Land & Buildings Investment Management, LLC, together with the other participants named herein (collectively, “Land & Buildings”), intends to file a preliminary proxy statement and accompanying proxy card with the Securities and Exchange Commission to be used to solicit proxies for the election of its slate of director nominees at the 2018 annual meeting of shareholders of RLJ Lodging Trust, a Maryland corporation (the “Company”).

On March 20, 2018, Land & Buildings issued the following press release:

Land & Buildings Issues Letter to RLJ Lodging Trust Regarding Evaluation of Strategic Alternatives

– Believes RLJ Should Immediately Form a Special Committee to Evaluate Strategic Alternatives In Light of Substantial Undervaluation and Buyer Interest Last Year at ~25% Premium to Current Share Price –

– Has Concerns With RLJ Management, Most Recently By Issuing 2018 EBITDA Guidance 7% Below Projections Shareholders Relied Upon in FelCor Acquisition –

– Land & Buildings Believes Board Composition Change is Necessary and Intends to Run a Slate of Two Director Candidates for Election at the 2018 Annual Meeting –

Stamford, CT (March 20, 2018) – Land & Buildings Investment Management, LLC (together with its affiliates, “Land & Buildings”) today issued the following letter to shareholders of RLJ Lodging Trust (NYSE: RLJ) (“RLJ” or the “Company”):

March 20, 2018

Dear Fellow RLJ Lodging Trust Shareholders:

Since the close of the FelCor Lodging Trust Inc. (“FelCor”) and RLJ merger on August 31, 2017, Land & Buildings has become a significant shareholder of RLJ. Since this time, our engagement with the RLJ leadership team and Board of Directors (the “Board”) has been troubling to us. Based on our interactions with the Board – as well as its own actions to date – RLJ does not appear to be focused on maximizing value for all shareholders.

Edgar Filing: RLJ Lodging Trust - Form DFAN14A

Further, despite our sincere efforts to engage constructively with the Company, we have been disappointed by the Board's apparent failure to adequately address the issues we have identified regarding the management, board composition and strategic direction of the Company. We now believe a greater sense of urgency for creating shareholder value is required at the board level to best position the Company and its owners for long-term success.

This is why Land & Buildings intends to run a slate of two director candidates, Michelle Applebaum and Samantha Yablon, for election at the Company's 2018 Annual Meeting. We believe our nominees would bring significant relevant experience, new insights and fresh perspectives to the Board, as well as a deep commitment to shareholder-alignment.

Creation of Special Committee to Evaluate Strategic Alternatives

Land & Buildings believes that RLJ should immediately form a special committee of independent directors to run a robust process to evaluate all strategic alternatives available to the Company given RLJ's significant undervaluation and underperformance.

Last summer, the Company rejected multiple offers, reportedly from Blackstone, for as much as $25 per share¹ – approximately 25% above the current share price. Today, we believe an offer for the Company would likely be north of $26, given nearly $1 of savings as there is no longer a breakup fee and less debt defeasance costs, as well as higher lodging asset values.

Unfortunately, we believe the Company has failed to outline how it will maximize value for all RLJ shareholders in a way that is materially in excess of the rejected Blackstone offer. Notably, the environment today to pursue such a transaction is even better than last summer from both an industry and company perspective:

Lodging asset values are higher today than a year ago;

Recent industry RevPAR growth has been stronger than expected, up 3.6% year-to-date and up 4.2% in the fourth quarter of 2017;²

FelCor debt prepayment penalties have declined due the passage of time and recent payoff of $524 million of FelCor bonds; and

There would be no breakup fees to be paid in a deal today, which would have been incurred in a deal last summer if Blackstone would have purchased RLJ when the FelCor merger was pending.

Our Concerns with RLJ Management

We have been troubled by our conversations with management regarding the Company's financials, and in our view, its poor guidance and poor investor communications. Mr. Bierkan and Ms. Hale failed to offer concrete answers to our questions, which we believe demonstrates a lack of definitive working knowledge of the Company's financials, including being unable to provide credible response to our questions about discrepancies brought to light in the Company's S-4 registration statement/joint proxy statement filed on June 2, 2017.

Last month management gave guidance for 2018 EBITDA which is 7%³ below the guidance they included in their merger proxy with FelCor last summer. Is this a management team and Board that can be trusted to protect and enhance value for the benefit of all RLJ shareholders?

Stronger lodging industry fundamentals with better than expected RevPAR growth for the industry in the fourth quarter of 2017 and year-to-date should have led to higher, not lower, projected 2018 EBITDA for RLJ.

RLJ Has Materially Underperformed

RLJ has generated substantially inferior total shareholder returns over a variety of time periods, has generated inferior FFO growth and in our view, made questionable capital allocation decisions. Consider the following:

RLJ's total shareholder return has trailed its Lodging REIT Peers over the past 5-, 3- and 1-year periods by 28%, 21% and 13%, respectively⁴.

Since the announcement of Ross Bierkan as CEO and Leslie Hale as COO/CFO as the new leadership team of RLJ, RLJ's total shareholder return has trailed its Lodging REIT Peers by 17%⁵.

Since the announcement of the FelCor acquisition, RLJ's total shareholder return has trailed its Lodging REIT Peers by 16%⁶.

RLJ's FFO growth has lagged its peers over the past 5-, 3- and 1-year periods by 3%, 14% and 5%, respectively, which we believe is primarily a result of the Company's inferior operating results and poor capital allocation decisions⁷.

We are also concerned that during a period of poor performance, the senior executive team of RLJ has been paid handsomely, with Executive Chairman Robert Johnson earning $3.6 million in 2016, CEO Ross Bierkan earning $4.4 million in 2016 and CFO/COO Leslie Hale earning $4 million in 2016. We believe this displays a misalignment of interests with RLJ shareholders and causes us to question whether the Board rejected the all-cash offer in favor of the merger with the best interests of shareholders in mind.

Land & Buildings' Highly-Qualified Director Candidates for Election at 2018 Annual Meeting

Land & Buildings intends to run a slate of two director candidates for election at the 2018 Annual Meeting:

- Michelle Applebaum – Former CEO of leading independent equity research and corporate advisory firm.
- Samantha Yablon – Former public real estate investor at leading investment firms.

Land & Buildings believes RLJ is significantly undervalued and intends to continue to advocate for maximizing long-term shareholder value at RLJ and will utilize all options available to achieve this.

² Based on J.P. Morgan research dated March 14, 2018

³ RLJ provided a 2018 EBITDA guidance midpoint of $545 million on February 27, 2018, 7% below RLJ's own projections disclosed last summer of $383 million for RLJ and $201 million for FelCor. RLJ explanations for the lower guidance were largely known including renovation disruption, presidential inauguration, Super Bowl timing and property tax headwinds.

⁴ Total shareholder returns are through March 19, 2018; "Lodging REIT Peers" are all the current members of the Bloomberg Hotel REIT Index: AHP, AHT, APLE, CDOR, CHSP, CLDT, DRH, HPT, HST, HT, INN, LHO, MGP, PEB, PK, RHP, SHO, SOHO, XHR.

⁵ Total shareholder returns are from August 1, 2016, the date RLJ announced senior management changes, through March 19, 2018.

⁶ Total shareholder returns are from April 24, 2017, the Company's announcement of the FelCor acquisition, through March 19, 2018.

⁷ Reported FFO per share adjusted for non-core items when disclosed for Lodging REIT Peers listed above, excluding CDOR due to highly variable FFO during the period.
