The following are certain excerpted remarks taken from a transcript posted in its entirety to the website of The Williams Companies, Inc. (the Company) on September 7, 2016 in connection with the Company's presentation at the Barclays CEO Energy-Power Conference. The excerpted remarks provide information relating to the Company's recent announcement that its Board of Directors appointed three new independent directors. The three new independent directors will stand for election at the Company's 2016 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, which will be held on Wednesday, November 23, 2016.

Alan Armstrong: Next item here, three new independent directors. Really excited about the experience and the breadth of experience that we are pulling in with these three new directors. And so, all the way from the upstream end of the business with Scott Sheffield, to the downstream end of the business with Bill Spence, and really great experience. Steve Bergstrom historically was at Dynegy, was a ranked competitor to The Williams Companies. But we always had a lot of respect for his strategic vision and always thinking two steps ahead, so we're really excited to have his thinking hitched up with us.

And, as well, Bill Spence has done a tremendous job positioning PPL Corporation in the utility space, and, importantly, knows the regulatory issues and the challenges of building infrastructure in the same space that we build infrastructure very well. So, excited to have his insight as well. So, couldn't be more excited about three new directors, and I hope you are as well.

Forward-looking statements are based on numerous assumptions, uncertainties and risks that could cause future events or results to be materially different from those stated or implied in this communication. Many of the factors that will determine these results are beyond our ability to control or predict. Specific factors that could cause actual results to differ from results contemplated by the forward-looking statements include, among others, the following:

Whether WPZ will produce sufficient cash flows to provide the level of cash distributions, including incentive distribution rights, that we expect;

Whether Williams is able to pay current and expected levels of dividends;

Whether we will be able to effectively execute our financing plan including WPZ's establishment of a distribution reinvestment plan and the receipt of anticipated levels of proceeds from planned asset sales;

Additional risks described in our filings with the SEC.

Given the uncertainties and risk factors that could cause our actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statement, we caution investors and security holders not to unduly rely on our forward-looking statements. We disclaim any obligations to and do not intend to update the above list or announce publicly the result of any revisions to any of the forward-looking statements to reflect future events or developments.

In addition to causing our actual results to differ, the factors listed above and referred to below may cause our intentions to change from those statements of intention set forth in this communication. Such changes in our intentions may also cause our results to differ. We may change our intentions, at any time and without notice, based upon changes in such factors, our assumptions, or otherwise.

Because forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties, we caution that there are important factors, in addition to those listed above, that may cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in the forward-looking statements. For a detailed discussion of those factors, see Part I, Item 1A. Risk Factors in our Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the SEC on February 26, 2016 and in Part II, Item 1A.
