ITEM 1. REPORTS TO STOCKHOLDERS.

The Semi-Annual Report to Stockholders follows.

Fund Distributions and Managed Distribution Plan: Your Fund has been paying a regular 6.5 cent per share monthly distribution on its common stock since July 1997. In February 2007, the Board of Directors adopted a Managed Distribution Plan, which provides for the Fund to continue to make a monthly distribution on its common stock of 6.5 cents per share. Under the Managed Distribution Plan, the Fund will distribute all available investment income to shareholders, consistent with the Fund's primary investment objective. If and when sufficient investment income is not available on a monthly basis, the Fund will distribute long-term capital gains and/or return capital to its shareholders. Whenever any portion of any Fund distribution is derived from a source other than net investment income, the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "1940 Act") and related SEC rules require the Fund to furnish shareholders with a written statement disclosing what portion of the payment per share is derived from net investment income, net short-term capital gains, net long-term capital gains, and return of capital. To the extent that the Fund uses capital gains and/or returns of capital to supplement its investment income, you should not draw any conclusions about the Fund's investment performance from the amount of the Fund's distributions or from the terms of the Fund's Managed Distribution Plan. The Fund estimates that it has distributed more than its income and capital gains; therefore, a portion of your distribution may be a return of capital. A return of capital may occur, for example, when some or all of the money that you invested in the Fund is paid back to you. A return of capital distribution does not necessarily reflect the Fund's investment performance and should not be confused with "yield" or "income".

The amounts and sources of distributions reported in statements furnished pursuant to the 1940 Act are only estimates and are not provided for tax reporting purposes. The actual amounts and sources of the amounts for tax reporting purposes will depend upon the Fund's investment experience during the remainder of its fiscal year and may be subject to changes based on tax regulations. The Fund will send you a Form 1099-DIV for the calendar year that will tell you how to report these distributions for federal income tax purposes. The 1940 Act and related SEC rules generally prohibit investment companies from distributing long-term capital gains, as defined in the Internal Revenue Code ("IRC"), more often than once in a twelve-month period. To the extent that the Fund's distributions of net long-term capital gain for a taxable year are offset by the Fund's capital loss carryovers, such distributions are not treated by the IRC as long-term capital gain dividends. Instead such distributions are treated as additional ordinary dividends or as a return of capital, depending on whether the Fund has undistributed earnings. To date, all of the Fund's distributions of net long-term capital gain have been fully offset by the Fund's capital loss carryovers, and therefore none of those distributions have constituted long-term capital gain dividends as defined in the IRC. Funds that have adopted a Managed Distribution Plan generally seek exemptive relief from the SEC, permitting them to distribute long-term capital gains more than once a year. In order to potentially augment the sources from which the Fund's monthly distribution can be paid after its capital loss carryovers have been fully utilized, the Fund applied for such exemptive relief in April 2007. If the granting of exemptive relief is denied or delayed by the SEC, and the Fund still needs to supplement its investment income from other sources after utilizing all of its tax loss carryovers, the Fund's monthly shareholder distributions may need to include a portion of tax return of capital in order to maintain the distribution rate. Even if the Fund receives exemptive relief from the SEC, a tax return of capital could also occur if the Fund were to distribute more than its income and net realized capital gains. Any return of capital would not be taxable to shareholders in the year it is paid. Rather, shareholders would be required to reduce the cost basis of their shares by the amount of the return of capital so that, when the shares are ultimately sold, they will have properly accounted for the return of capital.

The Board may amend, suspend or terminate the Managed Distribution Plan without prior notice to shareholders if it deems such action to be in the best interests of the Fund and its shareholders. For example, the Board might take such action if the Plan had the effect of shrinking the Fund's assets to a level that was determined to be detrimental to Fund shareholders. The suspension or termination of the Plan could have the effect of creating a trading discount (if the Fund's stock is trading at or above net asset value) or widening an existing trading discount.

The Managed Distribution Plan is described in a Question and Answer format on your Fund's website <http://www.dnpselectincome.com> and is also discussed on page four of this report.

Dear Fellow Shareholders:

Performance Review: Consistent with its primary objective of current income, the Fund declared three monthly distributions of 6.5 cents per share of common stock during the second quarter of 2007. The 6.5 cent per share monthly rate, without compounding, would be 78 cents annualized, or a 7.17% common stock dividend yield based on the June 29, 2007 closing price of $10.88 per share. That yield compares favorably with the quarter-end yields of 2.94% on the Dow Jones Utility Index and 2.99% on the S&P Utilities Index. Please refer to the inside front cover and the dividend policy sections of this report for important information about the Fund's distributions.

Your Fund had a total return (income plus change in market price) of 1.5% for the quarter ended June 30, 2007, and 4.3% year-to-date. This total return was somewhat below the 1.5% quarterly and 6.9% year-to-date total return of the composite of the S&P Utilities Index and the Lehman Utility Bond Index reflecting the stock and bond ratio of the Fund (the "Composite Index"). In comparison, the S&P Utilities Index "a stock only index" had a total return of 1.4% and 8.8%, respectively. Investor concerns over utility stock valuations and a rise in interest rates depressed returns for utility shares, bonds and their benchmarks during the second quarter.

On a longer-term basis, as of June 30, 2007, your Fund had a five-year cumulative total return of 57.3%, below the 75.6% return of the Composite Index. In comparison, the S&P Utilities Index had a total return during that period of 96.7%. It is important to note that the Composite Index and the S&P Utilities Index include no fees or expenses. The following table compares the performance of your Fund to various market benchmarks.

For the period indicated through June 29, 2007	DNP Select Income Fund Inc.		Cumulative Total Return*
	Market	NAV	Composite Index	S&P Utilities Index	Lehman Brothers Utility Bond Index
One year	15.0%	24.8%	21.2%	26.1%	7.4%
Five years	57.3%	86.8%	75.6%	96.7%	24.4%

* Total return includes dividends reinvested in the Fund or index, as applicable. The Composite Index is a composite of the returns of the S&P Utilities Index and the Lehman Brothers Utility Bond Index, weighted to reflect the stock and bond ratio of the Fund. Performance returns for the S&P Utilities Index and Lehman Brothers Utility Bond Index were obtained from Bloomberg LLP. Fund returns were obtained from the Administrator of the Fund. Past performance is not indicative of future results.

The Investment Environment and Outlook: The pace of economic activity as measured by Gross Domestic Product (GDP) has slowed over the course of 2006 and into 2007. Some of the early 2006 slow-down can be attributed to the decline in activity related directly to hurricane Katrina. However, later in 2006, economic activity slowed as the result of an increasing contraction in residential construction and a reduction in car production as dealers sold excess inventory off their lots. More broad-based inventory liquidation reduced first quarter 2007 GDP growth to only 0.7% annualized, the lowest level since the fourth quarter of 2002. Second quarter GDP improved to a 3.2% annualized rate according to the Commerce Department's "advance" estimate released in late July and some inventory rebuilding may support growth later in the year.

Although the Federal Reserve's (Fed's) most popular measure of consumer price inflation, the Personal Consumption Expenditure Deflator (the PCE Index), decelerated somewhat in the latter part of 2006, the PCE Core Index, excluding food and energy, advanced 2¼% for the year, well above what is believed to be the Fed's target range of 1% □ 2%. Further improvement in consumer inflation has been seen in 2007, with the PCE Core Index up only 1.9% year-over-year in June, the best report since March 2004. It was in June of 2004 that the Fed initiated its program of raising short-term interest rates from 1% to 5¼%.

The statement released from the June 28 meeting of the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) and the July Congressional testimony of Fed Chairman Bernanke acknowledged the improvement in inflation. The text, which follows a characteristic topic sequence, dropped the word "elevated" and referenced inflation that had "improved modestly." However, the FOMC went on to note that "a sustained moderation in inflation pressures has yet to be convincingly demonstrated," and that the "high level of resource utilization has the potential to sustain those pressures." Economic growth was characterized as "moderate" despite the weak housing environment. The favorable trend in inflation and the less than favorable trend in economic growth were not sufficient to change the Fed's inflation focus and steady-state interest rate policy. Without some unexpected catalyst, your Fund managers do not anticipate that monetary policy will change in the near future.

The broad stock market indexes continue to demonstrate confidence in the strength of the economy and the Fed's non-inflationary monetary policy, although price volatility has increased. The markets are near their all-time highs, supported by stronger-than-expected earnings and record high merger activity, share buybacks, and private-equity deals. Even the weaker dollar helps multi-national companies profit from the strong global economy and favorable currency translations.

In the bond markets, yields and risk premiums have risen somewhat. Since the beginning of the year through mid-year, 10-year Treasury yields have risen about 3 tenths of a percent and lower quality indexes have underperformed similar maturity Treasuries. In the derivatives markets (options and futures, for example) the costs of single issue and portfolio protection have increased, factors adversely affecting liquidity at the margin.

The utility industries have been relatively stable during the first half of 2007. Merger and acquisition risk has been light compared to other sectors, and regulation has been reasonably supportive, with a few notable exceptions. Above all, your managers analyze companies for their ability to sustain and grow their dividends.

Back to the Electric Future? On August 14, 2003, a cascade of electric transmission line failures and successive power plant shutdowns led to a blackout covering approximately 9,000 square miles and affecting 50 million people in the Northeast quadrant of the United States and adjacent parts of Canada. An area of concern regarding the electrical system that the blackout highlighted was the lack of capital investment in high voltage transmission.

One of the biggest roadblocks for transmission investment has been the siting of high voltage electric lines. "Not in My Back Yard" concerns have been one of the primary hindrances to transmission construction in heavily populated, high electric demand areas. Under the Energy Policy Act of 2005, the Department of Energy (DOE) was granted the authority to designate geographic areas as "national interest electric transmission corridors." A national interest corridor is an area where insufficient transmission capacity is raising the cost of electricity to consumers or jeopardizing reliable service, and the resolution of the problem would be in the national interest. The national interest test can be met by determining that congestion inhibits the development of generation from renewable resources, such as wind, or clean coal technologies.

Despite federal capacity to determine national interest corridors, individual states retain the initial and primary responsibility for deciding how to resolve transmission capacity problems, including how and where to site transmission. Recourse to the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC), which is housed within the DOE, is available when a state cannot or will not act promptly to resolve congestion or assure reliability. "Promptly" is defined as a state failing to grant permits for transmission lines proposed in the corridors within a year of the filing of a permit application with state regulators.

An analysis prepared every third year by the DOE provides the basis for corridor designation. In April, the DOE made its first two national interest corridor designations. One is composed of northern Virginia and eight states running into New York, and the other is in the Southwest, stretching from California into Nevada and east to Arizona. The Arizona Corporation Commission recently rejected development of a new 230-mile transmission line in the Southwest corridor, which would have taken power from western Arizona into Southern California, on the grounds that it would not provide any benefits to Arizona ratepayers while giving price breaks to California ratepayers. On the other hand, the California Public Utilities Commission unanimously approved the proposed transmission line. In theory, this siting conflict could be resolved at the Federal level, but a prompt resolution is the best that might be expected.

The electric industry needs to make significant investments in the electric transmission system. Impediments to that investment are being slowly chipped away, but there is much work to be done to keep our electric future from looking a lot like the past.

Board of Directors Meeting: At the regular August 2007 Board of Directors meeting, the Board declared the following monthly dividends:

Cents Per Share	Record Date	Payable Date
6.5	September 28	October 10
6.5	October 31	November 13
6.5	November 30	December 10

About your Fund's Dividend Policy At the February 2007 Board of Directors meeting, the Board reaffirmed the current 6.5 cent per share monthly distribution rate and formalized the monthly distribution process by adopting a Managed Distribution Plan. The Plan is described in a Question and Answer format on your Fund's website: <http://www.dnpselectincome.com>.

Longer-term interest rates remain relatively low despite Federal Reserve actions to increase short-term rates, and utility common stock dividend yields are well below their long-term average. Since 2004, the Fund has made increased use of realized gains offset by tax loss carryforwards to supplement its investment income. Until the Fund utilizes all of its tax loss carryforwards, distributions to shareholders derived from realized gains will be treated as ordinary income for tax purposes under the Internal Revenue Code (IRC). The treatment of the Fund's realized gains as ordinary income for tax purposes has enabled the Fund to maintain its current monthly "income only" distribution rate. In the absence of tax loss carryforwards, distributions from realized gains would be treated as taxable gains rather than ordinary income.

The Investment Company Act of 1940 and related rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) generally prohibit investment companies from distributing long-term capital gains, as defined by the IRC, more often than once in a twelve-month period. However, funds that have adopted a Managed Distribution Plan often seek exemptive relief from the SEC, permitting them to distribute long-term capital gains more than once a year. In order to potentially augment the sources from which your Fund's monthly distribution can be paid, the Fund's Board of Directors authorized the Fund to apply to the SEC for such exemptive relief at the same time that it adopted the Managed Distribution Plan.

If the granting of exemptive relief is denied or delayed by the SEC, and the Fund still needs to supplement its investment income from other sources after utilizing all of its tax loss carryforwards, the Fund's monthly shareholder distributions may need to include a portion of return of capital in order to maintain the distribution rate. Even if the Fund receives exemptive relief from the SEC, a return of capital could occur if the Fund were to distribute more than its income and net realized capital gains. A return of capital may occur, for example, when some or all of the money that you invested in the Fund is paid back to you but does not necessarily reflect the Fund's investment performance and should not be confused with "yield" or "income." Any return of capital would not be taxable to shareholders in the year it is paid. Rather, shareholders would be required to reduce the cost basis of their shares by the amount of the return of capital so that, when the shares are ultimately sold, they will have properly accounted for the return of capital.

Automatic Dividend Reinvestment Plan and Direct Deposit Service—The Fund has a dividend reinvestment plan available as a benefit to all registered shareholders and also offers direct deposit service through electronic funds transfer to all registered shareholders currently receiving a monthly dividend check. These services are offered through The Bank of New York. For more information and/or an authorization form on automatic dividend reinvestment or direct deposit, please contact The Bank of New York (1-877-381-2537 or <http://stock.bankofny.com>). Information on these services is also available on the Fund's web site at the address noted below.

Edgar Filing: DNP SELECT INCOME FUND INC - Form N-CSRS

- (1) Upon the adoption of FAS 150 in 2003, dividends on remarketed preferred stock are included in interest expense and are part of net investment income. Absent this change in accounting, per share net investment income and dividends on remarketed preferred stock would have been $0.28 and $0.05, respectively, for the six months ended June 30, 2007; $0.56 and $0.09, respectively, for the year ended December 31, 2006; $0.47 and $0.06, respectively, in 2005; $0.57 and $0.03, respectively, in 2004; $0.78 and $0.03, respectively, in 2003.
- (2) Beginning in 2004, the Fund reduced its use of short-term trading strategies designed to capture dividend income and made increased use of realized gains to supplement its investment income. Until the Fund utilizes all of its tax loss carryforwards, distributions to shareholders derived from such realized gains will be treated as ordinary income for tax purposes. In addition, the reduced use of short-term trading strategies reduced the Fund's portfolio turnover rate during the six months ended June 30, 2007 and during the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004.

The accompanying notes are an integral part of these financial statements.

DNP SELECT INCOME FUND INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(UNAUDITED)
June 30, 2007

(1) SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

DNP SELECT INCOME FUND INC. (the "Fund") was incorporated under the laws of the State of Maryland on November 26, 1986. The Fund commenced operations on January 21, 1987, as a closed-end diversified management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940. The primary investment objectives of the Fund are current income and long-term growth of income. Capital appreciation is a secondary objective.

The following are the significant accounting policies of the Fund:

(a) Equity securities traded on a national or foreign securities exchange or traded over-the-counter and quoted on the NASDAQ System are valued at the last reported sale price or, if there was no sale on the pricing date, then the security is valued at the mean of the bid and ask prices as obtained on that day from one or more dealers regularly making a market in that security. Fixed income securities are valued at the mean of bid and ask prices provided by an independent pricing service when such prices are believed to reflect the fair market value of such securities. Such bid and ask prices are determined taking into account securities prices, yields, maturities, call features, ratings, and institutional size trading in similar securities and developments related to specific securities. Any securities for which it is determined that market prices are unavailable or inappropriate are valued at a fair value using a procedure determined in good faith by the Board of Directors. Short-term investments having a maturity of 60 days or less are valued on an amortized cost basis, which approximates market value.

(b) Repurchase agreements are fully collateralized by U.S. Treasury, U.S. Government Agency and other investment grade securities. All collateral is held by an independent third-party custodian bank on behalf of the Fund until maturity of the repurchase agreement. Provisions of the agreement provide that the market value of the collateral plus accrued interest on the collateral is greater than or equal to the repurchase price plus accrued interest at all times. In the event of a default or bankruptcy by the other party to the agreements, the Fund maintains the right to sell the underlying collateral securities at market value; however realization and/or retention of the collateral may be subject to legal proceedings.

(c) It is the Fund's policy to comply with requirements of Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute substantially all of its taxable income to its shareholders. Therefore, no provision for Federal income or excise taxes is required. The Fund intends to utilize provisions of Federal income tax laws which allow a realized capital loss to be carried forward for eight years following the year of loss. At December 31, 2006, the Fund had tax capital loss carry forwards of $150,585,405 which will expire in 2011. These capital loss carryforwards will be reduced by future realized gains, whether or not distributed (see Note 4). At December 31, 2006, on a tax basis, the Fund had undistributed net investment income of $0 and based on a $3,576,595,839 tax cost of investments, gross unrealized appreciation of $610,438,317 and unrealized depreciation of $12,184,772. The difference between the book basis and tax basis of distributable earnings and cost of investments are primarily a result of tax deferral of wash sale losses, the accretion of market discount and amortization of premiums and alternative tax treatment of certain securities.

(UNAUDITED)

(d) Security transactions are recorded on the trade date. Realized gains or losses from sales of securities are determined on the specific identified cost basis. Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Interest income and expense are recognized on the accrual basis. Discounts and premiums on securities are amortized over the lives of the respective securities for financial reporting purposes. Discounts and premiums are not amortized for tax purposes.

(e) The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(f) The Fund adopted the provisions of Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Interpretation No. 48 (FIN 48) entitled "Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes" an interpretation of FASB Statement 109 on June 29, 2007. FIN 48 prescribes the minimum recognition threshold a tax position must meet in connection with accounting for uncertainties in income tax positions taken or expected to be taken by an entity including mutual funds before being measured and recognized in the financial statements.

Management of the Fund has concluded that there are no significant uncertain tax positions that would require recognition in the financial statements.

(g) In September 2006, Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 157, Fair Value Measurements (SFAS 157) was issued and is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. SFAS 157 defines fair value and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. The Fund will adopt SFAS 157 during the fiscal year ending December 31, 2008. Management is currently evaluating the impact the adoption of SFAS 157 will have on the Fund's financial statement disclosures.

(2) MANAGEMENT ARRANGEMENTS:

The Fund has engaged Duff & Phelps Investment Management Co. (the "Adviser") to provide professional investment management services for the Fund and has engaged J. J. B. Hilliard, W. L. Lyons, Inc. (the "Administrator") to provide administrative and management services for the Fund. The Adviser receives a quarterly fee at an annual rate of .60% of the average weekly net assets of the Fund up to $1.5 billion and .50% of average weekly net assets in excess thereof. The Administrator receives a quarterly fee at annual rates of .25% of average weekly net assets up to $100 million, .20% of average weekly net assets from $100 million to $1 billion, and .10% of average weekly net assets over $1 billion. For purposes of the foregoing calculations, "average weekly net assets" is defined as the sum of (i) the aggregate net asset value of the Fund's common stock (ii) the aggregate liquidation preference of the Fund's preferred stock and (iii) the aggregate proceeds to the Fund of any commercial paper issued by the Fund. Directors of the Fund not affiliated with the Adviser receive a fee of $30,000 per year plus $3,000 per board meeting, plus $2,000 per committee meeting attended. The chairmen of the contracts, executive and nominating committees receive an additional fee of $6,000 per year. The chairman of the audit committee receives an additional fee of $7,500 per year. The chairman of the board receives an additional fee of $50,000 per year. Total fees paid to directors for the six months ended June 30, 2007 were $229,375.

(3) INDEMNIFICATIONS:

Under the Fund's organizational documents, its Officers and Directors are indemnified against certain liabilities arising out of the performance of their duties to the Fund. In addition, in the normal course of business, the Fund enters into contracts that provide general indemnifications to other parties. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. However, the Fund has not had prior claims or losses pursuant to these contracts and expects the risk of loss to be remote.

(4) DIVIDENDS:

The Fund declares and pays dividends monthly. The amount and timing of distributions are determined in accordance with federal income tax regulations, which may differ from U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. Distributions from and in excess of net investment income on the Statements of Changes in Net Assets consists of ordinary income distributions for federal income tax purposes. Ordinary income distributions for federal income tax purposes include distributions from realized gains, until the Fund utilizes all of its tax loss carry forwards.

The tax character of all Fund distributions to common shareholders in 2006 was as follows:

	Ordinary Income
2006	$175,734,577

The tax character of all Fund distributions for the year ending December 31, 2007 will be determined at the end of the current fiscal year.

Due to inherent differences in the recognition and distribution of income and realized gains/losses under U.S. generally accepted accounting principles and for federal income tax purposes, permanent differences between book and tax basis reporting have been identified and appropriately reclassified on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. The reclassifications primarily relate to premium amortization and capital loss carryforwards utilized for current year distributions. These reclassifications have no impact on the net asset value of the Fund. At June 30, 2007 the following reclassifications were recorded:

	Accumulated net realized loss on investments	Distributions in excess of net investment income
Paid-in Surplus $(30,650,915)	$(7,184,390)	$37,835,305

(5) PREFERRED STOCK:

In 1988, the Fund issued 5,000 shares of Remarketed Preferred Stock (RP) in five series of 1,000 shares each at a public offering price of $100,000 per share. In 2006, the Fund issued 20,000 shares of Auction Preferred Stock (APS) in five series of 4,000 shares each at a public offering price of $25,000 per share. The underwriting discount and other offering costs incurred in connection with the issuance of the RP and APS were recorded as a reduction of paid-in surplus on common stock. Dividends on the RP and APS are cumulative at a rate which was initially established for each series at the time of its initial offering. Since the initial offering of each series of RP and APS, the dividend rate on each series of RP has been reset every 49 days by a remarketing process and the dividend rate on each series of APS has been reset every seven days by an auction process. Dividend rates ranged from 4.03% to 4.35% on the RP and from 4.20% to 5.31% on the APS during the six months ended June 30, 2007.

The RP and APS are redeemable at the option of the Fund on any dividend payment date at a redemption price equal to $100,000 per share for each share of RP and $25,000 per share for each share of APS, plus accumulated and unpaid dividends in each case. The Fund is required to maintain certain asset coverage with respect to the RP and APS, and the RP and APS are subject to mandatory redemption if that asset coverage is not maintained. Each series of RP is also subject to mandatory redemption on a date certain, therefore, the RP is classified as a liability on the statement of assets and liabilities and the related dividends as interest expense on the statement of operations. The mandatory redemption dates are as follows: Series A November 28, 2012; Series B November 18, 2015; Series C November 7, 2018; Series D December 22, 2021; and Series E December 11, 2024.

In general, the holders of the RP and of the Common Stock have equal voting rights of one vote per share and the holders of the APS are entitled to ¼ vote per share. Since each share of APS represents a liquidation preference of $25,000, and each share of RP represents a liquidation preference of $100,000 per share, the allocation of ¼ vote per share to the APS gives all holders of preferred stock equal voting power per dollar of liquidation preference. The holders of the RP and APS, voting together as a class, are entitled to elect two members of the Board of Directors, and separate class votes are required on certain matters that affect the respective interests of the RP and APS and the Common Stock.

(6) INVESTMENT TRANSACTIONS:

For the six months ended June 30, 2007 purchases and sales of investment securities (excluding short-term securities) were $638,146,381 and $676,495,524, respectively.

The Fund may lend portfolio securities to a broker/dealer. Loans are required to be secured at all times by collateral at least equal to the market value of securities loaned. The Fund receives a portion of the income earned on the securities held as collateral and continues to earn income on the loaned securities. Security loans are subject to the risk of failure by the borrower to return the loaned securities in which case the Fund could incur a loss. At June 30, 2007 the Fund had loaned portfolio securities with a market value of $881,723,495 and received $911,475,072 of cash collateral. This cash was invested in securities as shown in the Schedule of Investments.

Renewal of Investment Advisory Agreement
(UNAUDITED)

Under Section 15(c) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "1940 Act"), the terms of the Fund's investment advisory agreement must be reviewed and approved at least annually by the Board of Directors of the Fund (the "Board"), including a majority of the directors who are not "interested persons" of the Fund, as defined in the 1940 Act (the "Independent Directors"). Section 15(c) of the 1940 Act also requires the Fund's directors to request and evaluate, and the Fund's investment adviser to furnish, such information as may reasonably be necessary to evaluate the terms of the investment advisory agreement. The Board has a Contracts Committee, composed entirely of Independent Directors, which, assisted by the advice of independent legal counsel, conducts an annual review of the terms of the Fund's contractual arrangements, including the Fund's investment advisory agreement with Duff & Phelps Investment Management Co., the Fund's investment adviser (the "Adviser"). In the course of that review, the members of the Contracts Committee considered all of the information they deemed appropriate, including informational materials furnished by the Adviser in response to a request made by the Committee. In arriving at its recommendation that continuation of the investment advisory agreement was in the best interests of the Fund and its shareholders, the Contracts Committee took into account all factors that it deemed relevant, without identifying any single factor or group of factors as all-important or controlling. Among the factors considered by the Contracts Committee, and the conclusion reached with respect to each, were the following:

Nature, extent, and quality of services. The Committee considered the nature, extent and quality of the services provided to the Fund by the Adviser. In evaluating the quality of the Adviser's services, the Committee noted the various complexities involved in the operations of the Fund, such as the use of two types of leverage and the lending of portfolio securities, and concluded that the Adviser is consistently providing high-quality services to the Fund in an increasingly complex environment. The Committee also considered the length of service of the individual professional employees of the Adviser who provide services to the Fund and noted an almost total lack of turnover. In the Committee's view, the long-term service of capable and conscientious professionals provides a significant benefit to the Fund and its shareholders. The Committee also considered the Fund's investment performance as discussed below. In light of the foregoing, the Committee concluded that it was satisfied with the nature, extent and quality of the services provided to the Fund by the Adviser.

Investment performance of the Fund and the Adviser. The Committee reviewed the Fund's investment performance over time and compared that performance to various peer groups and indices. The Committee concluded that since current income is the Fund's primary objective, one of the best measures of the Adviser's performance is the Fund's consistent ability to pay a 6.5 cent per share monthly dividend. The Committee also considered the fact that since 1990, shares of the Fund have traded at a premium to net asset value 94.8% of the time even though shares of most closed-end funds trade at a discount to net asset value as further evidence of the Adviser's successful management of the Fund's investment portfolio.

Cost of services and profits realized. The Committee considered the reasonableness of the compensation paid to the Adviser, in both absolute and comparative terms, and also the profits realized by the Adviser and its affiliates from its relationship with the Fund. To facilitate this analysis, the Committee retained Lipper Analytical Services Inc., an independent provider of investment company data, to furnish a report comparing the Fund's advisory fee and other expenses to the similar expenses of other comparable funds. The Committee noted that many of the other funds in the comparison group were only recently established, and benefited from waivers of advisory fees by their sponsors. The Committee's view is that gross fees provide a more useful comparison because waivers tend to be associated with the launch of new funds and can be expected to be of short duration. The Fund's fees, while higher than the comparison group median when waivers were included, were lower than the median when waivers were excluded. The Committee also received comparative information from the Adviser with respect to the fees it charges to investment advisory clients other than the Fund. However, the Committee concluded that the services rendered to other institutional investor clients were not sufficiently comparable to the services rendered to the Fund for a direct comparison of advisory fees to be meaningful. The Committee also examined the profitability of the investment advisory agreement to the Adviser and determined that the profitability was within the range that courts had found reasonable. The Committee considered that the Adviser must be able to compensate its employees at competitive levels in order to attract and retain high-quality personnel to provide high-quality service to the Fund. The Committee concluded that the investment advisory agreement was the product of arm's length bargaining and that it was fair and reasonable to the Fund.

Economies of scale. The Committee considered whether the Fund has appropriately benefited from any economies of scale. The Committee noted the breakpoints whereby the advisory fee is reduced at higher asset levels and concluded that any economies of scale are being shared between Fund shareholders and the Adviser in an appropriate manner.

Indirect benefits. The Committee considered the indirect benefits the Adviser derives from its relationship with the Fund, including brokerage and soft dollar arrangements. In this regard, the Committee noted that the Fund does not utilize affiliates of the Adviser for brokerage purposes, that the Adviser had significantly reduced the Fund's brokerage cost in recent years and that the Adviser was in the process of phasing out the use of third-party soft dollar arrangements.

The Contracts Committee concluded, based upon its evaluation of all material factors, including the foregoing, and assisted by the advice of independent legal counsel, that the existing advisory fee structure is fair and reasonable, and recommended the continuation of the investment advisory agreement as being in the best interests of the Fund and its shareholders. On February 21, 2007, the Committee presented its recommendation, and the criteria on which it was based, to the full Board, whereupon the Board, including the Independent Directors, accepted the Committee's recommendation and approved the continuation of the Fund's investment advisory agreement for an additional one-year term ending April 30, 2008.
