How to Vote

IN PERSON You may vote your shares by attending the meeting and voting your shares in person. The meeting is being held at the offices of the company's subsidiary Mettler-Toledo Safeline, Inc., the address of which is indicated in the foregoing Notice to Shareholders.

BY PROXY You may vote your shares by proxy. If you vote your shares by proxy, you are legally designating another person to vote the stock you own in accordance with your desired vote. To vote by proxy, complete, sign and return the enclosed proxy card by mail to the address stated on your proxy card. You may also vote by telephone or over the Internet by following the instructions on your proxy card.

Even if you plan to attend the meeting, we encourage you to vote your shares by proxy. This will enable us to receive votes in advance of the meeting to ensure that a quorum (defined below) is present for the meeting.

Changing Your Vote

If you vote by proxy and subsequently decide to change your vote, you may revoke your proxy at any time before the polls close at the meeting. However, you may only do this by signing another proxy with a later date, completing a written notice of revocation and returning it to the address on the proxy card before the meeting; or voting in person at the meeting.

Votes Needed to Hold the Meeting

A quorum needs to be present at the meeting in order to hold the meeting. A quorum is a majority of the company's outstanding shares of common stock as of the record date. Your shares are counted as present at the meeting if you attend the meeting and vote in person; vote by telephone or Internet; or properly return a proxy card by mail. Abstentions and broker non-votes shall also be counted in determining whether a quorum is present.

ABOUT THE MEETING AND VOTING

Effect of Not Providing Voting Instructions

If your shares are held in the name of a brokerage firm and you have not provided your broker with voting instructions, the brokerage firm may vote your shares under certain circumstances. New York Stock Exchange rules allow brokers to vote your shares without your instructions only on routine matters, such as the election of directors and ratification of the appointment of auditors (broker non-votes). On non-routine matters, such as those that change the rights of your shares, the brokerage firm may not vote your shares unless they receive voting instructions from you.

If you hold your shares directly in your own name, they will not be voted if you do not provide a proxy or vote the shares yourself. Proxies that are signed and returned but do not contain instructions will be voted FOR the items of business described in the proxy.

How to Vote on Proposal 1

When voting on the election of director nominees, shareholders may vote in favor of all nominees, vote to withhold votes as to all nominees, or withhold votes as to specific nominees. Assuming a quorum is present, those directors receiving the affirmative vote of a plurality of the votes cast at the meeting and entitled to vote in the election will be elected as a director.

How to Vote on Proposal 2

A majority of shares present at the meeting and entitled to vote must vote FOR the appointment of PricewaterhouseCoopers as the company's independent registered public accounting firm for the proposal to be ratified. A properly executed proxy card marked abstain with respect to this proposal will not be voted. Accordingly, abstentions will have the effect of a vote against this proposal.

For purposes of determining whether the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes cast at the meeting and entitled to vote has been obtained, abstentions will be included in, and broker non-votes will be excluded from, the number of shares present and entitled to vote.

No Dissenters' Rights

In the event of certain corporate actions, such as a merger subject to shareholder approval, shareholders have the right to dissent from such action and obtain payment of the fair value of his/her shares. This is referred to as dissenters' rights. The proposals in this proxy statement do not give rise to dissenters' rights.

Receiving More than One Proxy Card

If you have received more than one proxy card, you have multiple accounts with brokers and/or our transfer agent. Please vote all of these shares. We recommend that you contact your broker and/or our transfer agent to consolidate as many accounts as possible under the same name and address. Our transfer agent is Mellon Investor Services and may be reached by phone at +1 (800) 526-0801 and on the web at www.melloninvestor.com.

Shareholder Questions

At the end of the meeting, shareholders appearing at the meeting may ask questions of general interest.

Vote Tabulation; Voting Results

The company appoints two persons to serve as independent inspectors of election, who also tabulate the voting results. The meeting's voting results will be disclosed in the company's second quarter Form 10-Q filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS GENERAL INFORMATION

Responsibility of the Board of Directors

It is the responsibility of the Board of Directors to establish and monitor the company's internal governance practices and promote the long-term success of the company. All actions of the company's Board of Directors, executive officers and employees are governed by the company's code of conduct. A copy of the code of conduct is available at www.mt.com on the Investor Relations/Corporate Governance web page.

Corporate Governance Guidelines

The board has established corporate governance guidelines that contribute to the overall operating framework of the board and the company. These guidelines cover topics including director qualifications and the director nomination process, the responsibilities of directors, including with respect to leadership development and management succession, meetings of non-management directors, and director compensation. The guidelines are available on the company's web site at www.mt.com on the Investor Relations/Corporate Governance web page.

Composition of the Board; Presiding Director

In accordance with the company's by-laws in effect as of this annual meeting of shareholders, the board will consist of eight directors. Each director holds a one-year term until the next annual meeting of shareholders. The board has established the position of Presiding Director, who oversees executive sessions of the non-management directors and all meetings of directors at which the Chairman is not present. The Presiding Director also coordinates with the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee relating to director nominations as described in the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee report below. The role of Presiding Director rotates every other year among each of the non-management directors. Mr. Thomas Salice will be assuming the role of Presiding Director as of the annual meeting.

The board has three committees:

- (i) the Audit Committee;
- (ii) the Compensation Committee; and
- (iii) the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee.

Minimum Qualifications for Directors

Members of the Board of Directors must demonstrate integrity, reliability, knowledge of corporate affairs, and an ability to work well together. Diversity in business background, area of expertise, gender and ethnicity must also be considered when selecting board nominees. Additional details are contained in the company's corporate governance guidelines available at www.mt.com on the Investor Relations/Corporate Governance web page.

Independence of the Board

The board uses a number of criteria in evaluating independence. The board solicits information from directors as to any relationship the director or his immediate family member has with the company that might affect the director's independence. The board also evaluates directors' independence pursuant to current NYSE rules. In addition, the board has adopted the following standard with respect to commercial business relationships, which all non-employee directors satisfy:

If METTLER TOLEDO buys from or sells to companies where directors serve as employees, or where their immediate family members serve as executive officers, the director will be considered independent if the annual purchases or sales are less than the greater of $1 million or 2% of the other company's consolidated gross revenues.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS GENERAL INFORMATION

In light of these criteria, the board has determined that there are no relationships that would impair independence and that all directors are independent under the rules of the New York Stock Exchange, except for the Chairman of the board, who is also the President and Chief Executive Officer.

Meeting of Non-Management Directors

The board schedules regular executive sessions for its non-management members, typically after each board meeting. The Presiding Director acts as chairman of these meetings.

Director Attendance at Board Meetings and the Annual Meeting

The board expects that its members will attend all meetings of the board. The Board of Directors met seven times in 2004. Each director attended at least 75% of the aggregate number of board meetings and committee meetings of which the director is a member, except Mr. Maerki, who had schedule conflicts with three board meetings, each discussed in advance with the company.

All directors except one attended the 2004 annual meeting of shareholders.

Director Compensation

Non-employee directors are compensated as follows:

	2004	2003
Annual fee(1)	$ 30,000	$ 24,000
Fee per board meeting attended	$ 1,000	$ 1,000
Fee per committee meeting attended(2)	$ 750	$ 500

(2) Each committee Chairman receives an additional annual fee of $3,000.

(3) The options granted in 2004 have an exercise price of $47.95 per share.

Committee Charters

Each committee of the Board of Directors has a written charter, setting forth the responsibilities of the committee in detail. The committee charters can be found on the company's web site at www.mt.com on the Investor Relations/ Corporate Governance web page.

AUDIT COMMITTEE REPORT

The Audit Committee assists the board in overseeing the accounting and financial reporting processes of the company. The Audit Committee operates pursuant to a written charter, a copy of which can be found on the company's website at www.mt.com. The committee is responsible for overseeing the accounting and financial reporting processes of the company and audits of the financial statements of the company. The Audit Committee does not, however, certify the company's financial statements. In discharging its oversight role, the Audit Committee discussed the audited financial statements contained in the 2004 annual report separately with the company's independent registered public accounting firm and the company's management and reviewed the company's internal controls and financial reporting.

The company's independent registered public accounting firm, PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC), is responsible for auditing the company's consolidated financial statements as well as the company's internal control over financial reporting. PwC issues opinions as to (1) whether the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the company and its subsidiaries in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles; (2) management's assessment that the company's maintained effective internal control over financial reporting; and (3) whether the company maintained, in all material respects, effective control over financial reporting.

Audited Financial Statements

In reviewing the company's audited financial statements with the independent registered public accounting firm, the Audit Committee discussed with PwC the matters required to be discussed by the Auditing Standards Board Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61, as amended, and other matters including, without limitation:

PwC's responsibilities under generally accepted auditing standards, including the nature and scope of their audits;

the written disclosures and confirming letter from PwC regarding their independence required under the Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1; significant accounting policies, such as revenue recognition, goodwill and other intangible assets, and income taxes;

management judgments and accounting estimates;

any material weaknesses and significant deficiencies in internal controls over financial reporting; and the extent of any significant accounting adjustments.

In reviewing the company's audited financial statements with the company's management, the Audit Committee discussed the same topics listed above with management, including, without limitation, the process used by management in formulating accounting estimates and the reasonableness of those estimates.

Based on the review and discussions referred to above, the Audit Committee recommended to the Board of Directors, and the board approved, that the audited financial statements be included in the company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2004.

Investigation

At the April 2004 Audit Committee meeting, management informed the committee that the company had received allegations from an employee. As a matter of good corporate governance, management recommended, and the Audit Committee agreed, to conduct an independent investigation of the allegations. The allegations covered a number of accounting, disclosure and non-financial statement-related items.

The Audit Committee retained independent outside counsel and forensic accountants to conduct an investigation of these matters, as well as certain other areas directly or indirectly related to the company's preparation of its financial statements.

AUDIT COMMITTEE REPORT

In August 2004, the company announced the completion of the financial aspects of the investigation and that the Audit Committee and Board of Directors concluded there would be no change to the company's financial statements. Based on the investigation, the board (based on the recommendation of the Audit Committee) made changes to improve the leadership and oversight of its financial operations and to reinforce the board's commitment to maintaining strong corporate governance. Mr. William Donnelly, who was Chief Financial Officer from 1997 to mid-2002 returned from an operating job inside the company to the position of CFO in August 2004. The company has also stated that it plans additional changes to enhance its financial organization, as well as the methods by which complaints may be reported.

All aspects of the Audit Committee's investigation are now complete.

Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm Fees

	Audit Fees	Audit-Related Fees	Tax Fees	All Other Fees
2004	$ 3,780,000	$ 734,000	$ 280,000	$ 2,000
2003	$ 1,253,000	$ 301,000	$ 411,000	$ 129,000

Audit Fees Represents fees for the audit of the annual financial statements and review of financial statements included in quarterly reports on Form 10-Q. Of the 2004 audit fees, approximately $1.9 million relates to the financial statement audit, and $1.8 million to the Sarbanes-Oxley §404 attestation opinion.

Audit-Related Fees Of the 2004 audit-related fees, $252,000 relates to supporting work in connection with the Sarbanes-Oxley §404 attestation opinion, $215,000 to the Audit Committee's investigation, and $159,000 to pension and benefit plan services ($117,000 in 2003).

Tax Fees Of the 2004 tax fees, $133,000 relates to an R&D tax credit study ($299,000 in 2003).

Other Fees No significant other services were performed by PwC for the company in 2004.

The Audit Committee has determined that PwC's provision of the services included in the categories Tax Fees and Other Fees is compatible with maintaining PwC's independence. All non-audit services were approved in advance by the Audit Committee pursuant to the procedures described below.

Audit Committee Approval of Non-Audit Services

The Audit Committee approves all non-audit services provided by PwC in accordance with the following:

If the project is in an approved category and less than $50,000 in fees, it is considered pre-approved by the Audit Committee. Specific projects in excess of this amount are presented to the full Audit Committee for their advance approval.

On a quarterly basis, PwC reports actual fees to the Audit Committee and any proposals for non-audit services in the upcoming quarter.

The independent registered public accounting firm must ensure that all audit and non-audit services provided to the company have been approved by the Audit Committee. Each year, the company's management and the independent registered public accounting firm confirm to the Audit Committee that every non-audit service being proposed is permissible and estimate a budget for the next year's non-audit services.

AUDIT COMMITTEE REPORT

Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm for 2005

The Audit Committee has recommended to the board that PwC be engaged as the company's independent registered public accounting firm for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2005.

Respectfully submitted by the members of the Audit Committee:

John D. Macomber, Chairman (through the annual meeting)
Philip Caldwell (retiring as of the annual meeting)
Francis A. Contino (incoming Chairman as of the annual meeting)
Thomas P. Salice

COMPENSATION COMMITTEE REPORT

The Compensation Committee assists the board in reviewing and monitoring the compensation of the company's executives and the Chief Executive Officer. The Compensation Committee operates pursuant to a written charter, a copy of which can be found on the company's website at www.mt.com. The committee is responsible for establishing compensation arrangements that allow the company to retain, attract and motivate quality employees.

Compensation Philosophy

In carrying out its responsibilities, the Compensation Committee works within the parameters of an established compensation philosophy. This philosophy is comprised of several core concepts:

One of the primary objectives of the company is to create shareholder value. Compensation should not only consider the performance of the individual but also the results achieved by the company regarding this objective.

The company believes in a strong pay/performance linkage and therefore wants to reward fulfillment and overachievement of targets.

With regard to overall compensation levels, the company wants to be competitive in the global personnel markets that are relevant to its activities.

The company wants to align the interests of its executives with those of its shareholders by linking the executives' long-term incentive compensation to the company's long-term performance and by encouraging its executives to purchase equity in the company.

Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code prohibits the company from deducting compensation in excess of $1 million paid to certain employees, generally its CEO and its four other most highly compensated executive officers, unless that compensation qualifies as performance-based compensation. We seek to balance the need to fairly compensate the company's executive officers with the company's ability to deduct compensation pursuant to Section 162(m).

As a consequence of this philosophy, the company's compensation program consists of three basic elements: base salary, annual cash bonus and long-term incentive compensation, which historically has been in the form of stock options. In evaluating the competitiveness of the company's salaries, the Compensation Committee periodically conducts both broad based surveys and surveys of the salaries of executives in the instruments and electronics industries, including companies in SIC Code 3826 (Laboratory Analytical Instruments). For Swiss-based executive officers, the company makes contributions to a company pension plan on behalf of the officer, which are disclosed in the table under "Executive Compensation" below in the column "All Other Compensation".

Base Salary

Within the parameters mentioned above, the company's goal is to pay average base salaries that are at or below the median. Base salaries for executive officers are generally lower than those at peer companies.

Annual Cash Bonus

The annual cash bonus is a key element of senior management's compensation. The company's bonus plan closely links executive pay with achieving yearly financial performance targets and above-target performance results in greater rewards. Over-achievement under the bonus plan can result in above-median total cash compensation even though base salary may be below the median. In addition to financial performance targets, between 10% and 20% of the bonus for a given participant is based upon individual performance objectives.

By the end of each year, the Compensation Committee establishes the financial performance targets on which each participant's incentive is based for the coming year. Performance targets are closely related to that fiscal year's budget and business plan and may be based upon any one or more of the following financial criteria:

earnings per share, cash flow, operating profit, inventory turnover, and/or sales of the entire company and/or individual operating units.

Long-Term Incentives

In May 2004, the company's shareholders approved the 2004 Equity Incentive Plan. At that time, the company's previous option plan was terminated. Key elements of the 2004 Plan are as follows:

The 2004 Plan permits the use of restricted stock and other equity-based incentives, which will reduce the company's reliance on stock options.

The 2004 Plan does not permit the company to reprice options or stock appreciation rights with a lower exercise price or grant discounted stock options without shareholder approval.

Restricted stock, stock units and share awards have a minimum vesting period of three years.

Performance-based awards will have minimum performance periods of at least one year.

Providing the company's management with an equity stake in the company by awarding long-term incentives under the 2004 Plan aligns management's long-term interests with the long-term interests of the company's shareholders. As such, when the company performs well, executive officers will receive greater incentive compensation. When the company does not perform well, the value of incentive awards is reduced.

Had compensation cost for the company's stock option plan been determined based upon the fair value of such awards at the grant date, consistent with the methods of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123,

Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, the company's net earnings in 2004 would have been reduced by 6.7% from $108.0 million to $100.7 million, and diluted earnings per common share would have been reduced by 6.3% from $2.37 to $2.22.

Compensation of the Chief Executive Officer

The Compensation Committee determines Mr. Spoerry's compensation on the same basis and using the same philosophy as for the other executive officers. As such, the goal of the Compensation Committee is to link a significant portion of Mr. Spoerry's compensation to company performance through the annual bonus performance targets. Mr. Spoerry's financial performance targets include earnings per share, net cash from operations, group sales, and inventory turnover.

Mr. Spoerry's annual base salary in 2004 was $774,395 (using an exchange rate SFr. 1.2438 to $1.00, the average exchange rate in 2004).

Based on the company's performance for fiscal year 2004 and his performance relating to his personal targets, Mr. Spoerry realized a bonus award equal to 113.7% of his base salary.

The Compensation Committee recommended granting options to Mr. Spoerry in 2004. As he has done in each of the last five years, Mr. Spoerry declined the proposed grant, requesting instead that the options be made available to other employees. Mr. Spoerry stated that he is fully engaged and committed to the company, and did not need additional options for this purpose.

Based on the quality of leadership of Mr. Spoerry and the overall performance of the company, the committee believes Mr. Spoerry's compensation is appropriate.

Respectfully submitted by the members of the Compensation Committee:

Thomas P. Salice, Chairman

John T. Dickson

NOMINATING AND CORPORATE GOVERNANCE COMMITTEE REPORT

The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee assists the board in identifying and recommending individuals to be nominated for election to the Board of Directors by shareholders. The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee operates pursuant to a written charter, a copy of which can be found on the company's website at www.mt.com. The committee is responsible for advising the board on the structure and membership of committees of the board as well as developing corporate governance guidelines applicable to the operation of the company. We describe below the process established by the committee to nominate directors to the Board of Directors as well as some of the corporate governance activities undertaken by the committee in 2004.

Director Nomination Process

When there is an actual or anticipated board vacancy, candidates for the Board of Directors may be recommended by (i) any member of the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee, (ii) other board members, (iii) third parties engaged for that purpose by the committee, and/or (iv) the company's shareholders. Shareholders interested in recommending a person to be a director of the company must make such recommendation in writing. The recommendation must be forwarded to the Secretary of the company at: Mettler-Toledo International Inc., Im Langacher, CH-8606 Greifensee, Switzerland. Shareholder recommendations must include the information and be sent within the time-frames specified in the company's by-laws, a copy of which can be obtained from the Secretary. Additional details regarding minimum qualifications for director nominees can be found in the corporate governance guidelines on the company's website at www.mt.com.

The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee follows the following process in nominating candidates for a position on the company's Board of Directors.

- (1) The committee begins by working with the Presiding Director and Chairman of the board to determine the specific qualifications, qualities and skills that are desired for potential candidates to fill the vacancy on the board. The committee makes this determination based upon the current composition of the board, the specific needs of the company and the Minimum Qualifications for Directors included in the corporate governance guidelines.
- (2) The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee, Presiding Director and Chairman of the board will then compile a list of all candidates recommended to fill the vacancy on the board. Candidates who meet the desired qualifications, qualities and skills will be required to complete a questionnaire that solicits information regarding the candidates' background, experience, independence and other information.
- (3) A member of the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee, the Presiding Director, the Chairman of the board and, in appropriate cases, other board members will interview those candidates who have completed the questionnaire.
- (4) Following these interviews, the full Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee considers the qualifications of each candidate to ensure that each candidate meets the specific qualities and skills that are desired. The committee will forward to the Board of Directors for consideration a list of candidates qualified for the position.

With regard to the current board nominees, the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee has evaluated the qualifications and contributions of each of the board nominees and has recommended to the board that the eight current directors be nominated for re-election.

NOMINATING AND CORPORATE GOVERNANCE COMMITTEE REPORT

Corporate Governance

In 2004, the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee led the company's corporate governance efforts by:

Planning for director succession, leading to the appointment of Mr. Contino as a new board member.

Reviewing the independence standards of the New York Stock Exchange and determining that all directors, excluding the Chairman of the board, are independent.

Evaluating the effectiveness of the board committees and charters and corporate governance guidelines in light of current Institutional Shareholder Services (ISS) standards of best practice and otherwise.

Determining, in light of the current SEC definition, that all Audit Committee members are financial experts .

	2002	192,957	39,942	9,584	8,442		73,773

(1) All amounts shown were paid in Swiss francs, except amounts paid to Mr. Donnelly from July 1, 2002 and U.S. tax equalization payments, which were paid in U.S. dollars. For purposes of this table, amounts paid in Swiss francs were converted to U.S. dollars at a rate of SFr. 1.2438 to $1.00, the average exchange rate in 2004.

- (2) Represents our contributions to the Mettler-Toledo Fonds, a Swiss pension plan. Each year we contribute to the plan 22% of each participating named executive officer's covered salary. The covered salary is equal to between 106% and 116% of base salary. Contributed amounts bear interest at a minimum rate of 2.50% per annum starting January 1, 2005. Retirement benefits are paid in the form of a lump-sum payment when the employee reaches the normal retirement age under the plan of 65. By way of example, although it is not possible to determine the exact amount payable, assuming a constant salary, a rate of return of 2.50% per annum, and contributions for an additional five years, the amount payable to Mr. Spoerry at that time would be SFr. 4,145,684.
- (3) The individuals did not receive any cash benefit in connection with these payments. Each individual is a resident of Switzerland and pays Swiss tax with respect to his income. The amounts shown represent U.S. tax payments made by the company on behalf of the named executive officer with respect to income that was already taxed in Switzerland. Because these payments were made in respect of double taxation costs, the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors does not consider these payments as part of the executives' overall annual compensation. Amounts shown under 2002 include payments covering income earned in the years 2001 and 2002 (1997 through 2002 in the case of Mr. Spoerry).
- (4) Represents a flat allowance for business expenses.
- (5) The Compensation Committee recommended granting options to Mr. Spoerry in each year shown. Mr. Spoerry declined the proposed grant, requesting instead that the options be made available to other employees.
- (6) Includes flat allowance for business expenses of $12,542 and a 20-year service award of $63,997.
- (7) Represents payments by the company to the named executive officer related to his then-expatriate status in Switzerland.
- (8) Represents the company matching payments under its 401(k) Plan and savings plan ($7,650 in 2002, the remainder being Mettler-Toledo Fonds contributions).
- (9) Includes flat allowance for business expenses of $7,035 and a one-time starting bonus of $80,399.

EXECUTIVE COMPENSATIONOption Grants in Last Fiscal Year*Individual Grants

Urs Widmer	25,000	4.2	$ 47.95	2015	345,300

(1) The options were granted on October 28, 2004 and have terms of ten years and six months. The options granted to Mr. Donnelly have a term of ten years. The options vest annually in five equal installments beginning on the first anniversary of the date of grant. In addition, the options will fully vest upon certain events, including the dissolution, liquidation and change of control of the company.

(2) The grant date present value of the options granted has been calculated using the Black-Scholes option pricing model, based upon the following assumptions: estimated time until exercise of five years; a risk-free interest rate of 3.33%; a volatility rate of 25%; and a zero dividend yield. The Black-Scholes option pricing model is only one method of valuing options. The actual value of the options may significantly differ, and depends on the excess of the market value of the common stock over the exercise price at the time of exercise.

(3) The Compensation Committee recommended granting options to Mr. Spoerry, who declined the proposed grant, requesting instead that the options be made available to other employees.
