Location of Annual Meeting

The annual meeting will be held at our corporate headquarters, which are located at 35 Vantage Point Drive, Rochester, New York 14624.

Principal Executive Offices

Our principal executive offices are located at 35 Vantage Point Drive, Rochester, New York 14624, and our telephone number is (585) 352-7777.

Mailing Date

These proxy solicitation materials are first being mailed by us on or about July 24, 2009 to all shareholders entitled to vote at the annual meeting.

Record Date and Outstanding Shares

Shareholders of record at the close of business on July 20, 2009, the record date for the annual meeting, are entitled to notice of and to vote at the annual meeting. We have one class of shares outstanding, designated common stock, $0.50 par value per share. As of the record date, 7,392,804 shares of our common stock were issued and outstanding.

Solicitation of Proxies

We are making this solicitation of proxies in order to provide all shareholders of record on July 20, 2009 with the opportunity to vote on all matters that properly come before the annual meeting. We will bear all costs related to this solicitation. In addition, we may reimburse brokerage firms and other persons representing beneficial owners of shares for their expenses in forwarding solicitation material to such beneficial owners. Proxies may also be solicited on our behalf, in person or by telephone or other telecommunication, by our directors, officers and employees, none of whom will receive additional compensation for doing so. In addition, we have retained Regan & Associates, Inc., a professional solicitation firm, which will assist us in delivering these proxy materials and soliciting proxies for a fee of approximately $6,000.

Revocability of Proxies

You may change your vote by revoking your proxy at any time before it is voted at the annual meeting in one of three ways:

submit a signed proxy card with a later date; notify our corporate secretary in writing before the annual meeting that you are revoking your proxy; or attend the annual meeting and vote in person.

Please note, however, that if your shares are held of record by a broker, bank or other nominee and you wish to vote at the annual meeting, you must bring to the annual meeting a letter from such broker, bank or other nominee confirming both (1) your beneficial ownership of such shares on July 20, 2009, the record date for the meeting; and (2) that such broker, bank or other nominee is not voting the shares at the meeting.

Table of Contents

Voting; Cumulative Voting

Generally, each shareholder is entitled to one vote for each share held as of the record date. With respect to the election of directors, shareholders can cumulate their votes in certain circumstances. Cumulative voting is a system of voting whereby each shareholder receives a number of votes equal to the number of shares that the shareholder holds as of the record date multiplied by the number of directors to be elected. Thus, for example, if you held 100 shares as of the record date, you would be entitled to cast 300 votes (100, the number of shares held, multiplied by three, the number of directors to be elected) for the election of directors. Cumulative voting can be used only for the election of directors and is not permitted for voting on any other proposal.

To employ cumulative voting at the annual meeting, you must notify our president, a vice president or our corporate secretary that you desire that cumulative voting be used at the annual meeting for the election of directors. Such notice must be in writing, and it must be given at least 48 hours before the time fixed for holding the annual meeting. In addition, a formal announcement must be made at the commencement of the annual meeting by our chairman, our corporate secretary or by or on behalf of you, stating that such notice has been given.

When proxies are properly dated, executed and returned, the shares represented by such proxies will be voted at the annual meeting in accordance with the instructions on such proxies. If no specific instructions are given, shares represented by such proxies will be voted:

FOR the election of the three director nominees; and

FOR the ratification of the selection of BDO Seidman, LLP as our independent registered public accounting firm for the fiscal year ending March 27, 2010.

Such shares may also be voted by the named proxies for such other business as may properly come before the annual meeting or at any adjournment or postponement thereof.

Quorum

A quorum is required for shareholders to conduct business at the annual meeting. Our code of regulations provides that a quorum will exist at the annual meeting if the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of our common stock are present, in person or by proxy, at the annual meeting.

Vote Required

The table below shows the vote required to approve each of the proposals described in this proxy statement, assuming the presence of a quorum, in person or by proxy, at the annual meeting.

Proposal Number	Proposal Description	Vote Required
One	Election of three directors	Plurality of the votes duly cast at the annual meeting
Two	Ratification of the selection of BDO Seidman, LLP as our independent registered public accounting firm for the fiscal year ending March 27, 2010	Majority of the votes duly cast at the annual meeting*

- * The selection of BDO Seidman, LLP is being presented to our shareholders for ratification. The audit committee will consider the outcome of this vote when selecting our independent registered public accounting firm for subsequent fiscal years.

Recommendations of our Board of Directors

Our board of directors recommends that shareholders vote their shares FOR the three director nominees and FOR the ratification of the selection of BDO Seidman, LLP as our independent registered public accounting firm for the fiscal year ending March 27, 2010.

Abstentions

Shares that abstain from voting on a proposal to be acted upon at the annual meeting are considered to be present for the purpose of determining whether a quorum exists and thus count towards satisfying the quorum requirement.

Table of Contents

Abstentions will have no effect on the election of directors, provided each nominee receives at least one vote; however, abstentions will have the effect of a vote against the proposal to ratify the selection of our independent registered public accounting firm because abstentions are deemed to be present and entitled to vote, but are not counted toward the affirmative vote required to approve such proposal.

Broker Non-Votes

Under the rules governing brokers who have record ownership of shares that they hold in street name for their clients (who are the beneficial owners of such shares) brokers have the discretion to vote such shares on routine matters, such as the election of directors and the ratification of the selection of independent registered public accounting firms, but not on matters that may be deemed to be non-routine. A broker non-vote occurs when shares held by a broker for a beneficial owner are not voted on a non-routine matter because the broker has not received voting instructions from the beneficial owner and lacks discretionary authority to vote the shares in the absence of such instructions.

Shares subject to broker non-votes are considered to be present for the purpose of determining whether a quorum exists and thus count towards satisfying the quorum requirement; however, broker non-votes will have no effect on a non-routine proposal that requires a certain percentage of the shares present and voting at the meeting (because they are excluded from the total number of votes cast) or will have the effect of a vote against a non-routine proposal that requires a certain percentage of the outstanding shares (because they are not counted toward the affirmative vote required to approve such proposal).

Because both of the proposals to be acted upon at the annual meeting are considered to be routine matters, there will be no broker non-votes.

We have enclosed our 2009 annual report to shareholders with this proxy statement. PROPOSAL ONE

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

Nominees Proposed for Election as Directors for a Term Expiring in 2012

Our code of regulations provides for a classified board of directors consisting of three classes of directors, each serving staggered three-year terms. As a result, only a portion of our board of directors is elected each year.

The number of directors is currently fixed at nine. At this year's annual meeting, shareholders are being asked to elect three directors to hold office for a term expiring in 2012 or until each of their successors is duly elected and qualified. Based on the recommendation of the corporate governance and nominating committee, we have nominated Francis R. Bradley, Alan H. Resnick and Carl E. Sassano for election as directors. All three nominees currently serve on our board, and we recommend their election at the annual meeting.

Unless authority to vote for one or more of the nominees is specifically withheld according to the instructions on your proxy card, proxies will be voted FOR the election of Messrs. Bradley, Resnick and Sassano. The votes represented by such proxies may be cumulated if proper notice is given (see Voting; Cumulative Voting on page 2).

We do not contemplate that any of the nominees will be unable to serve as a director, but if that contingency should occur prior to the voting of the proxies, the persons named in the enclosed proxy reserve the right to vote for such substitute nominee or nominees as they, in their discretion, determine. However, proxies in the enclosed form cannot be voted for a greater number of persons than the number of nominees named in this proxy statement.

John J. Zimmer, who held the titles of vice president of finance and chief financial officer during fiscal year 2009;

Rainer Stellrecht, who held the title of vice president of laboratory operations during fiscal year 2009.

Compensation Discussion and Analysis

The following discussion analyzes our compensation policies and decisions for our named executive officers. The focus of the discussion is on fiscal year 2009. However, when relevant, the discussion covers actions regarding compensation for our named executive officers that were taken after the conclusion of fiscal year 2009.

Compensation Philosophy and Objectives

Our compensation program is designed to attract, motivate and retain a highly-qualified and effective senior management team. We believe that the most effective executive compensation program is one that is designed to reward the achievement of specific annual, long-term and strategic company goals, which align the interests of each of our named executive officers with those of our shareholders. Executive compensation programs impact all employees by setting general levels of compensation and helping to create an environment of goals, rewards and expectations.

The objectives of our compensation program for our executive officers, including our named executive officers, are to motivate them to achieve our business objectives, to reward them for achievement, to foster teamwork, to support our core values and to contribute to our long-term success. Our compensation policies for our named executive officers are designed to link pay to both performance, taking into account the level of difficulty associated with each executive officer's responsibilities, and shareholder returns over the long term. We also seek to ensure that the compensation provided to our named executive officers remains competitive with the compensation paid to similarly-situated executives in comparable positions at publicly-traded companies of comparable size.

The key components of our compensation program have historically been base salary, performance incentive cash bonuses (the amount of which is dependent on both company and individual performance), stock options and restricted stock awards. We seek to ensure that total executive compensation corresponds to both corporate performance and the creation of shareholder value by placing our principal emphasis on variable, performance-based incentives through a combination of annual non-equity incentive awards (i.e., incentive cash bonuses) and long-term performance-based equity awards.

Role of the Compensation Committee

The compensation committee of the board of directors is responsible for establishing, implementing and monitoring adherence to our compensation philosophy and objectives. The compensation committee ensures that the total compensation paid to our named executive officers is fair, reasonable and competitive. Generally, the types of compensation and benefits provided to our named executive officers are similar to those provided to our other executive officers.

Table of Contents

Setting Executive Compensation, including the Role of Outside Consultants

Our compensation package for our named executive officers is designed to motivate them to achieve our business goals and to reward them for achieving such goals. Annually, the compensation committee reviews the total compensation payable to our named executive officers. The compensation committee reviews various reports and survey information as input to assess the cash compensation elements of annual base salary and annual non-equity incentive awards as well as long-term equity compensation. The compensation committee's review considers a number of factors, including:

- each named executive officer's role, responsibilities and performance during the year;
- the compensation paid to officers in comparable positions at publicly-traded companies of comparable size;
- overall corporate performance as measured against our annual corporate goals;
- the overall demands associated with the responsibilities of each named executive officer; and
- the contribution made by each named executive officer as a member of our senior management team.

The compensation committee assesses the market competitiveness of the compensation paid to our named executive officers by using a number of sources.

As outlined in the compensation committee charter, the committee has the authority to retain consultants and advisors, at our expense, to assist in the discharge of the committee's duties.

The compensation committee has engaged the services of First Niagara Benefits Consulting, a Rochester-based compensation consulting firm, to conduct biennial reviews of our total compensation program for our named executive officers. In preparation for these reviews, we define the roles and responsibilities of our named executive officers to ensure appropriate comparisons are made and accurate data is compiled. For example, our chief financial officer's responsibilities are broader than the typical responsibilities of chief financial officers at other companies of comparable size.

During fiscal year 2008, First Niagara Benefits Consulting performed an analysis based on this information and provided the compensation committee with relevant survey and market data and alternatives to consider when making compensation decisions for our named executive officers. First Niagara Benefits Consulting advised us on overall compensation strategy and incentive plan design. They did not provide advice on the compensation of individual named executive officers.

In making compensation decisions, it is difficult to obtain direct comparisons of our competitors as they are typically privately-held companies or divisions of larger public corporations. To ensure we are competitive, the compensation committee generally evaluates and compares named executive officer compensation to similarly-situated executives of publicly-traded companies of comparable size.

The compensation committee also compares each element of total compensation against a group of publicly-traded companies of comparable size located in upstate New York with which the compensation committee believes we may compete for talent. This comparison group is currently comprised of Graham Corporation, IEC Electronics Corp., Performance Technologies, Incorporated and Ultralife Corporation. In addition, First Niagara Benefits Consulting identified a specific group of public companies engaged in business operations similar to ours, which included Universal Power Group (UPG), TESCO Technologies (TESS), Infosonics (IFON) and Industrial Distribution Group (IDGR). The compensation committee uses the compensation data compiled from these companies in an effort to assess the results of our compensation objective to pay our named executive officers on a competitive basis with this group of comparable companies.

A significant percentage of total compensation for our named executive officers is placed at-risk through annual and long-term incentives. There are established guidelines and targets regarding the allocation between cash (short term) and equity (long-term) incentive compensation, which is contingent and variable, based on company results and individual performance. The compensation committee also reviews and considers the information provided by First Niagara Benefits Consulting as one of the factors in determining the level and mix of incentive compensation.

Role of Named Executive Officers in Compensation Decisions

The chairman of the board and the compensation committee annually evaluate the chief executive officer's performance and determine any changes to his overall compensation, including an increase, if appropriate, to his base salary.

On May 5, 2008, the compensation committee conducted the annual performance evaluation and determined the compensation for the chief executive officer for fiscal year 2009. Thereafter, the chairman of the board and the chair of the compensation committee delivered the performance evaluation to the chief executive officer. During the course of the committee's deliberations regarding the chief executive officer's compensation, the chief executive officer was not present.

The chief executive officer annually reviews the performance of each member of the senior management team (other than his own individual performance, which is evaluated by the chairman of the board and the compensation committee). The chief executive officer provides the compensation committee with a review of performance evaluations and compensation, including base salary increases, as appropriate, for each member of the senior management team.

Compensation Components

For fiscal year 2009, the principal components of compensation for our named executive officers were: (1) base salary; (2) performance-based non-equity incentive compensation; (3) long-term equity incentive compensation; (4) retirement benefits; and (5) perquisites and other personal benefits. Each of these components is described separately below.

We utilize these components because we believe they provide an appropriate balance between fixed compensation (salary) and at-risk compensation, which creates short-term and long-term performance incentives that serve an important retention and motivational function. By following this approach, we provide our named executive officers with a measure of security that they will receive a minimum expected level of compensation, while simultaneously motivating them to focus on business metrics that should result in a high level of short-term and long-term performance by the company. The mix of metrics used for our performance incentive plan and our 2003 Incentive Plan likewise provides a balance between short-term financial performance and long-term financial and stock performance. We believe that maintaining this compensation mix engenders a pay-for-performance mentality in our executives and is consistent with our stated compensation philosophy of providing compensation commensurate with performance.

Base Salary

We provide our named executive officers and our other executive officers with a base salary to compensate them, in part, for services rendered during the fiscal year. Base salaries for named executive officers are determined for each person based on qualifications, experience, position, scope of responsibilities and market and survey data. Performance-based merit salary adjustments are generally effective on the officer's anniversary date of hire or promotion. Individual performance during the prior year as well as survey data is considered when determining the base salary for our named executive officers. Base salaries are designed so that salary opportunities for a given position will generally be the average of the base salary of similar executives at comparably-sized companies. Variations from this standard can occur when circumstances warrant it, such as the experience level of a candidate, the particular circumstances within a market or level of responsibility within the executive's position. These objectives are intended to recognize the compensation committee's expectation that, over the long term, we will continue to increase shareholder value.

During its annual review of base salaries, the compensation committee primarily considers:

Market data provided by our outside consultant;

Comparisons to publicly-traded companies of comparable size, a group of publicly-traded companies of comparable size located in upstate New York, and a specific group of publicly-traded companies engaged in business operations similar to ours;

Internal reviews of compensation, both individually and relative to other officers; and Individual performance.

Table of Contents

We typically consider base salary levels annually as part of our performance review process as well as upon a promotion or other significant change in job responsibility. Annual performance-based merit increases, if any, to the base salaries of named executive officers (other than the chief executive officer) are determined by the chief executive officer and are generally consistent on a percentage basis with increases given to other non-officer employees.

On May 5, 2008, the compensation committee approved a $20,000 increase in Mr. Hadeed's salary to $285,000, which was ratified by the full board of directors.

Performance-Based Incentive Plans

The Transcat, Inc. 2003 Incentive Plan, as amended, which was approved by our shareholders, gives us the flexibility to design equity-based incentive compensation programs to promote achievement of corporate goals by key employees, encourage the growth of shareholder value and allow key employees to participate in our long-term growth and profitability.

We maintain a performance incentive plan, which is an annual cash incentive program designed to compensate key management members, as well as our named executive officers, based on their contributions to the achievement of specified corporate level fiscal year financial objectives as well as achievement of individual performance goals. Incentive cash bonuses are based on a pre-determined percentage of an eligible participant's base salary earned during the fiscal year. Payment of incentive cash bonuses is expressly linked to successful achievement of the specified pre-established corporate goals, which the board of directors annually approves, and, for all participants except the chief executive officer, individual performance goals, which are determined by the chief executive officer.

In addition to the corporate level and individual performance goals, the performance incentive plan also provides guidelines for the calculation of annual incentive-based compensation, subject to compensation committee oversight and modification. On May 5, 2008, the compensation committee approved the performance incentive plan for fiscal year 2009. At the meeting, the chief executive officer presented the compensation committee with a list of employees eligible to participate in the performance incentive plan for that year. On May 6, 2008, the board approved the fiscal year 2009 corporate objectives.

The performance incentive plan includes various incentive levels based on a participant's position within the company, accountability and impact on company operations, with target award opportunities that are established as a percentage of base salary earned during the fiscal year. For fiscal year 2009, the targets varied from 55% of base salary earned for the chief executive officer to 10% for certain participating key employees. As described below, the corporate level financial objectives are separated into five performance levels. Performance incentive awards can range from a minimum of 0% to a maximum of 150% of the targeted award depending on the level of performance achieved.

For fiscal year 2009, Mr. Hadeed's performance incentive cash bonus was based only on corporate financial results as measured against specific pre-determined corporate financial objectives. For performance incentive plan awards for fiscal year 2009, Mr. Hadeed was to be compensated on the following corporate financial objectives: operating income, product sales and service revenue, of which each component accounted for 50%, 15% and 35%, respectively. Because we did not achieve the minimum corporate financial objectives for fiscal year 2009, Mr. Hadeed did not receive a cash bonus under this plan. All other performance incentive plan participants were evaluated 50% on the achievement of corporate financial objectives and 50% on individual performance as measured against approved objectives. An individual must achieve at least the minimum performance level against individual performance objectives to be eligible for any portion of the performance incentive cash bonus.

Generally, the target level for earnings and revenue are set in alignment with our annual objectives with regard to our strategic plan and corporate performance. Payment of a portion of the awards under the performance incentive plan is based upon the achievement of such objectives for the current year. With respect to the corporate performance portion of the payment award, participants in the performance incentive plan receive:

No payment for the corporate financial objective portion of the performance incentive plan award unless we achieve the minimum corporate performance level.

A pro rata payment, less than 100% of the target award opportunity, for the corporate financial objective portion of the performance incentive plan award if we achieve or exceed the minimum corporate performance level but do not achieve the target corporate performance level.

Table of Contents

A payment of 100% of the target award opportunity for the corporate financial objective portion of the performance incentive plan award if we achieve the target corporate performance level.

A pro rata payment of at least 100% but less than 150% of the target award opportunity for the corporate financial objective portion of the performance incentive plan award if we exceed the target corporate performance level but do not achieve the maximum corporate performance level.

A payment of 150% of the target award opportunity for the corporate financial objective portion of the performance incentive plan award if we achieve or exceed the maximum corporate performance level.

Upon completion of the fiscal year, the chief executive officer and chief financial officer review our performance against each pre-established corporate financial objective of the performance incentive plan comparing the fiscal year results to the pre-determined minimum, target and maximum levels for each objective, and an overall percentage for the corporate financial objectives is calculated. The results of our financial performance are provided to and reviewed by the board.

With respect to the individual performance portion of the payment award, the chief executive officer evaluates each officer's accomplishments relative to their individual objectives, calculates a performance rating and provides summaries of performance and the award amount to the compensation committee based on the performance incentive plan previously approved by the committee.

The target non-equity incentive cash award amount as a percentage of base salary for Mr. Hadeed, Mr. Zimmer, Mr. Hennessy, Mr. Woychick and Mr. Stellrecht for fiscal year 2009 was 55%, 45%, 45%, 45% and 45% respectively.

In spite of the unprecedented economic downturn, we made no adjustment to our performance incentive plan and no performance incentive for fiscal year 2009 for corporate financial objectives was accrued or paid.

For fiscal year 2009, Mr. Hadeed received no payment, Mr. Zimmer received $24,190, Mr. Hennessy received $7,707, Mr. Woychick received $10,054 and Mr. Stellrecht received $8,773 as their respective payments under the performance incentive plan. Although these incentive awards were earned in fiscal year 2009, they were paid on May 21, 2009. The amounts earned are reflected in the Non-Equity Incentive Plan Compensation column of the 2009 Summary Compensation Table on page 21.

Long-Term Equity Incentive Compensation

Long-term incentive compensation has historically been equity-based and is designed to align the interests of our named executive officers and other key employees to focus on our long-term performance. Long-term incentive compensation also provides an opportunity for our named executive officers and certain designated key employees to increase their ownership in us through stock options and restricted stock awards, which align the interests of the recipients with the interests of our shareholders, as well as providing an employee-retention benefit.

The compensation committee annually evaluates the use of equity-based awards and intends to continue to use this type of award as an integral component of our overall executive compensation program. This evaluation also includes evaluating the mix and purpose of stock options, restricted stock and other equity-based awards. As with the other elements of total compensation, the long-term equity compensation levels of comparable companies are considered when determining appropriate long-term equity compensation levels for our named executive officers.

Past equity awards under the 2003 Incentive Plan have included stock options and restricted stock. Although we do not have an established policy regarding grants of stock option and restricted stock awards to named executive officers and other key employees, we have typically made such awards on an annual basis.

On May 5, 2008, the compensation committee approved the use of performance-based restricted stock awards in place of stock options as a primary component of executive compensation.

In lieu of stock options and time-based restricted stock, the compensation committee approved performance-based restricted stock awards to executive officers, including the named executive officers as follows: Mr. Hadeed 20,000 shares, Mr. Zimmer 6,000 shares, Mr. Hennessy 1,500, Mr. Woychick 5,250 shares and Mr. Stellrecht 4,406 shares. The performance-based restricted stock awards will vest after three years subject to our achieving specific cumulative fully-diluted earnings per share objectives, which we refer to as EPS, over the eligible three-year period ending in fiscal year 2011. At such time, the holders of restricted stock will receive the following percentage of their restricted stock award if we meet certain pre-determined EPS thresholds:

Maximum cumulative EPS 125%

Target cumulative EPS 100%

Midpoint cumulative EPS 75%

Minimum cumulative EPS 50%

Performance at the minimum, midpoint and target levels must be achieved to earn that award level. Awards will be pro-rated in the event performance is above the target level but less than the maximum. Failure to achieve the minimum earnings per share will result in no shares awarded. For fiscal year 2009, compensation expense related to these awards was based on the achievement of the minimum cumulative EPS due to the effect of the global recession on fiscal year 2009 financial results and expectations for the fiscal year ending March 27, 2010.

In addition to granting long-term equity incentive awards to our named executive officers, our chief executive officer may recommend to the compensation committee that an equity-based award be granted to newly-hired or promoted executives at any compensation committee meeting. At the compensation committee meeting held on May 5, 2008, Mr. Hennessy, a newly-hired executive, was granted a stock option to purchase 13,110 shares and Mr. Stellrecht was granted a stock option to purchase 4,370 shares in connection with his promotion to vice president of laboratory operations.

The outstanding equity awards held by our named executive officers are presented in the table entitled Outstanding Equity Awards at March 28, 2009 on page 23.

Retirement Benefits

We have established certain retirement benefits for our employees, including our named executive officers, which we and the compensation committee believe are consistent with our goals of enhancing long-term performance by our employees. The costs of retirement benefits described below for our named executive officers are included in the All Other Compensation column of the 2009 Summary Compensation Table on page 21.

The Long Term Savings and Deferred Profit Sharing Plan. The Long Term Savings and Deferred Profit Sharing Plan is a tax-qualified defined contribution plan pursuant to which all U.S.-based employees, including the named executive officers, are eligible to participate if they meet certain qualifications. All employees are able to contribute the lesser of 100% of their annual salary or the limit prescribed by the Internal Revenue Service to the plan on a before-tax basis. Through February 2009, we matched 50% of the first 6% of pay that employees contributed to the plan. We suspended the company match in March 2009. All participant contributions to the plan are fully-vested immediately, and all company matching contributions vest 33.3% per each year of qualifying service. The plan contains a discretionary deferred profit sharing component that was not utilized for fiscal year 2009.

Non-Qualified Deferred Compensation. We do not have any non-qualified defined contribution or other deferred compensation plans.

Post-Retirement Plans. All employees in the U.S. are eligible under certain conditions to participate in the post-retirement health benefit plan. In addition, officers and former officers, including our named executive officers, are eligible to participate in dental and long-term care plans.

The post-retirement health benefit plan for officers is a group health plan that provides benefits to eligible retired officers and their spouses. There are three kinds of benefits provided under the plan: (1) long-term care insurance coverage; (2) medical and dental insurance coverage; and (3) medical and dental premium reimbursement benefits. Officers who retire from active employment with us on or after December 23, 2006 at age 55 or older with five or more years of continuous service and who do not work in any full-time employment (30 hours or more per week) after retirement are eligible to participate in the plan. For purposes of eligibility to participate in the plan, an individual is considered an officer if the individual has the title of vice president or higher or is the corporate controller.

Eligibility for medical and dental coverage and for long-term care coverage is also subject to the eligibility provisions contained in the subscriber contracts and coverage certificates through which benefits are provided.

Table of Contents

Perquisites and Other Personal Benefits

We provide our named executive officers with perquisites and other personal benefits that both we and the compensation committee believe are reasonable and consistent with our overall compensation objectives and that better enable us to attract and retain superior employees for key positions. The compensation committee periodically reviews the levels of perquisites and other personal benefits provided to our named executive officers. The costs for the personal benefits described below for our named executive officers are included in the All Other Compensation column of the 2009 Summary Compensation Table on page 21.

Automobile Allowance. Currently, eight officers, including all of our named executive officers, are provided a monthly automobile allowance.

Long-Term Care Insurance Coverage. We provide long-term care insurance coverage for all officers who reach age 55 and have five years of qualifying service with us. An actively employed eligible officer may enroll the officer's spouse in long-term care insurance coverage on the date the officer is first eligible for coverage.

The long-term care insurance coverage benefit under this plan consists of our payment of the premium for the long-term care insurance coverage. Our payment for coverage continues through the end of the ten-year period measured from the commencement of long-term care insurance coverage. The long-term care insurance coverage is provided under individual insurance policies owned by the officer and eligible spouse. Eligibility for coverage under a policy is subject to the discretion of the insurance carrier through which coverage is provided and we do not guarantee that any officer or eligible spouse will qualify for coverage. Currently, Mr. Hadeed and Mr. Stellrecht are the only named executive officers who qualify to participate in this plan.

Club Membership Allowance. Membership dues were reimbursed to Mr. Hadeed on a 100% basis.

Subsequent Actions

On April 6, 2009, Mr. Hadeed advised the compensation committee that he would voluntarily forego any immediate increase to his base salary that the committee was considering. The compensation committee agreed and did not approve an increase to Mr. Hadeed's current base salary.

In addition, on April 6, 2009, the compensation committee approved performance-based restricted stock awards to senior executives, including the named executive officers as follows: Mr. Hadeed 33,506 shares, Mr. Zimmer 6,485 shares, Mr. Hennessy 4,798 shares, Mr. Woychick 7,566 shares and Mr. Stellrecht 7,144 shares. The performance-based restricted stock awards will vest after three years subject to our achieving specific cumulative fully-diluted earnings per share objectives over the eligible three-year period ending in fiscal year 2012 as described above under Long-Term Equity Incentive Compensation.

In granting the above awards, the compensation committee took into account two factors: (1) the impact of the global recession on our results and the effects of the award on each named executive officer's overall compensation for fiscal year 2009; and (2) each named executive officer's progress towards achieving the stock ownership objectives described below. Awards were increased based on the impact of the recession and certain awards were decreased based on the lack of progress towards achieving stock ownership objectives.

Stock Ownership Objectives

On May 5, 2008, the compensation committee approved stock ownership objectives for our executive officers and our board of directors. The compensation committee and the board of directors believe that stock ownership objectives are important to align the economic interests of our executive officers and our board with those of our shareholders. We expect our executive officers to achieve the specified ownership objective within five years of being named to an executive position and to make regular progress towards achieving the objective. The compensation committee has approved a potential reduction in cash incentive awards under our performance incentive plan, should the stock ownership progress towards the achievement of those objectives not be evident.

The stock ownership objective for our chief executive officer is an aggregate share value owned in an amount not less than 2.5 times his base salary and is generally 1.5 times the base salary for other senior executives.

The stock ownership objective for board members is 2.5 times their annual cash retainer.

Recoupment Policy for Incentive Compensation

Recently, our compensation committee recommended, and our board of directors approved and adopted, a recoupment policy covering incentive compensation payments to any of our employees, including our named executive officers. The recoupment policy provides that, in appropriate circumstances, the board of directors will require reimbursement of any annual or long-term incentive payment to an employee where all of the following occur: (1) the payment was based in whole or in part on achieving certain financial results that were subsequently the subject of a restatement of our consolidated financial statements; (2) the board of directors determines that the employee engaged in intentional misconduct or fraud that caused or substantially contributed to the need for the financial statement restatement; and (3) no payment or a lower payment would have been made to the employee based on the restated financial results.

Taxation and Accounting Compensation Consideration

The Impact of Deductibility of Compensation. Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, places a limit of $1,000,000 on the amount of compensation to certain officers that we may deduct as a business expense in any tax year unless, among other things, the compensation is performance-based and has been approved by shareholders. To qualify as performance-based compensation, the amount of compensation must depend on such officer's performance against pre-determined performance goals established by a committee that consists solely of at least two outside directors who have never been employed by us or our subsidiaries. All members of the compensation committee qualify as outside directors under this definition.

Awards of stock options and restricted stock granted under our 2003 Incentive Plan constitute qualified performance-based compensation eligible for this exception. The compensation committee considers the applicability of Section 162(m) to our ongoing compensation arrangements, but believes it is appropriate to retain the flexibility to authorize payments of compensation that may not qualify for deductibility under Section 162(m) if, in the compensation committee's judgment, it is in our best interest to do so.

Nonqualified Deferred Compensation. The American Jobs Creation Act of 2004 changed the tax rules applicable to nonqualified deferred compensation arrangements by adding Section 409A to the Internal Revenue Code. Since we do not typically provide deferred compensation to our executive officers, Section 409A does not impact the structure of our executive officer compensation programs.

Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation. The compensation committee also considers the accounting and cash flow implications of executive compensation. In our financial statements, we record salaries and performance-based compensation incentives as expenses in the amount paid, or to be paid, to the executive officers. Accounting regulations also require us to record an expense in our financial statements for equity awards, even though equity awards are not paid as cash to employees. The accounting expense of equity awards to employees is calculated in accordance with SFAS 123R. However, the compensation committee deems that the advantages of equity compensation, as discussed elsewhere in this Compensation Discussion and Analysis, counterbalances the non-cash accounting expense associated with such equity compensation.

Compensation Committee Report²

The compensation committee, which is comprised entirely of independent directors, has reviewed and discussed with management the Compensation Discussion and Analysis included in this proxy statement in accordance with Item 402(b) of Regulation S-K, as promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission. Our named executive officers did not exercise any stock options during fiscal year 2009. In addition, no shares of restricted stock held by our named executive officers vested during fiscal year 2009.

Change-in-Control Arrangements

We are a party to a change of control severance agreement, as amended, with Mr. Hadeed. This agreement is designed to promote Mr. Hadeed's continuity with us.

A change of control occurs under Mr. Hadeed's change of control severance agreement upon the occurrence of any of the following events: (i) any person or group acquires more than fifty percent of the total fair market value or total voting power of our outstanding common stock; (ii) any person or group acquires more than thirty-five percent of the total voting power of our outstanding common stock during a 12-month period; (iii) a majority of our directors are replaced during a 12-month period by directors that are not endorsed by the board of directors; or (iv) any person or group acquires forty percent or more of our total assets during a 12-month period.

Pursuant to this agreement, if a change in control of the company occurs and Mr. Hadeed's employment is terminated for any reason (other than voluntary resignation, death, disability, or retirement, or termination by the company for certain reasons) during the period beginning with the agreement for or announcement of a proposed change in control and ending 24 months following the change in control, we would be required to continue to pay him his full salary and bonus and continue his benefits for a period of 24 months following the date of termination of employment, and all stock grants, stock options and similar arrangements would immediately vest.

Assuming Mr. Hadeed's employment was terminated on a change in control as of March 28, 2009, he would be entitled to receive:

his annual base salary of $285,000 for 24 months;

his annual bonus at standard of $156,750 for 24 months;

the value of his annual benefits and allowances in the amount of $39,897 for 24 months;

the value of his unvested performance-based restricted stock award in the amount of $98,000, that being the target value based on the closing price of our common stock on March 28, 2009;

the income tax gross-up on his unvested performance-based restricted stock award in the amount of $68,600; and the value of all unvested options, which would vest immediately. At March 28, 2009, the exercise price of each of Mr. Hadeed's unvested options was less than the closing price of our common stock on March 28, 2009. Accordingly, there is no value attributed to these unvested options for purposes of this analysis.

Table of Contents

In the aggregate, Mr. Hadeed would receive $1,129,894 under his change of control severance agreement over a two year period assuming he was terminated on March 28, 2009.

Director CompensationCash Compensation

Each non-employee director receives an annual cash retainer of $10,000 per year, $1,500 for attendance at each board meeting, and $500 for attendance at each committee meeting on which that director serves. Equity Compensation

All warrants authorized for issuance under the Amended and Restated Directors' Warrant Plan have been granted. Outstanding warrants continue to vest and are exercisable in accordance with the terms of the plan.

In August 2006, our shareholders approved an amendment to the 2003 Incentive Plan permitting directors to participate in this plan.

Effective May 5, 2008, (1) each current non-employee director is paid an annual cash payment of $13,200 in lieu of an annual stock option award at the board meeting following our annual meeting of shareholders; (2) the chairman of the board receives an annual retainer of $30,000 and the lead director receives an annual retainer of $20,000. Once it is determined that our chairman is independent pursuant to the independence standards of the Nasdaq Stock Market, the chairman will receive an annual retainer of $40,000 and the lead director will receive an annual retainer of $10,000. In addition, newly-elected non-employee directors will be eligible to receive an initial five-year stock option grant of 10,000 shares of common stock pursuant to the 2003 Incentive Plan that will vest immediately; however, 2,000 shares will expire each year if unexercised.

For purposes of Section 16(a), our officers currently consist of Mr. Hadeed and Mr. Zimmer.

In making this statement, we have relied on the written representations of our directors and officers, and copies of the reports that they have filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED TRANSACTIONS

Policies and Procedures for Review, Approval or Ratification of Related Person Transactions

Our board of directors has adopted a written policy for transactions with related persons. Pursuant to the policy, the audit committee reviews and, when appropriate, approves any relationships or transactions in which the company and our directors and executive officers or their immediate family members are participants. Existing related party transactions, if any, are reviewed at least annually by the audit committee. Any director with an interest in a related party transaction is expected to recuse him or herself from any consideration of the matter.

During its review of such relationships and transactions, the audit committee considers (1) the nature of the related person's interest in the transaction; (2) the material terms of the transaction, including the amount and type of transaction; (3) the importance of the transaction to the related person and to the company; (4) whether the transaction would impair the judgment of a director or executive officer to act in the best interest of the company; and (5) any other matters the committee deems appropriate.

In addition, to the extent that the transaction involves an independent director, consideration is also given, as applicable, to the listing standards of the Nasdaq Stock Market and other relevant rules related to independence.
