the effect of foreign currency translation of the RMB against the U.S. dollar which led to a cost of products sold decrease of $11.0 million. Liquidity and Capital Resources

Capital Resources and Use of Cash

The Company has historically financed its liquidity requirements from a variety of sources, including short-term borrowings under bank credit agreements, bankers' acceptances, issuances of capital stock and notes and internally generated cash. As of June 30, 2016, the Company had cash and cash equivalents and time deposits included in short-term investments (excluding pledged short-term investment) of $62.1 million, compared to $90.9 million as of December 31, 2015, representing a decrease of $28.8 million, or 31.7%.

The Company had working capital of $176.1 million as of June 30, 2016, compared to $177.8 million as of December 31, 2015, representing a decrease of $1.7 million, or 1.0%.

The Company intends to indefinitely reinvest the funds in subsidiaries established in the PRC.

The Company believes that, in view of its current cash position as of June 30, 2016, the cash expected to be generated from the operations and funds available from bank borrowings as detailed in subsequent paragraphs will be sufficient to meet its working capital and capital expenditure requirements, including the repayment of bank loans, for at least twelve months commencing from June 30, 2016.

Capital Source

The Company's capital source is multifaceted, such as bank loans and banker's acceptance facilities. In financing activities and operating activities, the Company's banks require the Company to sign line of credit agreements and repay all existing borrowings under such facilities within one year. On the condition that the Company can provide adequate mortgage security and has not violated the terms of the line of credit agreement, such one year facilities can be extended for another year.

The Company had short-term loans of $42.2 million (See Note 13) and bankers' acceptances of $83.9 million (See Note 14) as of June 30, 2016.

The Company currently expects to be able to obtain similar bank loans, i.e., RMB loans, and bankers' acceptance facilities in the future if it can provide adequate mortgage security following the termination of the above-mentioned agreements, see the table under "Bank Arrangements" below for more information. If the Company is not able to do so, it will have to refinance such debt as it becomes due or repay that debt to the extent it has cash available from operations or from the proceeds of additional issuances of capital stock. Owing to depreciation, the value of the mortgages securing the above-mentioned bank loans and banker's acceptances will be lowered by approximately $10.0 million over the next 12 months. If the Company wishes to obtain the same amount of bank loans and banker's acceptances, it will have to provide additional mortgages of $10.0 million as of the maturity date of such line of credit agreements, see the table under "Bank Arrangements" below for more information. The Company can still obtain a reduced line of credit with a reduction of $7.7 million, which is 76.4%, the mortgage rate, of $10.0 million, if it cannot provide additional mortgages. The Company expects that the reduction in bank loans will not have a material adverse effect on its liquidity.

Each of Hubei Henglong's comprehensive credit facilities with China CITIC Bank is required to be guaranteed by Henglong and Hubei Henglong, and Henglong's comprehensive credit facilities with Shanghai Pudong Development Bank are required to be guaranteed by Hubei Henglong and Jielong, other subsidiaries of the Company, in addition to the above pledged assets.

Amount used represents the credit facilities used by the Company for the purpose of bank loans or notes payable during the facility contract period. The loans or notes payable under the credit facilities will remain outstanding regardless of the expiration of the relevant credit facilities until the separate loans or notes payable expire. The amount used includes bank loans of $37.3 million and notes payable of $46.1 million as of June 30, 2016. The remainder of $5.0 million of government loan and $31.9 million of notes payable was secured by a related party's land use right and buildings (see Note 28), bank notes or time deposits without utilization of credit lines.

In order to obtain lines of credit, the Company needs to pledge certain assets to banks. As of June 30, 2016, the pledged assets included $35.1 million of accounts and notes receivable, $5.1 million of time deposits, and other pledged assets with an assessed value of $83.7 million.

The amount available is used for the drawdown of bank loans and issuance of bank notes. For the drawdown of bank loans, this amount represents the amount that the Company can borrow immediately; for issuance of bank notes, the Company needs to pledge additional collateral in order to utilize these bank facilities.

As at the date of this report, the comprehensive credit facilities with China CITIC Bank have expired. The Company is negotiating the renewal of the credit facilities with the bank and expects to obtain the renewal in late August 2016. As the Company has obtained sufficient comprehensive lines of credit from other banks, the Company does not anticipate any significant adverse impact on its financial position if the Company fails to renew these credit facilities.

On July 7, 2016, HSBC agreed to extend the maturity date of the credit facility to July 1, 2017.

The pledged cash deposits, which are disclosed in Note 3 to the consolidated financial statements in this quarterly report, were not included in the assessed mortgage value.

The Company may request the banks to issue notes payable or bank loans within its credit line using a 365-day revolving line.

The Company renewed its existing short-term bank loans and borrowed new bank loans during 2016 at annual interest rates ranging from 1.4% to 8.2%, and loan terms from four months to seventeen months. Pursuant to the comprehensive credit line arrangement, the Company pledged and guaranteed:

Cash Flows

(a) Operating Activities

Net cash used in operating activities for the six months ended June 30, 2016 was $6.4 million, compared with net cash provided by operating activities of $14.5 million for the same period of 2015, representing an increase in cash outflows of $20.9 million, which was mainly due to the net effect of (1) the decrease in net income excluding non-cash items by $4.9 million and (2) the increase in cash outflows from movements of operating assets and liabilities by $16.0 million. The increase in cash outflows was primarily due to the offsetting effect of: (1) the increase in cash inflows due to the movement of pledged cash by $5.7 million due to less cash being pledged; (2) the increase in cash outflows due to the movement of accounts and notes receivable by $52.8 million due to the significant increase in the balance of notes receivable as more customers made payments by using bank acceptance notes instead of cash when the credit terms expire; and (3) the increase in cash inflows due to the movement of accounts and notes payable by $28.8 million due to longer credit terms being granted by the suppliers.

(b) Investing Activities

The Company used net cash of $30.4 million in investment activities during the six months ended June 30, 2016, compared to $12.5 million for the same period of 2015, representing an increase of $17.9 million, which was mainly due to a decrease in proceeds from maturities of short-term investments of $12.8 million, an increase in purchases of property, plant and equipment of $4.7 million, an increase in cash used for purchase of short-term investments of $3.4 million and an increase in investment under equity method of $1.4 million, offset by an increase in the cash provided due to cash received from disposal of Fujian Qiaolong of $2.0 million and a decrease in other receivables of $1.6 million.

(c) Financing Activities

Net cash provided by financing activities for the six months ended June 30, 2016 was $5.9 million, compared to net cash provided by financing activities of $0.3 million for the same period of 2015, representing an increase of $5.6 million, which was mainly due to the net effect of: (1) increased proceeds of $5.1 million from bank and government loans, (2) the payment to common stockholders of $0.3 million, (3) payments to repurchase treasury stock of $0.5 million and (4) the payment to the non-controlling shareholders of joint ventures of $0.8 million during the six months ended June 30, 2015, while there were no such payments during the same period of 2016.

Wu Qizhou and Li Jie, respectively, evaluated the effectiveness of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures as of June 30, 2016, the end of the period covered by this Report. The term "disclosure controls and procedures," as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or the Exchange Act, means controls and other procedures of a company that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports, such as this Form 10-Q, that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported, within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms. Disclosure controls and procedures include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to the company's management, including its principal executive and principal financial officers, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. Based on that evaluation, Messrs. Wu and Li concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of June 30, 2016.

The Company's disclosure controls and procedures are designed to provide reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the objectives of its disclosure control system are met. Because of inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues, if any, within a company have been detected.
