<Results of Operations>

During the nine months under review, net sales were ¥663.6 billion, a 7.2 % increase from the corresponding period in the prior year.

Domestic sales decreased 0.3 % to ¥401.4 billion from the corresponding period in the prior year. In Internal Combustion Engine and Machinery segment, sales of farm equipment increased. The reinforcement of product line-up and elaborated sales promotion resulted in this sales increase and expansion of market share. Sales of construction machinery also grew smoothly supported by the favorable demand. In Pipes, Valves, and Industrial Castings segment, sales of Pipes and Valves rose owing to the improvement in sales prices in spite of unfavorable market conditions. Sales of Industrial Castings also rose thanks to brisk capital expenditures especially in the steel and petroleum industries. On the other hand, sales in Environmental Engineering segment, sales declined because of the decrease in shipment of Waste Engineering division, and in Other segment, sales decreased resulting from the business transfer of the building materials operations in the prior year.

Overseas sales increased 21.0 % to ¥262.2 billion from the corresponding period in the prior year. While the demand for tractors in the North American market maintained growth, sales of tractors rose and introduction of new models added further growth. Additionally, sales of engines and construction machinery expanded rapidly in the U.S. and EU markets.

Operating income was ¥71.8 billion, 360.8 % increase from the corresponding period in the prior year. The positive factors such as sharp decline in pension cost by ¥32.8 billion, brisk overseas sales in Internal Combustion Engine and Machinery segment, and cost reduction in public works related businesses overcame the negative effects of sharp price increases in raw materials and appreciation of yen, and led to the sharp increase in operating income.

Income before income taxes, minority interests in earnings of subsidiaries, and equity in net income of affiliated companies was ¥78.7 billion, 294.5 % increase from the corresponding period in the prior year due to the increase in interest and dividend income as well as an increase in operating income. As a result, after income taxes, minority interests in earnings of subsidiaries and equity in net income of affiliated companies, net income was ¥68.6 billion, 858.4 % increase from the corresponding period in the prior year.

<Financial Position>

(Comparison with the end in corresponding period in the prior year)

Total assets at the end of December 2004 amounted to ¥1,216.9 billion, an increase of ¥118.8 billion (10.8%) from the corresponding period in the prior year. Current assets increased due to the increase in short-term finance receivables and accounts receivable, while investment increased due to the increase in long-term finance receivables and market valuation of securities.

The balance of interest-bearing debt was ¥312.1 billion, an increase of ¥33.2 billion. This was because capital was raised mainly through borrowing from financial institutions rather than through sales of finance receivables. Shareholders' equity increased due to the increase of net income and unrealized gains on securities.

(Comparison with the end in the prior year)

Compared with those at the end of March 2004, total assets increased ¥92.7 billion (8.2%). Notes and accounts receivable increased and inventories decreased. These fluctuations were caused by the seasonality in the due course of business of Kubota Corporation. Investment had an increase due to the increase in long-term finance receivables.

The balance of interest-bearing debt increased by ¥45.4 billion, however, interest-bearing debt, excluding the debt related to sales financing programs, decreased ¥20.6 billion to ¥163.3 billion. Shareholders' equity grew by ¥51.6 billion, and the ratio of shareholders' equity to total liabilities and shareholders' equity was 36.4 %, 1.6 percentage points increase.

5. Summary of accounting policies

- i) The accompanying consolidated financial information has been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America except for the presentation for segment information described in ii).
- ii) The consolidated segment information is prepared in accordance with a requirement of the Japanese Securities and Exchange regulations. This disclosure is not consistent with SFAS No.131, Disclosures about Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information .

6. Restatement

Finance receivables were previously classified into notes and accounts receivable in current assets on the consolidated balance sheets. However, pursuant to Current Assets and Current Liabilities in Accounting Research Bulletin No.43 Restatement and Revision of Accounting Research Bulletins , the Company reconsidered its classification of these receivables and restated finance receivables into two segments ; Short-term finance receivables in current assets and Long-term finance receivables in investments. The short-term portion includes finance receivables that become due within one year, and the long-term portion includes amounts that become due after one year. Due to this change, the amounts presented in the balance sheets as of March 31, 2004 and December 31, 2003 have been restated to conform to the presentation in the balance sheets as of December 31, 2004.

7. Change in industry segment

In December 2003, the Company transferred the building materials business to one of our affiliated companies (Kubota Matsushitadenko Exterior Works, Ltd.) (accounted for using the equity method). Accordingly, the Building Materials & Housing segment was considered immaterial, and was transferred to the Other segment.

8. Reclassification

The consolidated financial reports for the year ended March 31, 2004 and the nine months ended December 31, 2003 have been reclassified to conform to the presentation for the nine months ended December 31, 2004.

Notice on revised forecast of year-end dividend for the year ending March 31, 2005

Please be advised that Kubota Corporation (hereinafter the Company) has revised the forecast of year-end dividend per ADS (American Depositary Receipt) for the year ending March 31, 2005. This proposal will be subject to the approval at the 115th ordinary general meeting of shareholders that is to be held in June 2005.

1. Reasons for revision

The Company believes returning profit to shareholders is important mission and executes it through providing stable, sustainable cash dividends, and repurchase and retirement of its own shares.

In order to advance these activities, the Company decided to propose the year-end dividend per ADS would be raised from current ¥15 to ¥25, increases of ¥10, considering latest financial results of the operations.

Accordingly the annual dividends for the year ending March 31, 2005 will be ¥40 per ADS, including the interim dividend, ¥15.

2. Revised forecast of year-end dividend for the year ending March 31, 2005

(Unit : ¥ per ADS)

	Interim	Year-end	Annual
Previous forecast
(November 8, 2004)	¥ 15	¥ 15	¥ 30
Revised forecast	¥ 15	¥ 25	¥ 40
Comparable Previous Year	¥ 15	¥ 15	¥ 30

(Year ended March 31, 2004)
