Consolidated Financial Results

April 1, 2016 June 30, 2016

July 26, 2016

In preparing its consolidated financial information, ORIX Corporation and its subsidiaries have complied with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America.

These documents may contain forward-looking statements about expected future events and financial results that involve risks and uncertainties. Such statements are based on our current expectations and are subject to uncertainties and risks that could cause actual results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause such a difference include, but are not limited to, those described under "Risk Factors" in the Company's annual report on Form 20-F filed with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission.

The Company believes that it will be considered a "passive foreign investment company" for United States Federal income tax purposes in the year to which these consolidated financial results relate and for the foreseeable future by reason of the composition of its assets and the nature of its income. A U.S. holder of the shares or ADSs of the Company is therefore subject to special rules generally intended to eliminate any benefits from the deferral of U.S. Federal income tax that a holder could derive from investing in a foreign corporation that does not distribute all of its earnings on a current basis. Investors should consult their tax advisors with respect to such rules, which are summarized in the Company's annual report.

Economic Environment

In the world economy, while the curbs on economic slowdown are seen mainly in emerging and resource rich countries, concerns over the United Kingdom's recent vote to exit the European Union has caused turbulence in political situation and financial markets and has interfered with recovery in economic growth. Against the backdrop of the monetary easing measures and capital flight in respective countries, long-term interest rates have been decreasing worldwide. In addition, there are political and geopolitical tensions in certain regions that need to be monitored carefully.

The Japanese economic outlook is becoming increasingly unclear due to the appreciation of the yen, falling stock prices and decrease in long-term interest rates which are affected by the increasing uncertainty in the overseas economy.

Overview of Business Performance (April 1, 2016 to June 30, 2016)

Total revenues for the three months ended June 30, 2016 (hereinafter, the first consolidated period) decreased 3% to ¥587,945 million compared to ¥606,124 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year. Operating lease revenues increased due primarily to gains on sales of large-scale rental properties in Japan. In addition, sales of goods and real estate increased due primarily to revenues generated by subsidiaries in the principal investment business. Gains on investment securities and dividends decreased due to a decrease in gains on investment securities. Life insurance premiums and related investment income decreased due mainly because investment income from the assets under variable annuity and variable life insurance contracts held by Hartford Life Insurance K.K. (hereinafter, HLIKK) decreased significantly compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year during which the investment had better performed reflecting a significant improvement in the capital market conditions. HLIKK was merged into ORIX Life Insurance Corporation (hereinafter, ORIX Life Insurance) on July 1, 2015. In addition, services income decreased due to the partial divestment of Houlihan Lokey Inc. (hereinafter, HL) shares in connection with its initial public offering in the United States and its becoming an equity method affiliate in the previous fiscal year.

Total expenses increased 1% to ¥500,522 million compared to ¥497,592 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year. Costs of goods and real estate sold increased in line with the aforementioned revenue increase. On the other hand, life insurance costs decreased due to a reversal of liability reserve in line with the aforementioned decrease in investment income from the assets under variable annuity and variable life insurance contracts.

Table of Contents

Gains on sales of subsidiaries and affiliates and liquidation losses, net increased due primarily to the increase in a gain on sale of shares of affiliates in Investment and Operation segment.

As a result of the foregoing, income before income taxes for the first consolidate period decreased 4% to ¥118,434 million compared to ¥123,916 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year, and net income attributable to ORIX Corporation shareholders decreased 6% to ¥76,769 million compared to ¥81,510 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Segment Information

Total segment profits for the first consolidated period decreased 5% to ¥115,342 million compared to ¥120,779 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year. While profits from Real Estate segment and Investment and Operation segment increased, profits from each of the other segments decreased.

Segment information for the first consolidated period is as follows:

Corporate Financial Services Segment: Lending, leasing and fee business

	Three months ended June	Three months ended June	Change
	30, 2015 (millions of yen)	30, 2016 (millions of yen)	Amount (millions of yen)	Percent (%)
Segment Revenues	27,558	24,990	(2,568)	(9)
Segment Profits	12,377	8,494	(3,883)	(31)

	As of March 31, 2016 (millions of yen)	As of June 30, 2016 (millions of yen)	Change
			Amount (millions of yen)	Percent (%)
Segment Assets	1,049,867	1,033,214	(16,653)	(2)

The Japanese economic outlook is becoming increasingly unclear due to yen appreciation, falling stock prices and decreases in long-term interest rates, which are affected by increasing uncertainty in the overseas economy. The balance of outstanding loans at financial institutions continues to increase and interest rates on loans remain at low levels.

Segment revenues decreased 9% to ¥24,990 million compared to ¥27,558 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year due to a decrease in gains on investment securities, despite an increase in services income resulting primarily from revenue generated by Yayoi Co., Ltd. and stable fee business to domestic small-and medium-sized enterprise customers.

In addition, segment expenses increased due to an increase in selling, general and administrative expenses compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year and segment profits decreased 31% to ¥8,494 million compared to ¥12,377 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Segment assets decreased 2% to ¥1,033,214 million compared to the end of the previous fiscal year due primarily to decreases in investment in direct financing leases, installment loans, and investment in securities.

Segment Assets	731,329	700,427	(30,902)	(4)

While demand in corporate capital investment is gradually increasing, concerns about decreasing profitability and uncertainty in the economic outlook interfere with new investment. The volume of new auto leases in Japan decreased slightly compared to the previous fiscal year.

Segment revenues of ¥67,199 million remained at approximately the same level as the same period of the previous fiscal year due to an increase in services income derived from value-added services, offset by a decrease in operating leases revenues resulting from less gains on sale.

Segment expenses increased due to increases in the costs of operating leases in line with an increase in the average balance of operating lease assets and selling, general, and administrative expenses.

As a result, segment profits decreased 15% to ¥9,892 million compared to ¥11,687 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Segment assets decreased 4% to ¥700,427 million compared to the end of the previous fiscal year primarily due to a decrease in leasing assets mainly in the automobile business in line with the securitizations.

Real Estate Segment: Real estate development, rental facility operation, REIT asset management; and real estate investment and advisory services

	Three months ended June 30, 2015 (millions of yen)	Three months ended June 30, 2016 (millions of yen)	Change

The real estate market has remained active due primarily to the quantitative easing policies of the Bank of Japan, including the adoption of negative interest rates. Land prices remain high and office rents and vacancy rates in the Japanese office building market continue to show improvements especially in the Greater Tokyo Area. Furthermore, due to an increase in the number of tourists from abroad, we are seeing increases in the occupancy rates and average daily rates of hotels and Japanese inns. Meanwhile, we are also seeing a trend where sales prices of condominiums stopped rising.

Segment revenues increased 14% to ¥57,338 million compared to ¥50,349 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year primarily due to an increase in gains on sales of rental properties, which are included in operating leases revenues, despite a decrease in rental revenues, which are also included in operating leases revenues, in line with a decrease in the balance of real estate assets.

Segment expenses decreased compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year primarily due to decreases in interest expense and costs of operating leases in line with the decrease in assets.

As a result of the foregoing, segment profits increased 63% to ¥23,603 million compared to ¥14,451 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Segment assets decreased 5% to ¥705,617 million compared to the end of the previous fiscal year primarily due to a decrease in investment in operating leases, which resulted from sales of rental properties.

Investment and Operation Segment: Environment and energy-related business, principal investment, loan servicing (asset recovery), and concession business

	Three months ended June 30, 2015	Three months ended June 30, 2016	Change
	(millions of yen)	(millions of yen)	Amount (millions of yen)	Percent (%)

In Japan, while the government is reassessing its renewable energy purchase program, the significance of renewable energy in the mid- to long-term is on the rise with investment targets expanding beyond solar power generation projects to include wind and geothermal power generation projects. In the capital market, the size of merger and acquisition (hereinafter M&A) transactions appear to have decreased despite an increase in the total number of M&A transactions closed since January 2016 compared to the year 2015 in which several large cross-border M&A transactions took place.

Segment revenues increased 13% to ¥258,002 million compared to ¥229,187 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year due to increases in sales of goods and services income generated by subsidiaries in the principal investment business and environment and energy-related business.

Segment expenses increased compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year due to an increase in expenses in line with the aforementioned revenues expansion.

As a result of the foregoing and the recognition of gains on sales of shares of affiliates and the recognition of a bargain purchase gain from the acquisition of a subsidiary, segment profits increased 18% to ¥30,955 million compared to ¥26,159 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Table of Contents

Segment assets decreased 4% to ¥678,570 million compared to the end of the previous fiscal year primarily due to a decrease in investment in affiliates, despite increases in inventories and in property under facility operations in the environment and energy-related business.

Retail Segment: Life insurance, banking and card loan business

	Three months ended June 30,	Three months ended June 30,	Change
	2015 (millions of yen)	2016 (millions of yen)	Amount (millions of yen)	Percent (%)

Although the life insurance business in Japan is being affected by macroeconomic factors such as domestic population decline, we are seeing increasing numbers of companies developing new products in response to the rising demand for medical insurance. On the other hand, we are seeing suspensions of the sales of certain products and an increase in insurance premiums of new contracts due to the adoption of negative interest rate policy. In the consumer finance sector, banks and other lenders are expanding their assets to further secure new revenue streams, and competition in the lending business continues to intensify in the current low interest rate environment.

Segment revenues decreased 36% to ¥54,006 million compared to ¥83,811 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year due to a significant decrease in investment income from assets under variable annuity and variable life insurance contracts originally held by HLIKK, despite stable increases in insurance premiums in ORIX Life Insurance and finance revenues in the banking business.

Segment expenses decreased compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year due to a reversal of liability reserve in line with the aforementioned decrease in investment income from the assets under variable annuity and variable life insurance contracts.

As a result of the foregoing, segment profits decreased 42% to ¥12,532 million compared to ¥21,619 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Segment assets decreased 2% to ¥3,384,540 million compared to the end of the previous fiscal year due to a large decrease in investment in securities held by HLIKK, offsetting an increase in installment loans in the banking business.

Against the backdrop of the monetary easing measures and capital flight in respective countries, long-term interest rates have been decreasing worldwide. In addition, there are political and geopolitical tensions in certain regions that need to be monitored carefully.

Segment revenues decreased 15% to ¥125,821 million compared to ¥147,173 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year due to a decrease in gains on investment securities, the deconsolidation of HL and recent appreciation of the yen, despite increases in sales of goods in the Americas and in operating lease revenues in aircraft-related operations in line with increases in gains on sales and the average balance of operating lease assets.

Segment expenses decreased compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year primarily due to the deconsolidation of HL and recent appreciation of the yen.

As a result of the foregoing, segment profits decreased 13% to ¥29,866 million compared to ¥34,486 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Segment assets decreased 9% to ¥2,067,813 million compared to the end of the previous fiscal year due to decreases in investment in securities in the Americas, and investment in operating leases of aircraft-related operations, and yen appreciation, despite an increase in installment loans in the Americas.

Note 1: Shareholders' Equity refers to ORIX Corporation Shareholders' Equity based on US-GAAP. Shareholders' Equity Per Share is calculated using total ORIX Corporation Shareholders' Equity.

Note 2: Prior-year amounts have been adjusted for the retrospective application of Accounting Standards Update 2015-03 (Simplifying the Presentation of Debt Issuance Costs -ASC 835-30 (Interest-Imputation of Interest)) on April 1, 2016.

Total assets decreased 2% to ¥10,762,882 million compared to ¥10,992,918 million at the end of the previous fiscal year. Investment in operating leases decreased due primarily to sales of aircraft in Overseas Business segment and sales of real estate for operating leases in Japan, and investment in securities decreased due primarily to the sales of assets held by HLIKK. In addition, investment in affiliates decreased due primarily to sales of shares of affiliates in Investment and Operation segment. Segment assets decreased 4% to ¥8,570,181 million compared to the end of the previous fiscal year.

We manage the balance of interest-bearing liabilities at an appropriate level taking into account the condition of assets and liquidity on-hand as well as the domestic and overseas financial environment. As a result, long- and short-term debt decreased and deposits increased compared to the end of the previous fiscal year. In addition, policy liabilities and policy account balances decreased due to the cancelation of variable annuity and variable life insurance contracts held by HLIKK.

Shareholders' equity increased 1% to ¥2,326,969 million compared to the end of the previous fiscal year primarily due to an increase in retained earnings, despite a decrease in foreign currency translation adjustments included in accumulated other comprehensive income in line with the appreciation of the yen.

(3) Medium-Term Management Targets

In addition to sustainable growth of our existing business operations, we believe that there are new growth opportunities in all business segments and we strive to achieve sustainable profit growth by capitalizing on these profit opportunities going forward.

Our mid-term strategy Expansion in Non-Finance Business consists of Organic growth and Investment in key areas. With these principles, we will pursue new business opportunities arising from the changing business environment.

Organic growth : Deepen our strengths and expertise to further expand our existing operations both in Japan and abroad. Those in Japan include fee business, automobile-related business, facility operation business, and life insurance business. Those abroad include automobile-related business, and further diversification towards non-finance business.

New investment in key areas : Continue to pursue new investment opportunities in key areas identified as the environment and energy-related business and principal investment in Japan and abroad, the network in Asia, global asset management, and concession business.

The Company aims to achieve ¥300 billion in net income and ROE around 11% to 12% for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2018.

Note 1: The Company evaluates the performance of segments based on income before income taxes, adjusted for net income attributable to the noncontrolling interests and net income attributable to the redeemable noncontrolling interests before applicable tax effect. Tax expenses are not included in segment profits.

Note 2: For those VIEs that are used for securitization and are consolidated in accordance with ASC 810 (Consolidation), for which the VIE s assets can be used only to settle related obligations of those VIEs and the creditors (or beneficial interest holders) do not have recourse to other assets of the Company or its subsidiaries, segment assets are measured based on the amount of the Company and its subsidiaries net investments in the VIEs, which is different from the amount of total assets of the VIEs, and accordingly, segment revenues are also measured at a net amount representing the revenues earned on the net investments in the VIEs. Certain gains or losses related to assets and liabilities of consolidated VIEs, which are not ultimately attributable to the Company and its subsidiaries, are excluded from segment profits.

Note 3: Inter-segment transactions are included in segment revenues, and eliminations of inter-segment transactions are included in difference between segment total and consolidated amounts.

Note 4: Prior-year amounts have been adjusted for the retrospective application of Accounting Standards Update 2015-03 (Simplifying the Presentation of Debt Issuance Costs -ASC 835-30 (Interest-Imputation of Interest)) on April 1, 2016.
