If notice of any other shareholder proposal intended to be presented at the 2007 Annual Meeting of Shareholders is not received by the Company on or before January 15, 2007, the Proxy solicited by the Board of Directors of the Company for use in connection with that meeting may confer authority on the Proxies named therein to vote in their discretion on such proposal without any discussion in the Company's Proxy Statement for that meeting of either the proposal or how such Proxies intend to exercise their voting discretion.

Board Matters

The Board of Directors of the Company has determined that each of Michael M. Gostomski, John D. Remick, Henry K McConnon, Robert A. Hansen and Michael J. Dolan is an Independent Director. The Independent Directors constitute a majority of the Board of Directors of the Company.

The Board of Directors of the Company held four meetings during 2005. Each director of the Company attended more than 75% of the aggregate number of meetings of the Board and the various committees on which he or she served during 2005.

The Board of Directors of the Company provides a process for shareholders of the Company to send communications to the Company's directors. The manner in which shareholders can send communications to directors and the process for relaying such communications is described on the Company's website at www.fastenal.com.

The Company has no formal policy regarding attendance by its directors at annual shareholders meetings, although most of the Company's directors have historically attended those meetings. Eight of the Company's nine directors attended the 2005 Annual Meeting of Shareholders.

Committee Matters

The Company has an Audit Committee consisting of Robert A. Hansen, John D. Remick and Michael J. Dolan, each of whom is an Independent Director. The Board of Directors of the Company has determined that Michael J. Dolan is an audit committee financial expert, as that term is defined in the rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Company also has a Development Committee and an Acquisitions Committee. The Company does not have a Nominating Committee or a Compensation Committee, or any other committee of the Board of Directors performing equivalent functions.

The Audit Committee held six meetings during 2005. The Audit Committee has the authority to: (a) engage independent auditors, (b) review with the independent auditors the scope and results of audit engagements, (c) review the scope, frequency and results of internal audits and examinations, (d) review the adequacy of the Company's accounting policies and system of internal accounting controls, and (e) review all related party transactions for potential conflict-of-interest situations. The Audit Committee operates under a written charter adopted by the Board of Directors in June 2000. The Audit Committee charter was amended in April 2004 in order to bring the charter into compliance with the revised listing standards of The NASDAQ Stock Market. A copy of the amended Audit Committee charter was included as an attachment to the proxy statement for the 2004 Annual Meeting of Shareholders.

Director Nominations Policy

The Board of Directors of the Company adopted a director nominations policy in January 2004. A copy of that policy is available to shareholders of the Company on the Company's website at www.fastenal.com. The policy requires all candidates for service on the Company's Board of Directors to have personal integrity, loyalty to the Company and concern for its success and welfare, the ability and willingness to apply sound and independent judgment, an awareness of a director's vital part in the Company's good corporate citizenship, time available for meetings and consultation on Company matters, the commitment to serve as a director for a reasonable period of time, and the willingness to assume the fiduciary responsibilities of a director. Leadership experience in business or administrative activities, a breadth of knowledge about issues affecting the Company and/or an ability to contribute special expertise to Board or committee activities are also qualities to be considered in selecting director candidates.

Under the director nominations policy, the Independent Directors are responsible for reviewing the overall makeup of the Board and the needs of the Company for new directors, identifying, evaluating and recruiting candidates to fill any additional or vacant positions on the Board, and recommending to the full Board candidates to be nominated for election at the annual meeting of shareholders. If the Independent Directors determine to recommend the addition of one or more directors, or if a vacancy occurs on the Board that the Company is required to fill or that the Independent Directors determine should be filled, the policy provides that the procedures described below will be followed to the extent the Independent Directors deem necessary or appropriate. The Independent Directors will initiate a search for director candidates, identify an initial slate of candidates, conduct inquiries into the background and qualifications of the initial slate, and determine one or more preferred candidates. The preferred candidate or candidates will then be interviewed by the Chairman of the Board and, if the Chairman is not an Independent Director, at least one Independent Director. Thereafter, the Independent Directors will meet to consider and approve the final candidate and seek full Board endorsement of the final candidate.

The Independent Directors may consult with the full Board and members of the Company's management in determining the needs of the Company for new directors and in identifying, evaluating, and recruiting director candidates, and may use Company personnel to assist them with the performance of their duties. The Independent Directors have the authority to retain search firms to assist in identifying and evaluating director candidates, as well as such other advisors as the Independent Directors determine necessary to carry out their duties. The Company is required to provide appropriate funding, as determined by the Independent Directors, for payment of compensation to any search firm or other advisors so employed by the Independent Directors.

In accordance with the director nominations policy, qualified candidates for membership on the Board recommended by shareholders of the Company will be considered by the Independent Directors. Candidates recommended by shareholders will be evaluated in the same manner as other candidates. Shareholders may recommend candidates by sending an e-mail to bod@fastenal.com or writing to Board of Directors, Fastenal Company, 2001 Theurer Boulevard, Winona, Minnesota 55987 and providing the candidate's name, biographical data, and qualifications.

The Company believes that, as a result of the role of the Independent Directors in the nominations process, it is not necessary at this time for the Company to have a separate nominating committee.

Compensation of Directors and Committee Members

Effective July 1, 2005, each director of the Company receives an annual retainer of $5,000 for his or her services as a director, and, if he or she is not an employee of the Company, $4,000 (plus reimbursement of reasonable expenses) for attendance at each meeting of the Board. Each member of the various committees who is not an employee of the Company receives $4,000 (plus reimbursement of reasonable expenses) for attendance at each committee meeting. The Chairman of the Board receives a monthly retainer of $5,000 in lieu of meeting attendance fees. The Chairs of the Audit Committee, Acquisition Committee, and Employee Development Committee receives an annual retainer of $9,000.

AUDIT COMMITTEE REPORT

The Audit Committee is responsible for overseeing the Company's management and independent auditors in respect of the Company's accounting and financial reporting. In performing its oversight function, the Audit Committee relies upon advice and information received from the Company's management and independent auditors.

In that regard, the Audit Committee has reviewed and discussed with members of the Company's management the Company's audited consolidated financial statements for fiscal 2005, and has discussed with representatives of the Company's independent auditors the matters required to be discussed with audit committees by Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61 (Communication with Audit Committees). The Audit Committee has also received the written disclosures from the Company's independent auditors required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1 (Independence Discussions with Audit Committees), and has discussed with representatives of the Company's independent auditors that firm's independence.

Based on the review and discussions referred to above, the Audit Committee recommended to the Board of Directors that the Company's audited consolidated financial statements for fiscal 2005 be included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for such fiscal year for filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Compensation Committee Interlocks and Insider Participation

As indicated under "Election of Directors - Committee Matters" above, the Company does not have a Compensation Committee or any other committee of the Board of Directors performing equivalent functions. The Independent Directors, meeting in executive session, make recommendations to the Board of Directors regarding compensation of executive officers of the Company, and the Board makes decisions regarding executive compensation after consideration of such recommendations. Reyne K. Wisecup, who is an employee of the Company, participated in all deliberations of the Board during fiscal 2005 concerning executive officer compensation. No other officers or employees of the Company or any of its subsidiaries participated in deliberations of the Board during fiscal 2005 concerning executive officer compensation.

Board Report on Executive Compensation

General

As required by the rules established by the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Board of Directors has prepared, for inclusion in this Proxy Statement, the following report on the compensation policies of the Board applicable to the Company's executive officers. The Company's executive compensation package consists of three main components: (i) base salary, (ii) the potential for cash bonuses, and (iii) historically, stock-based awards.

The compensation in 2005 of the Company's executive officers, including its Chief Executive Officer, consisted of base salary and the potential for cash bonuses under individual bonus arrangements. No stock-based incentive awards were granted to the executive officers or any other employees of the Company in 2005.

The Board of Directors established, at its first meeting in 2005, the base salary to be paid, and the method for determining any bonuses to be paid, for that year to those employees serving at that time as executive officers of the Company. Base salary for each such executive officer, including the Chief Executive Officer, was determined by applying a discount factor to the base salary historically paid by members of the peer group selected in connection with the preparation of the Company's most recent stock performance graph to their executive officers having comparable responsibilities. The Board of Directors applied a discount factor due to the directors' belief that a significant portion of the total compensation of the Company's executive officers should be performance-based.

The bonuses to be paid for 2005 to the Company's Chief Executive Officer, Chief Operating Officer, and Vice-President - Product Development, Supply Chain, Global Procurement & Trading were calculated based on the amount by which the Company's consolidated pre-tax income in each quarter of 2005 exceeded its consolidated pre-tax income in the same quarter of 2004. The bonus to be paid to the Company's Chief Financial Officer for 2005 was calculated based on the amount by which consolidated net income in each quarter of 2005 exceeded a certain percentage of consolidated net sales in that quarter.

The Company's performance was not a factor considered by the Board of Directors in setting the base salary of the Company's executive officers. However, the Board of Directors believes that, as a result of their individual bonus arrangements and stock-based awards granted in prior years, the interests of the Company's executive officers are closely aligned with the long-term interests of the Company and its public shareholders.

Section 162(m)

Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 generally disallows a tax deduction to public companies for compensation over $1 million paid to the company's chief executive officer or any of the four other most highly compensated executive officers. It is possible that compensation attributable to the Company's cash bonuses or stock options, when combined with all other types of compensation received by a covered executive officer from the Company, may cause this limitation to be exceeded in any particular year. Certain kinds of compensation, including qualified performance-based compensation, are disregarded for purposes of the deduction limitation. Cash bonuses will qualify as performance-based compensation if they are payable solely on account of the attainment of one or more objective performance goals, the performance goals are determined by a compensation committee comprised solely of outside directors while the outcome is still substantially uncertain, the material terms under which the bonuses are to be paid, including the performance goals, are approved by the shareholders, and the compensation committee certifies that the performance goals and other material terms have been satisfied before the bonuses are paid. Stock options will qualify as performance-based compensation if the options are granted by a compensation committee comprised solely of outside directors, the plan contains a per-employee limitation on the number of shares for which options may be granted during a specified period, the per-employee limitation is approved by the shareholders, and either (i) the exercise price of the option is not less than the fair market value of the stock on the date of grant or (ii) the option is granted (or exercisable) only upon the achievement (as certified in writing by the compensation committee) of an objective performance goal established in writing by the compensation committee while the outcome is substantially uncertain. The material terms under which the Company's cash bonuses are to be paid have been approved by the Company's Board of Directors, but not the Company's shareholders, and the Company does not currently have a Compensation Committee. As a result, cash bonuses and options (if any) awarded to the covered executive officers do not qualify as performance-based compensation. However, the Board believes, in order to retain the flexibility to compensate its executive officers in a competitive environment in accordance with the principles discussed above, that it would be inadvisable to adopt a strict policy of compliance with Section 162(m) in all cases. The Board also believes that the amount of any expected loss of a tax deduction under Section 162(m) will be insignificant to the Company's overall tax position. The Board will, however, continue to consider future opportunities for compliance with Section 162(m) that it feels are in the best interest of the Company and its shareholders including potentially submitting to the shareholders of the Company for their approval the material terms under which cash bonuses are paid to covered executive officers and potentially establishing a Compensation Committee to administer the Company's bonus and stock option plans.

Performance Graph

Set forth below is a graph comparing, for a period of five years ended December 31, 2005, the yearly cumulative total shareholder return on the Company's Common Stock with the yearly cumulative total shareholder return of the NASDAQ Market Index and an index (the Peer Group Index) of a group of peer companies selected by the Company (the Peer Group). The companies in the Peer Group are Industrial Distribution Group, Inc., Lawson Products, Inc., MSC Industrial Direct Co., Inc. and W.W. Grainger, Inc. The Company is not included in the Peer Group.

In calculating the yearly cumulative total shareholder return of the Peer Group Index, the shareholder returns of the companies included in the Peer Group are weighted according to the stock market capitalization of such companies at the beginning of each period for which a return is indicated.

The comparison of total shareholder returns in the performance graph assumes that $100 was invested on December 31, 2000 in each of the Company, the NASDAQ Market Index and the Peer Group Index, and that dividends were reinvested when and as paid.
