Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure

On March 20, 2014, K12 Inc. (the "Company") released an Academic Report covering performance at K12-managed and partner schools and addressing key issues facing the industry. The Academic Report can be found on the K12 Inc. website, www.k12.com. In addition, on March 20, 2014, the Company will be hosting an Academic Day in Herndon, Virginia. At the Company's Academic Day, members of the Company's senior management will meet with investors and investment professionals and make a presentation regarding the Company. Certain statements made in the Academic Report and Academic Day presentation include forward-looking statements covered by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. All of these forward-looking statements are based on estimates and assumptions that we believe to be reasonable, but are inherently uncertain.

Factors that may cause performance at K12-managed and partner schools to differ materially from those expressed in the Academic Report and Academic Day presentation, as well as their impact on the Company's actual results and financial conditions, include, but are not limited to, state funding levels, changing student demographics, evolving accountability, measurements of academic performance by each state, student participation in assessments, methods of instruction, number of students enrolled at the poverty level, student use of academic support programs, methods of academic data analysis, increased competition, new instructional technologies and products, regulatory developments, and general economic conditions. Forward-looking statements are identified by the use of words such as "may", "might", "should", "expect", "plan", "anticipate", "believe", "estimate", "project", "intend", "future", "potential" or "continue", and other similar expressions.

These risks and uncertainties, which are described in detail in our most recent reports on Forms 10-K and 10-Q, may also include other factors which may not be known to us. Any forward-looking statement speaks only as of its date. We undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as required by law.
