Oxford Industries Announces Second Quarter Fiscal 2004 Results

Net Sales Grow 37% to $254 Million

EPS grow 46% to $0.41, Ahead of Consensus Estimates

Revises FY04 Expectation to Reflect Strong Business and Stock Split

Quarterly Cash Dividend Increased 14%

ATLANTA, GA. Oxford Industries, Inc. (NYSE:OXM) announced today financial results for the second quarter ended November 28, 2003. The Company reported that second quarter net sales increased 37% to $254 million versus $185 million during the second quarter of fiscal 2003. Diluted earnings per share for the second quarter increased 46% to $0.41 versus a split adjusted $0.28 in the second quarter of fiscal 2003, slightly ahead of both the Company's guidance and consensus estimates.

For the six months ended November 28, 2003, net sales increased $138 million or 39% to $496 million compared to $358 million in the previous year. Diluted earnings per share for the first half increased 43% to $0.83. Per share results have been adjusted to reflect the company's two-for-one stock split completed on December 1, 2003.

J. Hicks Lanier, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Oxford, Industries, Inc., commented, "We are pleased to report record second quarter sales which include the first full quarter of operation for the Tommy Bahama business. Not only did the Tommy Bahama Group make a strong contribution to our financial results, the integration of our two businesses has progressed very smoothly. In general, while the market remains challenging, we are growing increasingly confident that our strong financial performance will continue throughout the remainder of the fiscal year."

The company noted that it had rationalized its reporting to three segments, the Menswear Group, the Womenswear Group and the Tommy Bahama Group. The Menswear Group, which includes Lanier Clothes, Oxford Slacks and Oxford Shirt Group, reported a second quarter sales decline of 4% to $115 million, driven by a planned decline in shipments to Sears and the wind-down of Izod Club Golf. Second quarter sales for the Oxford Womenswear Group declined 4% from last year to $62 million due primarily to the Company's decision to discontinue business with Kmart. The Tommy Bahama Group contributed $76 million in sales during the second quarter.

Mr. Lanier continued, "During the quarter, we were very pleased to refine our segment and management structure and to appoint Michael Setola as our President. Michael will have direct responsibility for the operation of our Menswear Group. We are looking forward to benefiting from his expertise, particularly in the menswear business, and his energetic management style. He is a welcome addition to our team."

Profitability for the second quarter was positively impacted by the inclusion of the Tommy Bahama Group. Gross margins increased 10 full percentage points to 30.3% from 20.1% in last year's second quarter. The inclusion of the Tommy Bahama Group, which carries significantly higher gross margins than the corporate average, was primarily responsible for the increase. Selling, general and administrative expenses as a percentage of net sales increased to 23.3% from 16.2% in the second quarter last year. The increase was attributable to the Tommy Bahama Group's heavier expense structure, partially offset by a decline in operating expenses in Oxford's legacy businesses. Operating expenses for the second quarter also included $1.7 million in non-cash intangible asset amortization expenses associated with the Tommy Bahama acquisition. Operating income for the second quarter increased $9.9 million or 140% to $17.0 million from $7.1 million in the same period last year.

Total inventories at quarter-end of $127 million were slightly lower than plan. The increase in inventory over last year reflects the inclusion of $32 million in Tommy Bahama inventory and a moderate increase in the Company's other two segments. The Company noted that well-managed inventory levels have contributed to a reduction in markdowns compared to last year. Accounts receivable increased $30 million over last year due entirely to the inclusion of Tommy Bahama.

Interest expense increased in the second quarter to $6.1 million from $61,000 last year, reflecting the debt incurred to finance the purchase of Tommy Bahama. Debt to total capital stood at 48% at quarter-end with no direct borrowings outstanding under the Company's senior revolving credit facility.

The Company revised its guidance for the balance of this fiscal year to reflect an expectation of continued strong financial results in the remainder of the year and the two-for-one stock split that became effective on December 1, 2003. For the fiscal year ending May 31, 2004, the Company now anticipates sales in the range of $1.065 to $1.090 billion and diluted earnings per share in the range of $2.18 to $2.26. This compares to previous earnings guidance, adjusted for the two-for-one stock split, of $2.09 to $2.20. This increase stems from greater visibility in a number of the Company's businesses. For the third quarter, the Company now anticipates sales in the range of $275 to $285 million and diluted earnings per share in a range of $0.51 to $0.55. For the fourth quarter, the company now anticipates sales in the range of $295 to $310 million and diluted earnings per share in the range of $0.84 to $0.88.

The Company also reported that its Board of Directors had declared a 14% increase in the quarterly cash dividend from $0.105 per share to $ 0.12 per share on common stock payable February 28, 2004 to stockholders of record on February 17, 2004. This is the 175th consecutive quarterly cash dividend since Oxford became publicly-owned in 1960.

Mr. Lanier concluded, "We continue to be pleased with the tenor of business at both our newly acquired Tommy Bahama Group and with our legacy segments. We believe that Oxford's combination of operational expertise, a diversified mix of world-class retail customers, and a balanced portfolio of labels led by one of the strongest lifestyle brands in the apparel market provides our shareholders with the prospect of excellent performance and returns. We are pleased to continue to achieve our short-term financial plan while positioning our business for continued growth in sales and profitability."

The company will hold a conference call with senior management to discuss the financial results at 4:30 p.m. ET today.
