Petrobras will appeal to the judicial proceedings to pursue its defense against the decision of the Administrative Council of Tax Appeals

Rio de Janeiro, May 10th, 2011 – Petróleo Brasileiro S.A. – Petrobras announces that today the Higher Chamber of Tax Appeals of the Administrative Council of Tax Appeals (CARF) refused to entertain the administrative appeal filed by the Company, in the case related to the income tax withholding concerning remittances for the payment of charter of vessels that took place between 1999 and 2002. The current amount of the case is approximately R$ 4.6 billion. The Federal Revenue Service's authority issued the notice of violation because it does not consider platforms to be vessels, reason for which the Company could not have used the benefit of the zero tax rate of the withholding income tax (IRRF) levied on the charter.

The Company did not suffer new violations related to the remittances that took place during the periods following 2002.

Petrobras considers that it applied the tax legislation in effect correctly, reason for which it will appeal to the judicial proceedings to pursue its defense.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This press release may contain forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (Securities Act), and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (Exchange Act) that are not based on historical facts and are not assurances of future results. These forward-looking statements are based on management's current view and estimates of future economic circumstances, industry conditions, company performance and financial results. The words "anticipates", "believes", "estimates", "expects", "plans" and similar expressions, as they relate to the company, are intended to identify forward-looking statements. Statements regarding the declaration or payment of dividends, the implementation of principal operating and financing strategies and capital expenditure plans, the direction of future operations and the factors or trends affecting financial condition, liquidity or results of operations are examples of forward-looking statements. Such statements reflect the current views of management and are subject to a number of risks and uncertainties. There is no guarantee that the expected events, trends or results will actually occur. The statements are based on many assumptions and factors, including general economic and market conditions, industry conditions, and operating factors. Any changes in such assumptions or factors could cause actual results to differ materially from current expectations.

All forward-looking statements are expressly qualified in their entirety by this cautionary statement, and you should not place reliance on any forward-looking statement contained in this press release. We undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information or future events or for any other reason.
