PART II — RULES 12b-25(b) AND (c)

If the subject report could not be filed without unreasonable effort or expense and the registrant seeks relief pursuant to Rule 12b-25(b), the following should be completed. (Check box if appropriate)

- (a) The reason described in reasonable detail in Part III of this form could not be eliminated without unreasonable effort or expense;
The subject annual report, semi-annual report, transition report on Form 10-K, Form 20-F, Form 11-K, Form N-SAR or Form N-CSR, or portion thereof, will be filed on or before the fifteenth calendar day following
- (b) the prescribed due date; or the subject quarterly report or transition report on Form 10-Q or subject distribution report on Form 10-D, or portion thereof, will be filed on or before the fifth calendar day following the prescribed due date; and
- (c) The accountant's statement or other exhibit required by Rule 12b-25(c) has been attached if applicable.

PART III - NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail why Forms 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, 10-D, N-SAR, N-CSR, or the transition report or portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period.

Albany International Corp. (the “Company”) is unable, without unreasonable effort or expense, to file its annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2018 (“2018 10-K”) within the prescribed time period.

As reported in its earnings release dated February 11, 2019, the Company discovered, during the fourth quarter of 2018, that ASC 606 implementation issues in its Machine Clothing (“MC”) business segment had resulted in immaterial errors in certain reported segment and consolidated Company financial statement line items for each of the first three quarters of 2018. The implementation issues were related to certain MC contracts in which the Company satisfies its performance obligation before the product is delivered to the customer (these are referred to as “Make and Hold” transactions). The errors were discovered as the result of activities by management during the fourth quarter to review all Make and Hold transactions, as part of its continuous efforts to ensure successful overall adoption of the ASC 606 revenue standard.

As a result of the discovery of these errors, management concluded that a material weakness had existed during 2018 with respect to the internal controls related to the recording of Make and Hold transactions. As a result, the Company made changes to the applicable controls, and put in place additional controls during the fourth quarter of 2018, intended to remediate the material weakness. Due to the end-of-year timing when these changes were put in place, and the additional testing required to assess their effectiveness, management does not currently anticipate that it will be able to conclude that the material weakness was remediated at December 31, 2018. As a result, the Company expects to report in the 2018 10-K that a material weakness existed at December 31, 2018, and that, as a result, the Company’s internal control over financial reporting was not effective as of such date.

In addition, management has determined that it requires additional time to complete its overall assessment of the Company’s internal control over financial reporting, and, as a result, the Company’s independent registered accounting firm, KPMG LLP (“KPMG”), has not yet been able to complete its audit and report on the Company’s consolidated financial statements and internal control over financial reporting to be included in the 2018 10-K.

Based on the reviews and analyses to date, the Company does not expect adjustments to its previously announced financial results. The Company is working diligently to finalize its assessment of internal control over financial reporting. The Company expects that it and KPMG will finalize the remaining work and that the Company will file its Annual Report on Form 10-K no later than the prescribed due date pursuant to Rule 12b-25.
