Table of Contents

VI. Exercise Price of Share Options or Method for Determining Exercise Price

(I) Exercise Price

The shareholders' meeting authorizes the BOD to determine the exercise price of options in accordance with the above principle when the conditions required by the initial grant of options are satisfied. Upon satisfaction of the conditions of exercise, each option granted to a Participant may entitle the Participant to purchase one A share of the Company at the exercise price.

(II) Method for Deciding Exercise Price

The exercise price of the initially granted Share Options will not be lower than the highest of

- (1) the closing price of the Company's A shares on the trading day before the announcement of a summary of this draft Plan;
- (2) the average closing price of the Company's A shares within 30 trading days before the announcement of a summary of this draft Plan;
- (3) RMB4.20 per share. In June 2013, China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation promised in the Company's share reform proposal that it would request SPC's BOD to propose the Share Option Incentive Plan with an initial exercise price of not less than RMB6.43/share (subject to adjustment if any event triggering the exclusion of rights and dividends occurs prior to the announcement of the draft Share Option Incentive Plan), provided that the relevant rules promulgated by State-owned Assets Supervision and Administration Commission of the State Council (SASAC) and CSRC are observed. Because the Company implemented a scheme for interim distribution of cash dividends and capitalization of capital reserve and surplus fund for 2013 in December 2013 and a scheme for cash dividend distribution for 2013 in July 2014, the initial exercise price of the Share Options set out above has been adjusted from no less than RMB6.43 per share to be not less than RMB4.20 per share.

Except the initial grant, the exercise price of the Share Options under the other schemes of grant will be the higher of:

- (1) the closing price of the Company's A shares on the trading day before the announcement of a summary of each draft scheme of grant; and
- (2) the average closing price of the Company's A shares within 30 trading days before the announcement of a summary of each scheme of grant.

In the event of any dividend payment, capitalization of capital reserve, distribution of share dividend, share split, share reduction or share allotment within the term of the Share Options, the exercise price will be adjusted in accordance with the relevant provisions of this Plan.

VII. Waiting Period and Arrangement for Exercise

(I) Waiting period

The waiting period refers to a period from the date when the Share Options are granted to the vesting date of the Share Options. The waiting period for each scheme of grant hereunder shall not be less than two years.

Table of Contents(II) Arrangement for exercise

The exercise periods refer to a three-year period from the second anniversary of the grant date. There are three exercise periods under this Plan (each year being an exercise period, same for below), and 40%, 30% and 30% of the total number of options granted may be exercised respectively in the first exercise period, the second exercise period and the third exercise period, subject to satisfaction of the conditions of exercise.

Arrangement for the Exercise of the Options Granted:

|------------------------|---|---------------------------------|
| Grant date | To be determined by the BOD after the conditions of grant under the Incentive Plan are satisfied | |
| First exercise period | From the first trading day following 24 months after the grant date to the last trading day in 36 months after the grant date | 40% |
| Second exercise period | From the first trading day following 36 months after the grant date to the last trading day in 48 months after the grant date | 30% |
| Third exercise period | From the first trading day following 48 months after the grant date to the last trading day in 60 months after the grant date | 30% |

The number of the Share Options that may be exercised by a Participant is linked to his/her personal performance indicators. In accordance with the performance review method applicable to a Participant and according to the result of the review of the Participant for the last year, the Participant may exercise pro rata the Share Options that meet the conditions of grant.

The options that fail to be entitled to be exercised for failure to meet the performance indicator targets, or the Share Options that fail to be duly exercised after the relevant exercise period will be immediately cancelled, and be taken back without compensation and cancelled in a centralized manner by the Company.

Of the Share Options granted to a director or officer under each scheme of grant, not less than 20% shall be retained for exercise after satisfactory job (or tenure) review. Whether a Participant serves as an officer should depend on the post he/she takes in the year when the Share Options are granted; the tenure review or economic responsibility audit of such Participant refers to the tenure appraisal or economic responsibility audit for the tenure in which the year when this plan is granted falls.

The Participants in this Plan shall independently fund their option exercises, and the Company undertakes not to provide any loans or other types of financial aids to any Participant for their securing of the relevant interest under this Plan, including providing guarantee for their loans.

Table of Contents

In the term of Options for each scheme of grant under this Plan, the maximum percentage of a Participant's income from equity incentives under each scheme of grant in the total remuneration for him/her (including the income from equity incentives, same for below) shall not exceed 40% in principle. When the actual income from share incentives exceeds the above percentage, the outstanding Share Options shall not be exercised or the income from the exercise thereof shall be handed over to the Company. Within the term of this Plan, the BOD may amend this requirement based on the adjustments required by the regulatory authority.

Table of Contents

Economic added value means the portion of annual after-tax operating profit left after all the capital costs for the equity and debt investments are deducted, and an enterprise's economic added value should be calculated in accordance with the Interim Measures for Assessment of the Operational Performance of Persons in Charge of Central Enterprises (Decree 30 of the SASAC).

XIV. Accounting Treatment of Share Options

(I) Principles of accounting treatment of Share Options

In accordance with the Accounting Standards for Enterprises and the application guidelines thereof, the major accounting policies adopted by the Company in relation to the Share Options granted to the Participants are set out below:

1. The equity-settled share-based payment in return for a Participant's services shall be measured at the fair value of the equity instruments granted to the Participant.
2. As to an equity-settled share-based payment in return for a Participant's services, if the exercise cannot be effectuated until the services in the waiting period have been completed or the prescribed performance indicator targets have been satisfied, then on each balance sheet date within the waiting period, the services received in the current period shall, based on the best estimate of the number of vested equity instruments, be recorded as the cost for relevant assets or the expenses of the current period, as costs in the item of recurrent profits and losses and as capital reserves at the fair value of the equity instruments as of the grant date.

Table of Contents

(II) Specific methods for accounting treatment of Share Options

1. Accounting treatment on the grant date: No accounting treatment is needed since the Share Options cannot be exercised on the grant date;
2. Accounting treatment within the waiting period: On each balance sheet date, the Company will, based on the best estimate of the number of vested Share Options, include the services received in the current period as the cost of relevant asset or the expenses of the current period, and also as the capital reserves at the fair value of the Share Options as of the grant date;
3. Accounting treatment after the vesting date: No adjustment will be made to relevant costs or expenses and the total amount of owner's equity interests that have been recognized. On each balance sheet date, the costs of the options payable for the current period will be amortized.
4. Accounting treatment upon exercise: Share capital and share premium will be recognized according to implementation of the exercise, and the capital reserves recognized during the waiting period shall be carried forward.

(III) Model selection for estimating the value of the options under the initial scheme of Grant

The Company will use the Black-Scholes model to estimate the fair value of the Share Options to be initially granted under this Plan. Based on data about SPC's A shares, the presumed values of relevant parameters are set out below:

1. Initial exercise price: The initial exercise price will be determined pursuant to the methods for determining the exercise price of the Share Options under the initial scheme of grant, currently presumed to be RMB4.20/share;
2. Price on grant date: The price on grant date is temporarily fixed at RMB4.20/share, and the final fair value of the Share Options will be the closing price of the Company's A shares on the grant date;
3. Exercise period: The exercise period consists of the first exercise period, the second exercise period, and the third exercise period, i.e. the Participants should complete the exercise of the options granted to them in the third year, the fourth year and the fifth year after the grant date, respectively;
4. Anticipated volatility: According to the historical volatility of SPC's A shares, the volatility is temporarily anticipated to be 25%;

Table of Contents

5. Risk-free rate of return: The presumed risk-free rates of return for the first exercise period, the second exercise period and the third exercise period are 2.7570%, 3.6961% and 4.1319%, respectively.

According to the parameters set out above, the weighted average fair value of the Share Options initially granted by the Company will be RMB1.06/share, meaning the total fair value of the options initially granted will be RMB43.5646 million.

(IV) Methods for amortizing costs of options granted

In accordance with the relevant provisions of the Accounting Standards for Enterprises (No. 11 Share-based Payment), on each balance sheet date within the waiting period, the Company will, pursuant to the latest information obtained by it in relation to changes of the number of persons entitled to exercise options, accomplishment of performance indicators and other subsequent information, revise the anticipated number of Share Options that are entitled to be exercised, and include the services received in the current period in the relevant costs or expenses and capital reserves at the fair value of the Share Options as of the grant date. Based on the above, the amortization of the costs of the Share Options initially granted in the coming years is listed as follows (assuming the grant will be completed in early December 2014):

| Number of options (10,000) | Weighted average fair value (RMB) | Costs of options (RMB10,000) | 2014 | 2015 | 2016 | 2017 | 2018 |
|-------------------------------|--------------------------------------|---------------------------------|-------------|-------------|-------------|-------------|-------------|
| | | | (RMB10,000) | (RMB10,000) | (RMB10,000) | (RMB10,000) | (RMB10,000) |
| 4103 | 1.06 | 4356.46 | 129.87 | 1558.41 | 1498.89 | 806.77 | 362.53 |

Note: As influenced by the predictive nature of the anticipated number of options entitled to be exercised and the fair value of the options as of the grant date, the currently anticipated total cost of the options may differ from the total cost of the options actually granted. The actual accounting cost shall be re-estimated according to the actual share price, volatility and other parameters on the grant date determined by the BOD and confirmed by the Company's auditor.
