BP TO SELL RETAIL AND OTHER INLAND FUEL BUSINESSES IN THE REPUBLIC OF CYPRUS TO HELLENIC PETROLEUM

BP has today agreed to sell, subject to the necessary regulatory approvals, its retail network of 70 service stations and other inland fuels businesses in the Republic of Cyprus to Hellenic Petroleum. The sale excludes BP's international businesses Air BP and BP Marine, and BP Lubricants.

The decision to sell is the result of BP's ongoing review of its global portfolio which concluded that the retail and other inland fuels businesses in Cyprus would have more longer term value to a company wishing to establish a significant position in the Cyprus fuels market, and as a platform for regional expansion. Financial details of the sale are not being disclosed.

"The retail and other inland fuel businesses in Cyprus, are a profitable operation with highly skilled and professional staff," said Mr George Petrou, BP Country President in Cyprus.

"It has grown steadily over the years but no longer fits within BP's strategy. We have therefore decided to re-position our assets and focus on areas where we believe we can deliver a stronger performance."

Hellenic Petroleum is 67.8 per cent owned by the Greek state and is the largest Greek Refiner, owning 50 per cent of Greece's refining capacity through two refineries - Aspropyrgos and Thessaloniki - and also a majority stake in the Skopje refinery. Hellenic Petroleum has a 23 per cent share of the Greek retail market through the EKO brand and is the leading integrated oil company in Greece. It also has a presence in Albania, Montenegro and Georgia through marketing subsidiaries. From this strong base, Hellenic Petroleum is pursuing a strategy of regional expansion with a focus on South Eastern Europe.

"We are delighted to acquire BP's retail and other inland fuels businesses in Cyprus. It is a strategic opportunity for our company. BP Cyprus Limited is an efficient and well managed company, and it gives us a unique opportunity to establish a significant position in Cyprus. It will also provide a platform for expanding in the region and we are well equipped to make it a very successful business venture", said Mr Athanasios Karachalios, Managing Director of Hellenic Petroleum.

The shares of BP Cyprus Limited will transfer to Hellenic Petroleum together with around 40 members of staff, under local rules and regulations and existing terms and conditions of employment. Trade unions and employees have been appropriately briefed. The BP service stations will be progressively rebranded to the EKO brand.

Air BP, BP Marine and BP Lubricants are independent businesses which will be largely unaffected by the sale and will continue their activities in Cyprus under the new name, BP Eastern Mediterranean Ltd, a wholly-owned subsidiary of BP p.l.c.

Notes to Editors:

* BP Cyprus Limited sells approximately 500 million litres of fuel per annum and is the leading motor gasoline marketer in Cyprus with an approximate 35 per cent market share.

Edgar Filing: BP PLC - Form 6-K

* The businesses sold to Hellenic Petroleum include a retail network of 70 service stations, an inland direct and wholesaling fuels business, an LPG storage and bottling plant and a 65 per cent shareholding in the Superlube lubricants blending plant.

* There are approximately 70 staff in BP Cyprus and one third will remain with the retained businesses of BP Eastern Mediterranean Limited. The remaining staff will continue in the employment of BP Cyprus Limited under the ownership of Hellenic Petroleum.

* The net value of the assets involved in the sale was GBP14 million as at December 2001.

BP BOARD ANNOUNCEMENT

The board of BP p.l.c. announced today that it intends to appoint Dr Byron Grote as chief financial officer (CFO) of the company with effect from November 21, 2002.

Dr Grote, 54, will succeed Dr John Buchanan, 59, who has been CFO since 1996. Dr Buchanan is retiring from the board as of the same date.

BP chief executive Lord Browne said: "I would like to express our appreciation for the immense contribution John Buchanan has made to BP over a 33-year career, in particular in his role as CFO over the last six years, a period of unprecedented expansion for the company."

Dr Grote was appointed an executive director of BP and chief executive of BP Chemicals in August 2000. On his move to CFO he will retain his additional board responsibilities for the Integrated Supply & Trading function and the Asia region. His board responsibilities for Chemicals will be assumed by BP deputy chief executive Rodney Chase. John Buchanan's board responsibilities for Australasia will pass to Exploration chief executive Richard Olver.
