The increase in the Company's power generation for the year was mainly attributable to the following reasons: (1) The acquisition of power generation assets in Heilongjiang, Jilin and Shandong largely increased the Company's power generation capacity; (2) The Company's coal-fired power generation in Central China, East China and Guangdong increased over the same period of last year, (3) Beijing Co-generation (combined cycle), Suzhou Combined Cycle, Rudong Wind Power and other power plants were put into production.

For the year ended 31 December 2017, the accumulated power generation of Tuas Power Ltd., the Company's wholly owned subsidiary in Singapore, accounted for a market share of 21.9%, representing an increase of 0.4% compared to the same period last year.

In respect of tariff, the Company's domestic average tariff for the year ended 31 December 2017 was RMB414.01 per MWh, increased by RMB17.41 per MWh from the year ended 31 December 2016. SinoSing Power's average tariff for 2017 was RMB544.15 per MWh, representing an increase by 5.86% from last year.

In respect of fuel costs, due to the rise of coal prices, compared with 2016, the Company's fuel cost per unit of power sold of domestic power plant increased by 32.41% to RMB225.92 per MWh.

Combining the forgoing factors, for the year ended 31 December 2017, the Company recorded an operating revenue of RMB152.459 billion, representing an increase of 33.95% from RMB113.814 billion of last year, and the net profit attributable to equity holders of the Company of RMB1.580 billion, representing a decrease of 81.46% from RMB8.520 billion of last year.

D. TREND ANALYSIS

In 2018, China's economy will enter a new era which would profoundly affect the energy supply and demand situation. China's economy is expected to move to quality growth from high-speed growth with upgraded economic structure driven by innovation rather than factors and investment. Industrial restructuring and upgrading, gradual reduction of energy demand, and supply-side structural reform will play the leading role in China's efforts towards new development and construction of modern economic system. The tasks to address overcapacity, deleverage and prevent risks still loom large. Continued development of an environmental-friendly civilization presents new requirements for energy production. Accelerated eco-system reform and building of a market-oriented and diversified environmental compensation mechanism will impose stricter environmental protection standards on energy development which will result in continued increase of coal-fired power generating costs and investment in environment protection oriented initiatives. Energy restructuring will maintain fast track development as the government issues policies and regulations on carbon trading, non-hydro renewable energy quota, and solar energy development to guide businesses towards green growth. China will deepen reforming efforts to make state-owned businesses competitive and extensive, improve the top-level design of state-owned enterprise, improve the corporate governance structure of state-owned enterprises, and enhance the competitiveness of enterprises. China will continue to push forward power sector reform and evolve towards a liberalized and competitive power market with market-based power generation, increased power transaction and extensive inter-provincial power exchange. Sectoral boundary and competition landscape are redefined by the ever competitive power sales, expanded reform of power distribution market, and accelerated construction of pilot spot market, which engenders new business models and profit-making models urging enterprises to be more market oriented, thus enhancing overall efficiency of the industry. The national initiative of "The Belt and Road" lend efforts for enterprises to deepen their cooperation with foreign countries and innovate their foreign investment mechanism, and also provides enterprises with ample opportunities for infrastructure investment and asset allocation, including energy and power sectors.

In the electricity market, with consistently favorable economic growth in China, the demand for electricity in 2018 is expected to maintain rapid growth continually. It is predicted by China Electricity Council that in 2018, total electricity consumption nationwide will grow by 5.5%, with newly installed generation capacity of approximately 120 million kW, of which thermal generation units will represent a reduced percentage from last year. In 2018, annual power generation utilization hours nationwide are expected to be 3,710 hours, and utilization hours of thermal generating units are estimated to be 4,210 hours, generally the same with 2017. Curtailment of hydro, wind and solar generated power is expected to be gradually addressed. The State Electricity Reform will progress steadily, power generation market is in the process of steady and planned liberalization, and medium-to-long term market transactions, cross-provincial and cross-regional transactions, spot transactions of clean energy are further expanded. The five-year winter clean heating initiative in northern China promoted by the government will have considerable power substitution effect.

In the fuel market, China will continue implementing policies to phase out obsolete production capacities and release advanced production capacities. It will speed up construction of the northern coal transportation corridors, coordinate efforts on capacity reduction and supply protection, and maintain coal supply and demand balance and price stability. The government will also strive to restore coal price to reasonable range with multiple efforts including accelerated increase of advanced coal production capacities, enhanced enforcement of medium-to-long coal contracts, execution of mutual guaranty agreement among coal producers, transporters and users, and setting up the regulatory system to control minimum and maximum coal inventory.

In the capital market, China has put more emphasis on risk prevention. Prudent monetary policy will have a stabilizing effect on the overall money supply. The credit and capital market will grow at a stable and reasonable pace. China will also strengthen the asset-liability ratio and capital requirements to urge deleveraging by state-owned enterprises. The capital market is expected to see a tight balance, potentially leading to an increase in the cost of capital.

The Company will comply with the overall trend of national economic and energy development in the new era, implement new development concept, pay close attention to policy and market changes, effectively control risks and improve its core competitiveness in line with the requirements of market-oriented electricity reform and supply-side structural reform and achieve the goals of safe, green, efficient and sustainable development.

H. ACCOUNTING STANDARDS HAVING MATERIAL IMPACT ON THE COMPANY'S FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the accounting standards that have a material impact on the Company's financial statements, please refer to the Note 2 to the financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS.

I. IMPAIRMENT SENSITIVITY ANALYSIS

1. Goodwill Impairment

The Company and its subsidiaries conducts impairment test on each individually recognized goodwill at the end of each year. In 2017, the management recognized no goodwill impairment based on the impairment assessment.

For goodwill allocated to CGUs in the PRC, changes of assumptions in tariff and fuel price could have affected the results of goodwill impairment assessment. As of 31 December 2017, if tariff had decreased by 1% or 5% from management's estimates with other variables constant with the expectations, the Company and its subsidiaries would have to recognize impairment against goodwill by approximately RMB681 million and RMB3,879 million, respectively. If fuel price had increased by 1% or 5% from the management's estimates with other variables constant with the expectations, the Company and its subsidiaries would have to recognize impairment against goodwill by approximately RMB320 million and RMB2,535 million, respectively.

2. Impairment of other non-current assets

The Company and its subsidiaries will test its property, plant and equipment, land use rights and mining rights suffered any impairment whenever an impairment indication exists.

In 2017, impairment losses for certain property, plant and equipment and land use rights of approximately RMB1,047 million and RMB109 million have been recognized, respectively. Factors leading to impairment primarily include lower than expected utilization hours of a subsidiary due to long idle hours of its power generating units and the coal-fire projects in progress was aborted; lower than expected operating results of three subsidiaries in 2017 due to oversupply and fierce competition within the electricity market in the provinces, as well as low profitability of a hydropower plant, a coal-fire project in progress of a subsidiary was aborted as a result of relevant regulation.

Changes of assumptions in tariff and fuel price will affect the result of property, plant and equipment, land use rights and mining rights impairment assessment. As at 31 December 2017, if tariff had decreased by 1% or 5% from management's estimates with other variables constant with the expectation, the Company and its subsidiaries would have to further recognize impairment against property, plant and equipment and land use rights by approximately RMB165 million and RMB1,165 million, respectively; if fuel price had increased by 1% or 5% from the management's estimates with other variables constant with the expectations, the impairment against property, plant and equipment, land use rights and mining rights of the Company and its subsidiaries would increase by approximately RMB45 million and RMB478 million, respectively.

J. RISK FACTORS

1. Risks relating to coal market

In 2018, the policy of eliminating obsolete production capacity in the coal industry will continue. The Company will face market risks on three respects. First is resources supply. Generally there should be no shortage of coal supply along with release of advance production capacities, while regional or periodic supply tension could occur. Second is transportation. As coal production is further concentrated in major coal-producing regions with tight railway transportation capacity, supply risk could occur in the event of extreme weather conditions. Third is market price. Coal price is subject to fluctuations due to regional growth, weather conditions, and hydro-power generation. The Company will closely follow the policy and changes in the domestic and international coal markets, make continued efforts to expand coal supply resources, ensure strict compliance with contracts, perform contracts with railway operators completely, strengthen management of inventory, to mitigate risks effectively.

2. Risks relating to electricity market

China is accelerating the electricity market reform such as liberalizing the electricity generation plan, electricity sales reform, incremental distribution network, transmission and distribution price and auxiliary services. As a result, the proportion of direct power sales transaction volume is increasing. The share of direct power sales in 2018 will continue to expand while competition will intensify, which will bring uncertainty to the Company's aim of increasing power generation and market share.

The Company will strengthen study of relevant policies, design timely and strategic responses, and actively participate in the research and formulation of plans for construction of regional power market. It will also enhance market awareness and reinforce customer-centric values. The Company will make efforts to develop and cultivate user base, actively pursue power transactions of all kinds, improve coordination of power generation, sale and head generation, and strive to raise the level of power generation.

3. Risks relating to electricity tariff

With further reform of power market in China, power transaction will continue to grow and traded power generation will account for a higher percentage. Fierce market competition makes transactional power price significantly lower than the regulated price, subjecting the Company to considerable price pressure. Additionally, whether the tariff of electricity generated by coal-firing generating units will be promptly and fully adjusted to reflect higher coal price through the coal-electricity price linkage mechanism is uncertain.

The Company will actively respond to the electric reform and conduct in-depth study on the market trading methods and rules in the region where the Company is located so as to raise the tariff level. It will continue to closely monitor the coal price index changes in various provinces (or cities, districts), measure the linkage demand, promptly communicate with central and local price regulators to present operating conditions of coal-fired power enterprises and push forward the implementation of coal-electricity linkage policies.

4. Risks relating to environmental protection policies

The Action Plan on Air Pollution Prevention and Treatment, Action Plan of Energy Saving, Emission Reduction, Upgrading and Transformation (2014-2020), and Target Missions for Central Generating Enterprises in Energy Saving, Emission Reduction, Upgrading and Transformation (2015), Integrated Reform Plan for Promoting Ecological Progress as well as the new Environmental Protection Law came gradually into force in China. National standards for energy saving environmental protection are increasingly higher, environmental protection restrictions for energy development are further tightened, which will increase the energy saving and transformation costs of the coal-fired generating sets which account for a high percentage of the Company's installed capacity.

Since then, China has successively implemented the sewage discharge permit system and change of environmental protection fee to the tax policy. The supervision, inspection and collection efforts have shown a growing trend.

At present, all the coal-fired generating units in operation of the Company have reached the ultra-low emission standards, and all the power generation enterprises have obtained the sewage discharge permit. The Company will continue to improve the operational performance of environmental protection systems and continuously improve the reliability and economy of environmental protection equipment.

5. Interest rate risks

Regarding RMB denominated debts, the Company is subject to increased interest payment since funding costs in currency and bond markets is expected to increase in anticipation of tightened monetary policy by the PBOC in 2018. Regarding U.S. dollar denominated debts, it is widely expected that the Federal Reserve will phase out quantitative easing by continued rise of interest rates, which is not expected to have material adverse effect on the Company due to its small percentage in the overall debt costs. In the Singaporean capital market, the SOR interest rate will continue to rise as a result of the end of quantitative easing in the U.S. and other major economies, which is anticipated to increase financing costs of Tuas Power.

While ensuring fulfilling funding requirements, the Company will strive to reduce interest rate fluctuation and control financing costs by keeping close watch on changes in domestic and overseas capital markets, making timely adjustment of financing strategies by reasonable selection of financing products.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL INFORMATION EXTRACTED FROM FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PREPARED UNDER IFRS

(Amount expressed in thousands of RMB unless otherwise stated)

1. Basis of preparation

The financial statements included in the annual financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (the “IASB”) and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance. These financial statements also comply with the applicable disclosure provisions of the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited. These financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, as modified by the revaluation of available-for-sale financial assets, financial assets at fair value through profit or loss and derivative financial assets and liabilities.

As at 31 December 2017, the Company and its subsidiaries have net current liabilities of approximately RMB107.4 billion as portion of the Company and its subsidiaries’ funding requirements for capital expenditures were satisfied by short-term financing. Taking into consideration of the expected operating cash flows of the Company and its subsidiaries and the undrawn available banking facilities of approximately RMB241.9 billion as at 31 December 2017, the Company and its subsidiaries are expected to refinance certain of its short term loans and bonds, and also consider alternative sources of financing, where applicable and when needed. Therefore, the directors of the Company are of the opinion that the Company and its subsidiaries will be able to meet its liabilities as and when they fall due within the next twelve months and accordingly, these consolidated financial statements are prepared on a going concern basis.

2. Principal Accounting Policies

The IASB has issued several amendments to IFRSs that are first effective for the current accounting period of the Company and its subsidiaries. None of these developments have had a material effect on how the Company and its subsidiaries’ results and financial position for the current or prior periods have been prepared or presented. However, additional disclosure has been made to satisfy the new disclosure requirements introduced by the amendments to IAS 7, Statement of cash flows: Disclosure initiative, which require entities to provide disclosures that enable users of financial statements to evaluate changes in liabilities arising from financing activities, including both changes arising from cash flows and non-cash changes. The Company and its subsidiaries have not applied any new standard or interpretation that is not yet effective for current accounting period.

- 67 -

3. Revenue and segment information

Revenues recognized during the year are as follows:

Directors and certain senior management of the Company perform the function as chief operating decision maker (collectively referred to as the “senior management”). The senior management reviews the internal reporting of the Company and its subsidiaries in order to assess performance and allocate resources. The Company has determined the operating segments based on these reports. The reportable segments of the Company are the PRC power segment, Singapore segment and all other segments (mainly including port and transportation operations). No operating segments have been aggregated to form a reportable segment.

Senior management assesses the performance of the operating segments based on a measure of profit before income tax expense under China Accounting Standard for Business Enterprises (“PRC GAAP”) excluding dividend income received from available-for-sale financial assets, gains on disposal of available-for-sale financial assets and operating results of the centrally managed and resource allocation functions of headquarters (“Segment Results”). Other information provided, except as noted below, to the senior management of the Company is measured under PRC GAAP.

Segment assets exclude prepaid income tax, deferred income tax assets, available-for-sale financial assets and assets related to the centrally managed and resource allocation functions of headquarters that are not attributable to any operating segment (“corporate assets”). Segment liabilities exclude current income tax liabilities, deferred income tax liabilities and liabilities related to the centrally managed and resource allocation functions of headquarters that are not attributable to any operating segment (“corporate liabilities”). These are part of the reconciliation to total assets and liabilities of consolidated statement of financial position.

All sales among the operating segments have been eliminated as internal transactions when preparing consolidated financial statements.

The Company completed the acquisition of equity interests of four companies from Huaneng Group, see Note 13 for details. As the acquisition is a business combination under common control, the transaction is accounted for under merger accounting method under PRC GAAP. The assets and liabilities acquired in business combinations are measured at the carrying amounts of the acquirees in the consolidated financial statements of the ultimate controlling party on the acquisition date. The operating results for all periods presented are retrospectively restated as if the current structure and operations resulting from the acquisition had been in existence from the date when the acquirees first became under the control of the same ultimate controlling party. - (a) Differences in accounting treatment on business combinations under common control and depreciation and amortization under common control

Huaneng Group is the parent company of HIPDC, which in turn is also the ultimate parent of the Company. The Company carried out a series of acquisitions from Huaneng Group and HIPDC in recent years. As the acquired power companies and plants and the Company were under common control of Huaneng Group before and after the acquisitions, such acquisitions are regarded as business combinations under common control.

In accordance with PRC GAAP, under common control business combination, the assets and liabilities acquired in business combinations are measured at the carrying amounts of the acquirees in the consolidated financial statements of the ultimate controlling party on the acquisition date. The difference between carrying amounts of the net assets acquired and the consideration paid is adjusted to equity account of the acquirer. The operating results for all periods presented are retrospectively restated as if the current structure and operations resulting from the acquisition had been in existence since the beginning of the earliest year presented, with financial data of previously separate entities consolidated. The cash consideration paid by the Company is treated as an equity transaction in the year of acquisition. The subsequent adjustment of contingent consideration after the acquisition date is also accounted for as an equity transaction.

For the business combination occurred prior to 1 January 2007, in accordance with Previous PRC GAAP, when equity interests acquired is less than 100%, the assets and liabilities of the acquirees are measured at their carrying amounts. The excess of consideration over the proportionate share of the carrying amounts of the net assets acquired was recorded as equity investment difference and amortized on a straight-line basis for not more than 10 years. When acquiring the entire equity, the entire assets and liabilities are accounted for in a method similar to purchase accounting. Goodwill arising from such transactions is amortized over the estimated useful lives on a straight-line basis. On 1 January 2007, in accordance with PRC GAAP, the unamortized equity investment differences and goodwill arising from business combinations under common control were written off against undistributed profits.

Under IFRS, the Company and its subsidiaries adopted the purchase method to account for the acquisitions above. The assets and liabilities acquired in acquisitions were recorded at fair value by the acquirer. The excess of acquisition cost over the proportionate share of fair value of net identifiable assets acquired was recorded as goodwill. Goodwill is not amortized but is tested annually for impairment and carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses. The operating results of the acquirees are consolidated in the operating results of the Company and its subsidiaries from the acquisition dates onwards. The contingent consideration not classified as equity are measured at fair value at each reporting date with the changes in fair value recognised in profit or loss, if such changes are not measurement period adjustment.

As mentioned above, the differences in accounting treatment under PRC GAAP and IFRS on business combinations under common control affect both equity and profit. Meanwhile, due to different measurement basis of the assets acquired, depreciation and amortization in the period subsequent to the acquisition will be affected which will also affect the equity and profit or loss upon subsequent disposals of such investments. Such differences will be gradually eliminated following subsequent depreciation, amortization and disposal of related assets.

(b) Effect of depreciation on the capitalization of borrowing costs in previous years

In previous years, under Previous PRC GAAP, the scope of capitalization of borrowing costs was limited to specific borrowings, and thus, borrowing costs arising from general borrowings were not capitalized. In accordance with IFRS, the Company and its subsidiaries capitalized borrowing on general borrowing used for the purpose of obtaining qualifying assets in addition to the capitalization of borrowing costs on specific borrowings. From 1 January 2007 onwards, the Company and its subsidiaries adopted PRC GAAP No. 17 prospectively, the current adjustments represent the related depreciation on capitalized borrowing costs included in the cost of related assets under IFRS in previous years.

(c) Difference in the recognition of housing benefits to the employees of the Company and its subsidiaries in previous years

The Company and its subsidiaries once provided staff quarters to the employees of the Company and its subsidiaries and sold such staff quarters to the employees of the Company and its subsidiaries at preferential prices set by the local housing reform office. Difference between cost of the staff quarters and proceeds from the employees represented the housing losses, and was borne by the Company and its subsidiaries.

Under Previous Accounting Standards and Accounting System (“Previous PRC GAAP”), in accordance with the relevant regulations issued by the Ministry of Finance, such housing losses incurred by the Company and its subsidiaries are fully charged to non-operating expenses in previous years. Under IFRS, such housing losses incurred by the Company and its subsidiaries are recognized on a straight-line basis over the estimated remaining average service lives of the employees.

(d)Deferred income tax impact on GAAP differences

This represents related deferred income tax impact on the GAAP differences above where applicable.
