Gravity REPORTS FIRST QUARTER 2005 RESULTS

Seoul, South Korea - May 13, 2005 - GRAVITY Co., Ltd. (Nasdaq: GRVY), a leading developer and distributor of online games, today reported financial results for the first quarter ended March 31, 2005.

Revenue for the first quarter of 2005 was US$15.8 million compared to US$16.4 million in the fourth quarter and US$16.1 million in the year ago period. This represents a decline of 3.8% and 1%, respectively.

Subscription revenue was up 14% in the first quarter of 2005 compared to the fourth quarter of 2004 due to the addition of revenue from Gravity's newly launched R.O.S.E Online and positive seasonal factors. However, lower revenue from animation business more than offset the rise in subscription revenue. On a year over year basis, subscription revenue declined 18% due to the continued decline of Ragnarok Online revenues in Korea. Royalties and license fees from overseas markets were $11.1 million in both the first quarter of 2005 and the fourth quarter of 2004.

Operating expenses were $7.9 million in the first quarter of 2005 compared to $7.0 million in the fourth quarter of 2004 representing an increase of 13% due to the amortization of Stock Option expenses and the payment of one-time bonus to employees. This compares to operating expenses of $5.0 million in the first quarter of 2004.

Pre-tax profit for the first quarter of 2005 was $7.2 million, compared to $9.7 million for the same period in 2004 and $8.5 million for the fourth quarter of 2004.

Net income for the first quarter of 2005 was $6.5 million, assuming the same corporate tax rate as in 2004, or $0.26 per diluted ADS compared to $8.0 million or $0.36 per diluted ADS and $8.4 million or $0.38 per diluted ADS in the fourth quarter and first quarter of 2004 respectively.

David Woong-Jin Yoon, Chief Executive Officer of Gravity, commented, "While we continued to execute on our business in the first quarter, actual quarter results came in lower than expected. The sluggish trends Gravity was impacted by appear to be in line with domestic market weakness reported recently by other companies in our industry. We remain confident, however, in our fundamental business and expect to regain traction as we move forward and build on the strength of our titles worldwide and growing global demand for online games."

"During the first quarter and into the second quarter there were several positive developments at Gravity including new local partners coming on board in a variety of new geographic markets. Ragnarok Online is now commercialized in 20 markets with additional 17 markets expected to be launched within this year. Importantly, we signed an agreement to acquire Trigger Soft, a game developer in Korea, which developed R.O.S.E. Online, the first online game published by Gravity. We felt it was critical to acquire Trigger Soft in order to constantly maintain and manage the brand value of Gravity by reinforcing R.O.S.E Online's services and updates."

"In order to significantly enhance the company value, Gravity will make the best use of its global platforms covering 37 countries and tens of million user accounts. Gravity will also leverage Ragnarok Online's dominant number one position in many of those countries. Presently, we believe that Gravity's strong market position and brand value in Japan should provide significant momentum for increasing our shareholder value. Our Japanese distributor GungHo Online Entertainment commands a $2.5 billion market capitalization primarily due to the dominant position and popularity of Ragnarok Online, whose sales account for 99.8% of GungHo's revenue. Furthermore, major MMORPGs, including RO2 and Requiem to be introduced next year, should significantly bolster our revenue and profit. We are also building a next-generation game portal, through which our casual games and other games will be published. The game portal should become a great contributor of revenue if expanded through our global platforms."

Kwan Shik Seo, Chief Financial Officer of Gravity, said, "We currently expect that several issues, however, including increasing competition in Korea, will continue to impact our results in the second quarter and for the full year 2005. As a result, we now expect our full-year 2005 revenue will be approximately US$75.1 million, with a pre-tax profit target of US$33.2 million reflecting both the lowered revenue expectations and Gravity's higher, post-IPO cost base. This would represent revenue growth of 17% over 2004, which will be primarily caused by R.O.S.E. Online royalty and license revenue in the second half of this year and stronger RO royalty and license revenue from newly commercialized markets. As for the second quarter of 2005, due to increasing domestic competition and pricing pressure, we expect revenue will decline by 3% compared to the first quarter, to approximately US$15.3 million, with pre-tax profit of approximately US$5.9 million, down approximately 19% compared to the first quarter 2005 or down 33% compared to the second quarter of 2004."
