4Q16 and 2016 Earnings Release

Companhia Siderúrgica Nacional (CSN) (BM&FBOVESPA: CSNA3) (NYSE: SID) announces today its consolidated results for the fourth quarter (4Q16) and full year of 2016, which are presented in Brazilian Reais and in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB), and with Brazilian accounting practices, which are fully convergent with international accounting norms, issued by the Accounting Pronouncements Committee (CPC) and approved by the Brazilian Securities and Exchange Commission (CVM), pursuant to CVM Instruction 485 of September 1, 2010. All comments presented herein refer to the Company's 4Q16 and 2016 consolidated results and comparisons refer to the third quarter of 2016 (3Q16), fourth quarter of 2015 (4Q15) and full year of 2015, unless otherwise stated. The Real/U.S. Dollar exchange rate was R$3.2591 on December 31, 2016 and R$3.2462 on September 30, 2016.

The Company is restating the balances of the financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2015 due to a detailed review of all aspects of the business combination held on November 30, 2015, in which the Company's mining activities were restructured and concentrated in one of its main companies, CSN Mineração SA. This revision occurred after the first representation, on November 14, 2016, of the financial statements for 2015, as a result of a change in the interpretation of the gains attributed to the controlling and non-controlling shareholders.

In addition to the reexamination of the business combination transaction, the Company revisited the studies that support the recognition and maintenance of long-lived assets and represented the balances of deferred income tax and social contribution credits.

For comparative purposes, the balances for 2015 already include the adjustments described above.

In addition, due to the sale of Companhia Metalic do Nordeste in November 2016, CSN chose to present its results excluding the numbers of its subsidiary, thus establishing a fair comparison between the years.

- COGS amounted to R$3,170 million in 4Q16, remaining flat over the previous quarter, while in 2016, COGS came to R$12,640 million, 8% up on 2015, mostly influenced by the mining sales volume.
- Fourth-quarter gross profit totaled R$1,349 million, 3% up on 3Q16, accompanied by a gross margin of 29.9%, 0.5 p.p. higher quarter-on-quarter. In 2016, gross profit amounted to R$4,510 million, 28% more than in 2015, with a margin of 26.3%, corresponding to a 3.2 p.p. increase.

Foreign Exchange Exposure

The FX exposure of our consolidated balance sheet on September 30, 2016 was US$1,740 million, as shown in the table below. It is important to mention that the net FX exposure includes a liability totaling US$1.0 billion in the Loans and Financing line related to the Perpetual Bonds, which, due to their nature, will not require disbursements for the settlement of the principal amount in the foreseeable future.

The hedge accounting adopted by CSN correlates the projected export inflows in dollars with part of the scheduled debt payments in the same currency. Therefore, the exchange variation of the dollar-denominated debt is temporarily booked in shareholders' equity, flowing through P&L when revenues in USD from exports occur.

Results by Segment

The Company maintains integrated operations in five business segments: steel, mining, logistics, cement and energy. The main assets and/or companies comprising each segment are presented below:

Notes: As of 2013, the Company no longer reports the proportional consolidation of its jointly-owned investees Namisa, MRS and CBSI. For the purpose of preparing and presenting the information by business segment, Management decided to maintain the proportional consolidation of its jointly-owned subsidiaries, as historically presented. For the purpose of reconciliation of CSN's consolidated results, these companies' results are eliminated in the "corporate/elimination expenses" column.

As of the end of 2015, after the combination of CSN's mining assets (Casa de Pedra, Namisa and Tecar), the consolidated result includes all this new company's information.

Mining

The closing of low-efficiency steelmakers fueled the industry's capacity utilization which, in addition, combined with higher demand for steel, contributed to boost margins and iron ore prices. Given this scenario, ore prices rose 5.3% in 2016 over 2015, averaging US$58.45/dmt (Platts, Fe 62%, N. China).

Demand remained high in the fourth quarter. The seasonal replenishment of inventories before the Chinese New Year's celebration played a crucial role in the increase in iron ore prices in December to over US$80.00/dmt. As a result, the commodity's price averaged US$70.76/dmt (Platts, Fe 62%, N. China) at the close of 4Q16, 21% up quarter-on-quarter.

Maritime freight on Route BCI-C3 (Tubarão-Qingdao) averaged US$8.98/t in 2016, 20% down on the previous year. The first half of 2016 was a period of record lows in terms of ship chartering prices and fleet utilization which, combined with crude oil low prices, greatly contributed to the Route's decline on an annualized basis. In the fourth quarter, in turn, maritime freight was positively impacted by the seasonal upturn in seaborne volumes and higher crude prices, particularly after the OPEC announced production cuts in December. As a result, Route BCI-C3 (Tubarão-Qingdao) closed the fourth quarter averaging US$11.84/t, 18% up on 3Q16.

Results from CSN's Mining Operation

- Iron ore purchases reached 609,000 tonnes in 4Q16, 24% down on 3Q16, while in 2016 over 2015, this line contracted by 27%, to 3.4 million tonnes.

- Iron ore sales came to 9.2 million tonnes in 4Q16, 10% less than in 3Q16. Shipped iron ore came to 7.0 million tonnes in the fourth quarter, 19% down over the previous quarter, due to quarter seasonality. CSN Mining sold 1.3 million tonnes of iron ore to the President Vargas Steelworks (UPV). In 2016, iron ore sales to third parties amounted to 32,863,000 tonnes, 28% more YoY. CSN Mining sales to UPV amounted to 4,120,000 tonnes.

In 2016, net revenue from mining operations came to R$4,582 million, 44% up on 2015, due to the increase in ore prices and sales volume. In 2016, CFR+FOB revenue stood at US$43,4/t, while the iron ore price index (Platts, 62% Fe, N. China) moved up by an average of 5% in the same comparison.

- In the fourth quarter, mining segment COGS amounted to R$797 million, 2% down quarter-on-quarter, reflecting the efforts to cut production costs. In 2016, COGS from mining operations came to R$3,099 million, 33% higher than in 2015, due to increase in sales volume.

- Adjusted EBITDA amounted to R$511 million in 4Q16, 15% down on 3Q16, accompanied by a margin of 39%, 7.0 p.p. lower than in 3Q16, chiefly influenced by the reduction in total sales volume. In 2016, adjusted EBITDA totaled R$1,759 million, 50% more than in 2015, with an adjusted EBITDA margin of 38%, 1.6 p.p. up on 2015.

Restatement of the Financial Statements of December 31, 2015

The Company is restating its financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2015 due to a detailed revision of all aspects of the business combination held on November 30, 2015, in which the Company's mining activities were restructured and concentrated into one main company, CSN Mineração S.A. This revision occurred after the first resubmission, on November 14, 2016, of the financial statements for the 2015 fiscal year due to a change in interpretation of the allocation of gains to the controlling and non-controlling shareholders.

In addition to the review of the business combination transaction, the Company reviewed the studies that support the recognition and maintenance of long-lived assets and resubmitted the balances of deferred Income Tax and Social Contribution.

Due to the sale of Companhia Metalic do Nordeste in November 2016, CSN also decided to reclassify this subsidiary's result as discontinued operations for comparability purposes.

For further information, please visit our corporate website: www.csn.com.br/ri

We will also detail the items that led management to decide for the second restatement of the financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2015, which will be identified as follows.

1. Business Combination between CSN Mineração and NAMISA;
2. Expected realization of tax credits from income tax and social contributions;
3. Reclassification of the 2015 accounting balances for Companhia Metalic do Nordeste;

1. Business Combination

The Company is restating its financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2015 due to a detailed revision of all aspects of the business combination held on November 30, 2015, in which the Company's mining activities were restructured and concentrated into one main company, CSN Mineração S.A. This revision occurred after the first resubmission, on November 14, 2016, of the financial statements for the 2015 fiscal year due to a change in interpretation of the allocation of gains to the controlling and non-controlling shareholders.

In this review, the Company identified errors in the assumptions used to determine the fair values of the entities involved, Namisa and CSN Mineração, as well as in the accounting of the investment agreement clause signed in December 2014, which refers to Namisa's assets excluded from the transaction (Fernandinho, Cayman and Pedras Pretas - the spun-off assets). Under this clause, Fernandinho, Cayman and Pedras Pretas assets used in the valuation to determine the fair value of Namisa should have been transferred directly to another entity and not to CSN Mineração. They were incorrectly integrated into Namisa's main assets acquired by CSN Mineração, which were then subsequently transferred from CSN Mineração to Mineração Nacional S.A. Finally, the revision culminated in a change of interpretation in determining the gain or loss in the settlement of the pre-existing ratio between the acquiring and acquired companies as provided for in Technical Pronouncement CPC15/IFRS3.

On November 30, 2015, CSN Mineração incorporated Namisa and applied the CPC15/IFRS3 ruling on the accounting for the business combination by the acquisition method.

The legal implementation of the transaction occurred on November 30, 2015, in which new CSN Mineração shares were issued and paid by the Asian Consortium for its shares held by Namisa after the spin-off. Subsequent to the payment, CSN Mineração and CSN signed a shareholders' agreement granting Namisa's unilateral control to CSN Mineração on the same date. With the disproportionate spin-off, the consortium's stake in Namisa was 40.24% and CSN's stake was 59.76% (prior to the split, the stakes were 40% and 60%, respectively). In this context, subsequently, Namisa post-split was merged into CSN Mineração, extinguishing the aforementioned shareholders' agreement.

The application of the acquisition method in the business combination, which resulted in net gains of R$2.9 billion in the financial results for the period for CSN Mineração (acquirer) and CSN Parent and Consolidated, have been recalculated as R$2.2 billion for CSN Mineração and R$3.0 billion for CSN Parent and Consolidated after the review of the transaction, with the following breakdown::

	CSN Mineração (In R$ Million)

As a result of the reassessment of business combination aspects that led to the identification of assumption errors used in determining the fair value of Namisa, the Company identified that the purchase price considered for accounting purposes, previously as R$13.4 billion, is now R$17.5 billion, as illustrated in the table below:

On the other hand, in implementing the transaction, CSN recorded in its financial statements restated on November 14, 2016, a direct gain of R$1.6 billion in shareholders' equity resulting from its variation in stake ownership, was adjusted to R$2.9 billion, as illustrated below:

CSN paid for the spun-off assets Fernandinho, Cayman and Pedras Pretas in its wholly-owned subsidiary Minérios Nacional for the book value of R$60 million. The amount of the remeasurement of these assets at fair value remained recorded in CSN in the Investment account, supported by the mining right in the amount of R$2.2 billion.

The aspects that led to the above adjustments in the earnings of the fiscal year and in the Company's net equity are as follows:

- a) Assumptions of maritime freight in the legal reports that established the fair values of Namisa and CSN Mineração;
- b) Comparable companies used to establish the discount rate used in the valuation reports of the fair values of Namisa and CSN Mineração;
- c) Application of the provisions of CPC15/IFRS3 related to the liquidation of pre-existing relationships between the acquiring and acquired entities;
- d) Application of the article of the Investment Agreement that established the exclusion of certain assets (spun-off assets) from the transaction; and
- e) Assumptions of railway freight when establishing the fair values of the spun-off assets of Fernandinho, Cayman and Pedras Pretas.

On the following sections we discuss each of the above adjustments and present their individual impacts on the business combination:

- Maritime Freight - Additional gain in the income of R$1,991 million and in the net equity of CSN of R$2,677 million

During the reviewing process of the business combination transaction, we identified that the prices of the maritime freight costs considered in the legal reports that established the fair values of CSN Mineração and Namisa prepared at the time of the transaction, at the end of 2015, were overstated and had no connection to the historical curves when compared to the iron ore price curves and had no continuity in relation to the prices actually practiced by both CSN itself and by the market in transactions at that time. Were prepared new legal reports to establish the fair values for CSN Mineração and Namisa and a new price curve of maritime freight was calculated based on the variations of oil price that led to a freight/ore price ratio more compatible with the historical data and with the prices actually practiced. The change in the maritime freight curve increased CSN Mineração's discounted cash flow by R$8.0 billion and Namisa's by R$3.5 billion. This increase in Namisa's discounted cash flow generated an additional gain of R$1,496 million in CSN Mineração and R$495 million in the Parent Company, as previously presented in the consolidated financial statements restated on November 14, 2016.

- Discount rate - additional gain in the consolidated income of R$48 million and in CSN's net equity of R$443 million

During the review of the business combination, we also identified that a company which was not related to iron ore activities was mistakenly considered when determining the cash flow discount rate. The switch in peer companies in the discount rate altered the rate from 14.36% to 13.83% for Namisa and from 13.91% to 13.19% for CSN Mineração, generating a discounted cash flow increase of R$3.6 billion for CSN Mineração and R$1.2 billion for Namisa. This increase in Namisa's discounted cash flow generated a loss of R$48 million in the financial results of CSN Mineração and a gain of R$96 million for the Parent Company when compared to the consolidated financial statements presented prior to the restatement on November 14, 2016. In addition, a direct increase of R$395 million in shareholders' equity was recognized, as illustrated in the summary table below:

- Liquidation of pre-existing relationships - negative impact exclusively related to the prepaid portion of operating agreements of R$2,056 million in the income and R$1,799 million in CSN's net equity due to the reversal of a pre-tax gain of R$1,554 million for a pre-tax loss of R$1,225 million, when combined to the other effects related to the errors identified.

The consolidated financial statements that were disclosed prior to the restatement on November 14, 2016 considered, for purposes of calculating the settlement gain of pre-existing relationships between the acquiring and acquired companies, a comparison between the contractual prices with market prices, not taking into account that a portion of the contract price was prepaid in 2008 upon the signing of the operational contracts for ROM (Run of Mine) and port. When reviewing this procedure, it was concluded that the measurement of gains or losses for the settlement of these pre-existing relationships should consider only the remaining cash flows of these operating contracts. The change in comparison of remaining cash flows versus contractual and market prices reversed the settlement gain of pre-existing relationships from R$1,554 million to a loss of R$1,225 million.

For further information, please visit our corporate website: www.csn.com.br/ri

- Excluded assets

After reevaluating Namisa to its fair value at the time of the transaction, the assets excluded from the transaction were spun off from Namisa (Fernandinho, Cayman and Pedras Pretas) to CSN and transferred to Minérios Nacional concurrently with Namisa's main assets that were acquired by CSN Mining. Therefore, these spun-off assets should not have been initially transferred to CSN Mineração's shareholders' equity for subsequent transfer to Minérios Nacional, even if such transfers were executed on November 30, 2015, the same date as the transaction.

Accordingly, the R$841 million net gain from the remeasurement of the stake already held by the Company in the acquisition for the control of Namisa's spun-off assets is now reflected directly in the Parent Company.

- Rail freight – ganho no resultado de R$235 milhões e de R$244 no patrimônio líquido da CSN.

The fair value report prepared at the time of the transaction, which determined the discounted cash flow of Namisa's spun off assets, mistakenly considered an overvalued rail freight cost. The new report adjusted the rail freight prices for the spun off assets.

- Other adjustments – loss of R$71 million in the income and of R$59 in CSN's net equity.

The new reports also adjusted the effects related to the non-inclusion of the CFEM/TFRM (Financial Compensation for Mineral Resource Exploitation/Control Fee, Monitoring and Supervision of Research, Development, and Exploitation Activities and the use of Mining Resources) in the discounted cash flow, and also adjusted the end balance used as the basis for determining the book value of Namisa's assets.

2. Estimated Credit Losses with Deferred Income Tax and Social Contribution

The Company is restating the balances of credits of income tax and social contribution deferred in its financial statements for the fiscal year ended on December 31, 2015 after the technical review, during the year 2016, of the negative and positive aspects that underlined its maintenance. The main change in the decision-making process for this restatement is the exclusion of the sale of certain non-core assets from credit recovery studies, reducing the future taxable base of the estimates, together with the greater weight on the negative aspect attributed to the observable evidence of tax losses in recent years, as interpreted by technical approval IAS 12/CPC 32. As established in the standard, in the event of a recent history of successive or alternate losses in several fiscal years, this becomes the primary evidence for the evaluation of the maintenance or registration of tax credits that can be offset with future taxable income, therefore, the study of estimates of these profits are used as a source of secondary evidence and with less weight in the evaluation.

Accordingly, the Company opted to maintain in the asset an amount of tax losses and negative social contribution base equivalent to 30% of the balance of deferred income tax liability, which is to be used as the deferred tax liability becomes current income to be paid. As a result, all credits arising from temporary differences were provisioned and held in stock of credits in the Company's fiscal books for subsequent use. This system of maintenance of tax credits equivalent to 30% of deferred income tax liability will remain until a new background of taxable income is installed and the studies on future profits estimates are once again a primary evidence for recording tax credits, moment when the Company will recognize the temporary differences and the higher amounts of tax losses and negative basis of social contribution that will be used to offset the payable income tax arising from future taxable income.

The table below shows the effects of this change in valuation, as detailed:

	As Published	Consolidated 31/12/2015		Parent Company 31/12/2015
		Restated	As Published	Restated

Impairment of TRANSNORDESTINA LOGÍSTICA S.A. (“TLSA”) in 2016

TLSA tested its own long-term assets for impairment using the discounted cash flow method.

In addition, CSN, as an investor, tested its interest in TLSA for impairment based on TLSA’s capacity to distribute dividends, a methodology known as Dividend Discount Model, or DDM, to compensate the capital invested by its shareholders. This test took into account several factors, including:

- The dividend flow was extracted from TLSA’s nominal cash flow;
 - The dividend flow was calculated considering annual percentage interests, taking into account the dilution of CSN’s interest arising from debt amortization;
 - This dividend flow was then discounted at present value using the cost of equity (Ke) embedded in TLSA’s WACC rate; and
 - The extracted Ke refers to the one calculated in TLSA’s rolling WACC.

Another important factor that was taken into account in the impairment testing of CSN’s investment in TLSA was the assessment of the need to apply an additional risk to the discount rate on top of the one used to determine discounted cash flow at TLSA. As investor risks are shared and the asset being tested represents its own cash-generating unit, which in turn equals the legal entity, the risk determined by CSN’s management is the same as the one applied by TLSA when assessing the investment of its own assets; therefore, no additional risk factor was applied.

As a result of the test, the Company recorded a loss in the goodwill of the investment in TLSA in the amount of R$387,989 recorded under other operating income (expenses) and R$131,916 under deferred taxes.
