Note 1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Organization and Basis of Presentation

Aircastle Limited (“Aircastle,” the “Company,” “we,” “us” or “our”) is a Bermuda exempted company that was incorporated on October 29, 2004 under the provisions of Section 14 of the Companies Act of 1981 of Bermuda. Aircastle’s business is investing in aviation assets, including acquiring, leasing, managing and selling high utility commercial jet aircraft.

Aircastle is a holding company that conducts its business through subsidiaries. Aircastle directly or indirectly owns all of the outstanding common shares of its subsidiaries. The consolidated financial statements presented are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (“US GAAP”). We operate in one segment.

The accompanying consolidated financial statements are unaudited and have been prepared pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) for interim financial reporting and, in our opinion, reflect all adjustments, including normal recurring items, which are necessary to present fairly the results for interim periods. Operating results for the periods presented are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the entire year. Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in consolidated financial statements prepared in accordance with US GAAP have been omitted in accordance with the rules and regulations of the SEC; however, we believe that the disclosures are adequate to make information presented not misleading. These financial statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and notes thereto included in the Company’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2014.

The Company’s management has reviewed and evaluated all events or transactions for potential recognition and/or disclosure since the balance sheet date of June 30, 2015 through the date on which the consolidated financial statements included in this Form 10-Q were issued.

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Aircastle and all of its subsidiaries. Aircastle consolidates seven Variable Interest Entities (“VIEs”) of which Aircastle is the primary beneficiary. All intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated in consolidation.

We consolidate VIEs in which we have determined that we are the primary beneficiary. We use judgment when deciding (a) whether an entity is subject to consolidation as a VIE, (b) who the variable interest holders are, (c) the potential expected losses and residual returns of the variable interest holders, and (d) which variable interest holder is the primary beneficiary. When determining which enterprise is the primary beneficiary, we consider (1) the entity’s purpose and design, (2) which variable interest holder has the power to direct the activities that most significantly impact the entity’s economic performance, and (3) the obligation to absorb losses of the entity or the right to receive benefits from the entity that could potentially be significant to the VIE. When certain events occur, we reconsider whether we are the primary beneficiary of VIEs. We do not reconsider whether we are a primary beneficiary solely because of operating losses incurred by an entity.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with US GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes. While Aircastle believes that the estimates and related assumptions used in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements are appropriate, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Proposed Accounting Pronouncements

In May 2013, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) issued re-exposure draft, “Leases” (the “Lease Re-ED”), which would replace the existing guidance in the Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) 840 (“ASC 840”), Leases. In March 2014, the FASB decided that the accounting for leases by lessors would basically remain unchanged from the concepts existing in current ASC 840 accounting. In addition, the FASB decided that a lessor should be precluded from recognizing selling profit and revenue at lease commencement for any sales-type or direct finance lease that does not transfer control of the underlying asset to the lessee. This requirement aligns the notion of what constitutes a sale in the lessor accounting guidance with that in the forthcoming revenue recognition standard, which evaluates whether a sale has occurred from the customer's perspective. We anticipate that the final standard may have an effective date no earlier than 2018. We believe that when and if the proposed guidance becomes effective, it will not have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

On May 28, 2014, the FASB and the International Accounting Standards Board (the "IASB") (collectively, the Boards), jointly issued ASU No. 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606). Lease contracts within the scope of ASC 840, Leases, are specifically excluded from ASU No. 2014-09. The standard's core principle is that a company will recognize revenue when it transfers promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which a company expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The standard is effective for public entities beginning after December 15, 2017. The standard allows for either "full retrospective" adoption, meaning the standard is applied to all of the periods presented, or "modified retrospective" adoption, meaning the standard is applied only to the most current period presented in the financial statements. We are evaluating the effect that ASU 2014-09 will have on our consolidated financial statements and related disclosures. The Company is currently evaluating the impacts of adoption and the implementation approach to be used.

On August 27, 2014, the FASB issued ASU No. 2014-15, Presentation of Financial Statements - Going Concern (Subtopic 205-40). The standard requires management of public companies to evaluate whether there is substantial doubt about the entity's ability to continue as a going concern and, if so, disclose that fact. Management should evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raises substantial doubt about the entity's ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are issued (or available to be issued, when applicable). The standard is effective for annual periods ending after December 15, 2016 and interim periods thereafter, and early adoption is permitted. We are currently evaluating the effect of the ASU on our consolidated financial statements and related disclosures.

On April 7, 2015, the FASB issued ASU 2015-03, Interest - Imputation of Interest (Subtopic 835-30) Simplifying the Presentation of Debt Issuance Costs, which requires debt issuance costs to be presented in the balance sheet as a direct deduction from the associated debt liability. The guidance in the new standard is limited to the presentation of debt issuance costs and does not affect the recognition and measurement of debt issuance costs. The standard is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2015, and interim periods within those fiscal years. Early adoption is permitted for financial statements that have not been previously issued. The new guidance will be applied on a retrospective basis. The adoption of this standard is not expected to have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements

Note 2. Fair Value Measurements

Fair value measurements and disclosures require the use of valuation techniques to measure fair value that maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize use of unobservable inputs. These inputs are prioritized as follows:

- Level 1: Observable inputs such as quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable, either directly or indirectly, such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities or market corroborated inputs.
- Level 3: Unobservable inputs for which there is little or no market data and which require us to develop our own assumptions about how market participants price the asset or liability.

The valuation techniques that may be used to measure fair value are as follows:

- The market approach uses prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions involving identical or comparable assets or liabilities.
- The income approach uses valuation techniques to convert future amounts to a single present amount based on current market expectation about those future amounts.

The cost approach is based on the amount that currently would be required to replace the service capacity of an asset (replacement cost).

The following tables set forth our financial assets and liabilities as of June 30, 2015 and December 31, 2014 that we measured at fair value on a recurring basis by level within the fair value hierarchy. Assets and liabilities measured at fair value are classified in their entirety based on the lowest level of input that is significant to their fair value measurement.

	Fair Value Measurements at June 30, 2015 Using Fair Value Hierarchy
	Fair Value as of June 30, 2015	Quoted Prices In Active Markets for Identical Assets (Level 1)	Significant Other Observable Inputs (Level 2)	Significant Unobservable Inputs (Level 3)	Valuation Technique
Assets:
Cash and cash equivalents	$242,941	$242,941	$—	$—	Market
Restricted cash and cash equivalents	161,854	161,854	—	—	Market
Total	$404,795	$404,795	$—	$—
Liabilities:
Derivative liabilities	$2,548	$—	$2,548	$—	Income
	Fair Value Measurements at December 31, 2014 Using Fair Value Hierarchy
	Fair Value as of December 31, 2014	Quoted Prices In Active Markets for Identical Assets (Level 1)	Significant Other Observable Inputs (Level 2)	Significant Unobservable Inputs (Level 3)	Valuation Technique
Assets:
Cash and cash equivalents	$169,656	$169,656	$—	$—	Market
Restricted cash and cash equivalents	98,884	98,884	—	—	Market
Total	$268,540	$268,540	$—	$—
Liabilities:
Derivative liabilities	$2,879	$—	$2,879	$—	Income

Our cash and cash equivalents, along with our restricted cash and cash equivalents balances, consist largely of money market securities that are considered to be highly liquid and easily tradable. These securities are valued using inputs observable in active markets for identical securities and are therefore classified as Level 1 within our fair value hierarchy. Our interest rate derivatives included in Level 2 consist of United States dollar-denominated interest rate derivatives, and their fair values are determined by applying standard modeling techniques under the income approach to relevant market interest rates (cash rates, futures rates, swap rates) in effect at the period close to determine appropriate reset and discount rates and incorporates an assessment of the risk of non-performance by the interest rate derivative counterparty in valuing derivative assets and an evaluation of the Company's credit risk in valuing derivative liabilities.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2015 and 2014, we had no transfers into or out of Level 3.

We measure the fair value of certain assets and liabilities on a non-recurring basis, when US GAAP requires the application of fair value, including events or changes in circumstances that indicate that the carrying amounts of assets may not be recoverable. Assets subject to these measurements include our investment in an unconsolidated joint venture and aircraft. We account for our investment in an unconsolidated joint venture under the equity method of accounting and record impairment when its fair value is less than its carrying value. We record aircraft at fair value when we determine the carrying value may not be recoverable. Fair value measurements for aircraft in impairment tests are based on an income approach which uses Level 3 inputs, which include the Company's assumptions and appraisal data as to future cash proceeds from leasing and selling aircraft.

Aircraft Valuation

During the six months ended June 30, 2015, we impaired two MD-11 freighter aircraft and one 737-800 aircraft and recorded impairment charges totaling $23,955 and recorded maintenance revenue of $18,234.

During the six months ended June 30, 2014, we impaired three 747-400 converted freighter aircraft one Boeing 737-400 aircraft and recorded impairment charges totaling $46,570. For these aircraft, we recorded maintenance revenue of $23,678 and other revenue of $91 and reversed lease incentives of $3,626.

Financial Instruments

Our financial instruments, other than cash, consist principally of cash equivalents, restricted cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable, amounts borrowed under financings and interest rate derivatives. The fair value of cash, cash equivalents, restricted cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable and accounts payable approximates the carrying value of these financial instruments because of their short-term nature.

The fair value of our Securitization No. 2, which contains a third party credit enhancement, is estimated using a discounted cash flow analysis, based on our current incremental borrowing rates of borrowing arrangements that do not contain third party credit enhancements. The fair values of our ECA term financings and bank financings are estimated using a discounted cash flow analysis, based on our current incremental borrowing rates for similar types of borrowing arrangements. The fair value of our Senior Notes is estimated using quoted market prices.

The carrying amounts and fair values of our financial instruments at June 30, 2015 and December 31, 2014 are as follows:

	June 30, 2015		December 31, 2014
	Carrying Amount of Asset (Liability)	Fair Value of Asset (Liability)	Carrying Amount of Asset (Liability)	Fair Value of Asset (Liability)

Note 6. Variable Interest Entities

Aircastle consolidates seven VIEs of which it is the primary beneficiary. The operating activities of these VIEs are limited to acquiring, owning, leasing, maintaining, operating and, under certain circumstances, selling the 12 aircraft discussed below.

Securitization

Aircastle is the primary beneficiary of ACS Ireland 2, as we have both the power to direct the activities of the VIE that most significantly impacts the economic performance of such VIE and we bear the significant risk of loss and participate in gains through Class E-1 Securities. Although Aircastle has not guaranteed the ACS Ireland 2 debt, Aircastle wholly owns ACS Bermuda 2, which has fully and unconditionally guaranteed the ACS Ireland 2 VIE obligations. The activity that most significantly impacts the economic performance is the leasing of aircraft. Aircastle Advisor (Ireland) Limited (Aircastle's wholly owned subsidiary) is the remarketing servicer and is responsible for the leasing of the aircraft. An Irish charitable trust owns 95% of the common shares of ACS Ireland 2. The Irish charitable trust's risk is limited to its annual dividend of $2. At June 30, 2015, the assets of ACS Ireland 2 include four aircraft transferred into the VIE at historical cost basis in connection with Securitization No. 2.

The assets of the ACS Ireland 2 as of June 30, 2015 are $170,278. The liabilities of the ACS Ireland 2, net of $40,351 Class E-1 Securities held by the Company, which is eliminated in consolidation, as of June 30, 2015 are $117,264.

ECA Term Financings

Aircastle, through various subsidiaries, each of which is owned by a charitable trust (such entities, collectively the "Air Knight VIEs"), has entered into eight different twelve-year term loans, which are supported by guarantees from Compagnie Francaise d' Assurance pour le Commerce Extérieur, ("COFACE"), the French government sponsored export credit agency ("ECA"). We refer to these COFACE-supported financings as "ECA Term Financings."

Aircastle is the primary beneficiary of the Air Knight VIEs, as we have the power to direct the activities of the VIEs that most significantly impact the economic performance of such VIEs and we bear the significant risk of loss and participate in gains through a finance lease. The activity that most significantly impacts the economic performance is the leasing of aircraft of which our wholly owned subsidiary is the servicer and is responsible for managing the relevant aircraft. There is a cross collateralization guarantee between the Air Knight VIEs. In addition, Aircastle guarantees the debt of the Air Knight VIEs.

The only assets that the Air Knight VIEs have on their books are financing leases that are eliminated in the consolidated financial statements and deferred financing costs. The related aircraft, with a net book value as of June 30, 2015 of $631,831 were included in our flight equipment held for lease. The consolidated debt outstanding of the Air Knight VIEs as of June 30, 2015 is $427,378.

In May 2015, we entered into two floating rate loans with The Bank of Tokyo-Mitsubishi UFJ, Ltd. and Development Bank of Japan Inc. These loans, which total $150,000, are secured by two A330-300 aircraft that we acquired in the fourth quarter of 2014.

Our Bank Financings contain, among other customary provisions, a $500,000 minimum net worth covenant and, in some cases, a cross-default to other financings with the same lender. In addition, Aircastle Limited has guaranteed the repayment of the Bank Financings. The borrowings under these financings at June 30, 2015 have a weighted average fixed rate of interest of 3.12%.

Note 9. Earnings Per Share

We include all common shares granted under our incentive compensation plan which remain unvested (“restricted common shares”) and contain non-forfeitable rights to dividends or dividend equivalents, whether paid or unpaid (“participating securities”), in the number of shares outstanding in our basic earnings per share calculations using the two-class method. All of our restricted common shares are currently participating securities.

Under the two-class method, earnings per common share is computed by dividing the sum of distributed earnings allocated to common shareholders and undistributed earnings allocated to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding for the period. In applying the two-class method, distributed and undistributed earnings are allocated to both common shares and restricted common shares based on the total weighted average shares outstanding during the period as follows:

Income taxes have been provided for based upon the tax laws and rates in countries in which our operations are conducted and income is earned. The Company received an assurance from the Bermuda Minister of Finance that it would be exempted from local income, withholding and capital gains taxes until March 2035. Consequently, the provision for income taxes relates to income earned by certain subsidiaries of the Company which are located in, or earn income in, jurisdictions that impose income taxes, primarily Ireland, Singapore and the United States.

All of our aircraft-owning subsidiaries that are recognized as corporations for U.S. tax purposes are non-U.S. corporations. These non-U.S. subsidiaries generally earn income from sources outside the United States and typically are not subject to U.S. federal, state or local income taxes unless they operate within the U.S., in which case they may be subject to federal, state and local income taxes. The aircraft owning subsidiaries resident in Ireland, Mauritius and Singapore are subject to tax in those respective jurisdictions.

We have a U.S. based subsidiary which provides management services to our non-U.S. subsidiaries and is subject to U.S. federal, state and local income taxes. We also have Ireland and Singapore based subsidiaries which provide management services to our non-U.S. subsidiaries and are subject to tax in those respective jurisdictions.

The consolidated income tax expense for the three and six months ended June 30, 2015 and 2014 was determined based upon estimates of the Company's consolidated effective income tax rates for the years ending December 31, 2015 and 2014, respectively.

The Company's effective tax rate for the three and six months ended June 30, 2015 was 10.0% and 10.2% respectively, compared to 71.5% and 48.4% for the three and six months ended June 30, 2014. Movements in the effective tax rates are generally caused by changes in the proportion of the Company's pre-tax earnings in taxable and non-tax jurisdictions. For the six months ended June 30, 2014, the interim period effective tax rate reflects the loss on extinguishment of debt in the amount of $36,570 related to Bermuda operations, which was treated as a discrete item with no tax benefit.

Differences between statutory income tax rates and our effective income tax rates applied to pre-tax income consisted of the following:

OVERVIEW

We acquire, lease, and sell commercial jet aircraft with large, global operator bases and long useful lives. As of June 30, 2015, our portfolio consisted of 161 aircraft leased to 52 lessees located in 32 countries. Our aircraft fleet is managed by an experienced team based in the United States, Ireland and Singapore. Typically, our aircraft are subject to net leases whereby the lessee is generally responsible for maintaining the aircraft and paying operational, maintenance and insurance costs, although in a majority of cases, we are obligated to pay a portion of specified maintenance or modification costs. As of June 30, 2015, the net book value of our flight equipment and finance lease aircraft was $6.08 billion compared to $5.69 billion at December 31, 2014. Our revenues and net income for the three and six months ended June 30, 2015 were $204.6 million and $41.8 million, and $398.9 million and $85.1 million, respectively.

Growth in commercial air traffic is broadly correlated with world economic activity and has been expanding at a rate one to two times the rate of global GDP growth. The expansion of air travel has driven a rise in the world aircraft fleet. There are currently more than 18,000 commercial mainline passenger and freighter aircraft in operation worldwide. This fleet is expected to continue expanding at an average annual rate of three to five percent per annum over the next 20 years. In addition, aircraft leasing companies own an increasing share of the world's commercial jet aircraft and now account for approximately 40% of this fleet.

Notwithstanding the sector's long-term growth, the aviation markets have been, and are expected to remain, subject to economic variability on a global basis and regional basis, as well as to changes in macroeconomic relations such as fuel price levels and foreign exchange rates. The industry is susceptible to external shocks, such as regional conflicts, terrorist events, and to disruptions caused by severe weather events and other natural phenomena. Mitigating these risks is the portability of the assets, allowing aircraft to be redeployed in locations where demand is higher.

For the first six months of 2015, air traffic data showed a continued strong trend in passenger market growth, whereas air cargo traffic data showed slow improvement as world trade and economic growth increased. According to the International Air Transport Association, global passenger traffic increased by 6.3% and air cargo traffic increased by 3.5% during the first six months of 2015 as compared to the same period in 2014. Passenger traffic growth was strong, driven by rising economic growth and business confidence. The air cargo market, which is more sensitive than the passenger sector to economic conditions, appears to have stabilized but continues to be hampered by overcapacity. There are significant regional variations in demand for both passenger and air cargo. Emerging market economies have been experiencing significant increases in air traffic, driven by rising levels of per capita air travel. Air traffic in other regions is being driven by long-term structural changes in global traffic flows, particularly the growth in long-haul "hub and spoke" traffic flowing through the Persian Gulf. In contrast, mature markets, such as North America and Western Europe, are likely to grow more slowly in tandem with their economies. Finally, airlines operating in areas with political instability or where there are geopolitical conflicts, such as Russia, have seen more modest growth and their outlook is more uncertain. Periodic health concerns may also play a role in the near-term development of air traffic in certain regions. However, in aggregate, we believe that passenger and cargo traffic will likely increase over time, and as a result, we expect demand for modern, fuel efficient aircraft will continue to remain strong over the long-term.

Capital availability for aircraft has varied over time, and we consider this variability to be a basic characteristic of our business. However, both debt and equity markets have improved globally over the past several years with the recovery from the global financial crisis. Strong U.S. debt capital markets conditions benefited certain borrowers by permitting access to financing at historic lows while higher fees have driven down export credit agency ("ECA") demand.

Commercial bank debt continues to play a critical role in the air finance market with traditional aviation lenders, along with a number of new entrants, providing capacity to top tier airlines and lessors, although we believe regulatory pressures have limited the extent of the bank market's recovery. We believe these market forces should generate attractive new investment and trading opportunities upon which we are well placed to capitalize given our access to the U.S. capital markets. Over the longer term, our strategy is to achieve an investment grade credit rating, which we believe will reduce our borrowing costs and enable more reliable access to debt capital throughout the business cycle. We believe our business approach is differentiated from those of other large leasing companies. Our investment strategy is to seek out the best risk-adjusted return opportunities across the commercial jet market, so our acquisition targets vary with market opportunities. We focus on discerning investment value in situations that are often more bespoke and generally less competitive.

We plan to grow our business and profits over the long-term while maintaining a countercyclical orientation, a bias towards limiting long-dated capital commitments and a conservative and flexible capital structure. Our business strategy entails the following elements:

Pursuing a disciplined and differentiated investment strategy. In our view, aircraft values change in different ways over time. As a consequence, we carefully evaluate investments across different aircraft models, ages, lessees and acquisition sources and re-evaluate these choices periodically as market conditions and relative investment values change. We believe the financing flexibility offered through unsecured debt and our team's experience with a wide range of asset types enables our value oriented strategy and provides us with a competitive advantage for many investment opportunities.

Originating investments from many different sources across the globe. Our strategy is to seek out worthwhile investments broadly leveraging our team's wide range of contacts around the world. We utilize a multi-channel approach to sourcing acquisitions and have purchased aircraft from a large number of airlines, lessors, original equipment manufacturers, lenders and other aircraft owners. Since our formation in 2004, we have acquired aircraft from more than 70 different sellers.

Leveraging our strategic relationships. We intend to capture the benefits provided through the extensive global contacts and relationships maintained by Marubeni Corporation, which is both our biggest shareholder and one of the largest Japanese trading companies. Our joint venture with Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan provides us with an opportunity to pursue larger transactions and to manage portfolio concentrations.

Maintaining efficient access to capital from a wide range of sources while targeting an investment grade credit rating. We believe the aircraft investment market is subject to forces related to the business cycle and our strategy is to increase our purchase activity when prices are low and to emphasize asset sales when competition for assets is high.

In order to implement this approach, we believe maintaining access to a wide variety of financing sources over the business cycle is very important. Our strategy is to improve our corporate credit ratings to an investment grade level by maintaining strong portfolio and capital structure metrics while achieving a critical size through accretive growth. We believe improving our credit rating will not only reduce our borrowing costs but also facilitate more reliable access to debt capital throughout the business cycle.

Selling assets when attractive opportunities arise and for portfolio management purposes. We pursue asset sales, as opportunities arise over the course of the business cycle, with the aim of realizing profits and reinvesting proceeds where more accretive investments are available. We also use asset sales for portfolio management purposes, such as reducing lessee specific concentrations and lowering residual value exposures to certain aircraft types, and as an exit from investments when a sale would provide the greatest expected cash flow for us.

Capturing the value of our efficient operating platform and strong operating track record. We believe our team's capabilities in the global aircraft leasing market place us in a favorable position to source and manage new income-generating activities. We intend to continue to focus our efforts in areas where we believe we have competitive advantages, including new direct investments as well as ventures with strategic business partners.

Intending to pay quarterly dividends to our shareholders based on the Company's sustainable earnings levels. However our ability to pay quarterly dividends will depend upon many factors, including those as described in Item 1A. "Risk Factors," and elsewhere in our 2014 Annual Report on Form 10-K. On May 4, 2015, our board of directors declared a regular quarterly dividend of $0.22 per common share, or an aggregate of $17.9 million for the three months ended June 30, 2015, which was paid on June 15, 2015 to holders of record on May 29, 2015. These dividends may not be indicative of the amount of any future dividends.

Revenues

Our revenues are comprised primarily of operating lease rentals on flight equipment held for lease, revenue from retained maintenance payments related to lease expirations, lease termination payments, lease incentive amortization and interest recognized from finance leases.

Typically, our aircraft are subject to net operating leases whereby the lessee pays lease rentals and is generally responsible for maintaining the aircraft and paying operational, maintenance and insurance costs arising during the term of the lease. Our aircraft lease agreements generally provide for the periodic payment of a fixed amount of rent over the life of the lease and the amount of the contracted rent will depend upon the type, age, specification and condition of the aircraft and market conditions at the time the lease is committed. The amount of rent we receive will depend on a number of factors, including the credit-worthiness of our lessees and the occurrence of delinquencies, restructurings and defaults. Our lease rental revenues are also affected by the extent to which aircraft are off-lease and our ability to remarket aircraft that are nearing the end of their leases in order to minimize their off-lease time. Our success in re-leasing aircraft is affected by market conditions relating to our aircraft and by general industry conditions and trends. An increase in the percentage of off-lease aircraft or a reduction in lease rates upon remarketing would negatively impact our revenues.

Under an operating lease, the lessee will be responsible for performing maintenance on the relevant aircraft and will typically be required to make payments to us for heavy maintenance, overhaul or replacement of certain high-value components of the aircraft. These maintenance payments are based on hours or cycles of utilization or on calendar time, depending upon the component, and would be made either monthly in arrears or at the end of the lease term. For maintenance payments made monthly in arrears during a lease term, we will typically be required to reimburse all or a portion of these payments to the lessee upon their completion of the relevant heavy maintenance, overhaul or parts replacement. We record maintenance payments paid by the lessee during a lease as accrued maintenance liabilities in recognition of our obligation in the lease to refund such payments, and therefore we do not recognize maintenance revenue during the lease. Maintenance revenue recognition would occur at the end of a lease, when we are able to determine the amount, if any, by which reserve payments received exceed the amount we are required under the lease to reimburse to the lessee for heavy maintenance, overhaul or parts replacement. The amount of maintenance revenue we recognize in any reporting period is inherently volatile and is dependent upon a number of factors, including the timing of lease expiries, including scheduled and unscheduled expiries, the timing of maintenance events and the utilization of the aircraft by the lessee.

Many of our leases contain provisions which may require us to pay a portion of the lessee's costs for heavy maintenance, overhaul or replacement of certain high-value components. We account for these expected payments as lease incentives, which are amortized as a reduction of revenue over the life of the lease. We estimate the amount of our portion for such costs, typically for the first major maintenance event for the airframe, engines, landing gear and auxiliary power units, expected to be paid to the lessee based on assumed utilization of the related aircraft by the lessee, the anticipated cost of the maintenance event and the estimated amounts the lessee is responsible to pay. This estimated lease incentive is not recognized as a lease incentive liability at the inception of the lease. We recognize the lease incentive as a reduction of lease revenue on a straight-line basis over the life of the lease, with the offset being recorded as a lease incentive liability which is included in maintenance payments on the balance sheet. The payment to the lessee for the lease incentive liability is first recorded against the lease incentive liability and any excess above the lease incentive liability is recorded as a prepaid lease incentive asset which is included in other assets on the balance sheet and continues to amortize over the remaining life of the lease.

2015 Lease Expirations and Lease Placements

At June 30, 2015, we had three aircraft which are scheduled to come off lease during 2015 for which we have not yet secured lease or sales commitments. These aircraft account for 0.3% of our net book value of flight equipment (including flight equipment held for lease and net investment in finance leases). We currently expect to sell these aircraft.

2016-2019 Lease Expirations and Lease Placements

Taking into account lease and sale commitments, we currently have the following number of aircraft with lease expirations scheduled in the period 2016-2019 representing the percentage of our net book value of flight equipment (including flight equipment held for lease and net investment in finance leases) at June 30, 2015 specified below:

- 2016: 12 aircraft, representing 5%;
- 2017: 19 aircraft, representing 13%;
- 2018: 13 aircraft, representing 10%; and
- 2019: 14 aircraft, representing 10%.

Operating Expenses

Operating expenses are comprised of depreciation of flight equipment held for lease, interest expense, selling, general and administrative expenses, aircraft impairment charges and maintenance and other costs. Because our operating lease terms generally require the lessee to pay for operating, maintenance and insurance costs, our portion of maintenance and

other costs relating to aircraft reflected in our statement of income primarily relates to expenses for unscheduled lease terminations.

Income Tax Provision

We obtained an assurance from the Minister of Finance of Bermuda under the Exempted Undertakings Tax Protection Act 1966 that, in the event that any legislation is enacted in Bermuda imposing any tax computed on profits or income, or computed on any capital asset, gain or appreciation or any tax in the nature of estate duty or inheritance tax, such tax shall not, until March 2035, be applicable to us or to any of our operations or to our shares, debentures or other obligations except insofar as such tax applies to persons ordinarily resident in Bermuda or to any taxes payable by us in respect of real property owned or leased by us in Bermuda. Consequently, the provision for income taxes recorded relates to income earned by certain subsidiaries of the Company which are located in, or earn income in, jurisdictions that impose income taxes, primarily Ireland, Singapore and the United States.

All of our aircraft-owning subsidiaries that are recognized as corporations for U.S. tax purposes are non-U.S. corporations. These non-U.S. subsidiaries generally earn income from sources outside the United States and typically are not subject to U.S. federal, state or local income taxes unless they operate within the U.S., in which case they may be subject to federal, state and local income taxes. The aircraft owning subsidiaries resident in Ireland, Mauritius and Singapore are subject to tax in those respective jurisdictions.

We have a U.S. based subsidiary which provides management services to our non-U.S. subsidiaries and is subject to U.S. federal, state and local income taxes. We also have Ireland and Singapore based subsidiaries which provide management services to our non-U.S. subsidiaries and are subject to tax in those respective jurisdictions.

Acquisitions and Sales

During the first six months of 2015, we acquired 25 aircraft for $806.7 million. At June 30, 2015, we had commitments to acquire 34 additional aircraft for $1.27 billion, including the acquisition of 25 new E-Jet E-2 aircraft from Embraer. As of July 31, 2015, after taking into account three aircraft acquisitions during July 2015, we have commitments to acquire 31 aircraft for $1.18 billion.

During the first six months of 2015, we sold 12 aircraft and other flight equipment for $231.8 million which resulted in a net gain of $27.4 million.

Finance

We intend to fund new investments through cash on hand, cash flows from operations and through medium-to longer-term financings on a secured or unsecured basis. We may repay all or a portion of such borrowings from time to time with the net proceeds from subsequent long-term debt financings, additional equity offerings, cash generated from operations and asset sales. Therefore, our ability to execute our business strategy, particularly the acquisition of additional commercial jet aircraft or other aviation assets, depends to a significant degree on our ability to obtain additional debt and equity capital on terms we deem attractive.

Revenues

Total revenues decreased by 9.5%, or $21.6 million, for the three months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2014, primarily as a result of the following:

Lease rental revenue. The increase in lease rental revenue of $1.6 million for the three months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to the same period in 2014 was primarily the result of $37.7 million of revenue reflecting the impact of 24 aircraft purchased in 2015 and 25 aircraft purchased in 2014.

This increase was offset partially by a decrease in lease rental revenue of:

$26.6 million due to aircraft sales; and

$9.4 million due to lease extensions, amendments, transitions and other changes.

Finance lease revenue. For the three months ended June 30, 2015, $1.9 million of interest income from finance leases was recognized as compared to $3.9 million of interest income from finance leases recorded for the same period in 2014 due to the sale of six aircraft during the second quarter of 2014 and two aircraft during the second quarter of 2015.

Amortization of net lease premiums, discounts and lease incentives.

	Three Months Ended June 30,
	2015	2014
	(Dollars in thousands)
Amortization of lease incentives	$(4,066)	$(382)
Amortization of lease premiums	(2,771)	(2,183)
Amortization of lease discounts	2,486	2,979
Amortization of net lease premiums, discounts and lease incentives	$(4,351)	$414

As more fully described above under “Revenues,” lease incentives represent our estimated portion of the lessee’s cost for heavy maintenance, overhaul or replacement of certain high-value components which is amortized over the life of the related lease. As we enter into new leases, the amortization of lease incentives generally increases and, conversely, if a related lease terminates, the related unused lease incentive liability will reduce the amortization of lease incentives. The increase in amortization of lease incentives of $3.7 million for the three months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to the same period in 2014 was primarily attributable to the reversal of $3.6 million of lease incentive amortization in the three months ended June 30, 2014 related to a change in the forecasted maintenance events for one lease.

Maintenance revenue.

Scheduled lease terminations. For the three months ended June 30, 2015, we recorded $21.3 million of maintenance revenue from five scheduled lease terminations. For the same period in 2014, we recorded $30.2 million of maintenance revenue from eight scheduled lease terminations and $6.0 million from a change in estimate for an aircraft returned in December 2014.

Operating expenses

Total operating expenses decreased slightly for the three months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to the three months ended June 30, 2014, primarily as a result of the following:

Depreciation expense increased by 2.1%, or $1.6 million for the three months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to the same period in 2014. The net increase is primarily the result of:

- a $12.5 million increase in depreciation for aircraft acquired;
- a $2.0 million increase due to changes in asset lives and residual values; and
- a $1.1 million increase due to capitalized aircraft improvements being fully depreciated.

This increase was offset by a $14.0 million decrease in depreciation for aircraft sales.

Interest, net consisted of the following:

	Three Months Ended June 30,
	2015	2014
	(Dollars in thousands)
Interest on borrowings, net settlements on interest rate derivatives, and other liabilities	$51,413	$48,172
Hedge ineffectiveness losses	294	6
Amortization of interest rate derivatives related to deferred losses	6,110	8,854
Amortization of deferred financing fees and notes discount	3,766	3,567
Interest Expense	61,583	60,599
Less interest income	(32)	(105)
Interest, net	$61,551	$60,494

Interest, net increased by $1.1 million, or 1.8%, over the three months ended June 30, 2014. The net increase is primarily a result of higher interest on borrowings of $3.2 million, driven primarily by a higher weighted average debt outstanding for the three months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to a year ago.

This increase was partially offset by a $2.7 million decrease in amortization of interest rate derivatives related to deferred losses.

Selling, general and administrative expenses for the three months ended June 30, 2015 increased slightly over the same period in 2014. Non-cash share based expense was $1.4 million and $1.2 million for the three months ended June 30, 2015 and 2014, respectively.

Impairment of Aircraft. See “Summary of Impairments and Recoverability Assessment” below for a detailed discussion of impairment charges related to certain aircraft.

Maintenance and other costs were $3.7 million for the three months ended June 30, 2015, an increase of $1.0 million over the same period in 2014. The net increase is primarily related to higher maintenance costs of $1.3 million related to unscheduled terminations and $0.2 million related to scheduled terminations and transitions, partially offset by a decrease in other costs of $0.6 million for the three months ended June 30, 2015 versus the same period in 2014.

Other income (expense)

Total other income increased by $57.1 million for the three months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to total other (expense) in the same period in 2014, primarily as a result of the following:

Gain on sale of flight equipment consisted of eight “opportunistic” aircraft sales and two “exit” sales in the three months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to eleven and six, respectively, in the same period in 2014.

Three Months Ended June 30, 2015	Number of Aircraft	Maintenance Revenue (Dollars in thousands)	Gain on Sale of Flight Equipment	Impairment	Pre-tax Impact
Opportunistic Sales	8	$—	$19,572	$—	$19,572
Exit Sales	2	7,034	1,530	(5,328)	3,236
Total Sales	10	7,034	21,102	(5,328)	22,808
Freighter Exits ⁽¹⁾	2	11,200	—	(17,852)	(6,652)
Total	12	$18,234	$21,102	$(23,180)	$16,156

(1) We intend to sell these freighter aircraft in the third quarter of 2015.

Loss on extinguishment of debt. We did not record any loss on extinguishment of debt in the three months ended June 30, 2015. During the second quarter of 2014, we repaid our 9.75% Senior Notes due 2018 and recorded $36.6 million in debt extinguishment costs.

Income tax provision

Our provision for income taxes for the three months ended June 30, 2015 and 2014 was $4.5 million and $6.6 million, respectively. Income taxes have been provided based on the applicable tax laws and rates of those countries in which operations are conducted and income is earned, primarily Ireland, Singapore and the United States. The decrease in our income tax provision of approximately $2.1 million for the three months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to the same period in 2014 was primarily attributable to changes in operating income subject to tax in Ireland, Singapore, the United States and other jurisdictions and the treatment of the $36.6 million loss on extinguishment of debt relating to Bermuda operations as a discrete item with no tax benefit in 2014.

All of our aircraft-owning subsidiaries that are recognized as corporations for U.S. tax purposes are non-U.S. corporations. These non-U.S. subsidiaries generally earn income from sources outside the United States and typically are not subject to U.S. federal, state or local income taxes unless they operate within the U.S., in which case they may be subject to federal, state and local income taxes. The aircraft owning subsidiaries resident in Ireland, Mauritius and Singapore are subject to tax in those respective jurisdictions.

We have a U.S. based subsidiary which provides management services to our non-U.S. subsidiaries and is subject to U.S. federal, state and local income taxes. We also have Ireland and Singapore based subsidiaries which provide management services to our non-U.S. subsidiaries and are subject to tax in those respective jurisdictions.

The Company received an assurance from the Bermuda Minister of Finance that it would be exempted from local income, withholding and capital gains taxes until March 2035. Consequently, the provision for income taxes recorded relates to income earned by certain subsidiaries of the Company which are located in, or earn income in, jurisdictions that impose income taxes, primarily the United States and Ireland.

Other comprehensive income for the three months ended June 30, 2015 consisted primarily of:

$41.8 million of net income; and

$6.1 million of amortization of deferred net losses reclassified into earnings related to terminated interest rate derivatives.

Other comprehensive income for the three months ended June 30, 2014 consisted primarily of:

$3.1 million of net income; and

Revenues

Total revenues decreased by 1.0%, or $3.9 million, for the six months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2014, primarily as a result of the following:

Lease rental revenue. The increase in lease rental revenue of $4.4 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to the same period in 2014 was primarily the result of $78.3 million of revenue reflecting the 24 aircraft purchased in 2015 and 31 aircraft purchased in 2014.

This increase was offset partially by a decrease in lease rental revenue of:

$53.1 million due to aircraft sales; and

$19.2 million due to lease extensions, amendments and transitions and $1.6 million from other changes.

Finance lease revenue. For the six months ended June 30, 2015, $3.5 million of interest income from finance leases was recognized as compared to $7.9 million of interest income from finance leases recorded for the same period in 2014 as a result of the sale of two aircraft during the second quarter of 2015 and six aircraft during the second quarter of 2014.

Amortization of net lease premiums, discounts and lease incentives.

	Six Months Ended June 30,
	2015	2014
	(Dollars in thousands)
Amortization of lease incentives	$(7,751)	$(6,154)
Amortization of lease premiums	(5,366)	(4,513)
Amortization of lease discounts	4,942	4,490
Amortization of net lease premiums, discounts and lease incentives	$(8,175)	$(6,177)

As more fully described above under “Revenues,” lease incentives represent our estimated portion of the lessee’s cost for heavy maintenance, overhaul or replacement of certain high-value components which is amortized over the life of the related lease. As we enter into new leases, the amortization of lease incentives generally increases and, conversely, if a related lease terminates, the related unused lease incentive liability will reduce the amortization of lease incentives. The increase in amortization of lease incentives of $1.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to the same period in 2014 was primarily attributable to $1.5 million of lease incentive amortization related to aircraft that have been transitioned during the six months ended June 30, 2015, partially offset by the reversal of $3.8 million of lease incentive amortization in the six months ended June 30, 2014 related to a change in the forecasted maintenance events for one lease.

As more fully described above under “Revenues,” lease premiums represent the present value of the amount above current lease rates for acquired aircraft with attached leases. The increase in amortization of lease premiums of $0.9 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to the same period in 2014 resulted primarily from four aircraft purchased during the first six months of 2015 and ten aircraft purchased during the fourth quarter of 2014.

Maintenance revenue.

Scheduled lease terminations. For the six months ended June 30, 2015, we recorded $39.4 million of maintenance revenue from 12 scheduled lease terminations. For the same period in 2014, we recorded $55.4 million of maintenance revenue from 12 scheduled lease terminations offset by $16.4 million of contra maintenance revenue related to three scheduled lease terminations.

Other revenue. For the six months ended June 30, 2015, other revenue was $2.1 million, which primarily represents additional fees earned from two lessees in connection with the early termination of six leases. For the six months ended 2014, other revenue was $4.3 million which primarily represents additional fees earned from one lessee in connection with the early termination of one lease.

Operating expenses

Total operating expenses decreased by 5.2%, or $18.5 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2014, primarily as a result of the following:

Depreciation expense increased by 1.7%, or $2.5 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to the same period in 2014. The net increase is primarily the result of:

- a $25.9 million increase in depreciation for aircraft acquired; and
- a $4.3 million increase due to changes in asset lives and residual values; and
- a $1.5 million increase due to capitalized aircraft improvements being fully depreciated.

This increase was offset by a $29.2 million decrease in depreciation for aircraft sales.

Interest, net consisted of the following:

	Six Months Ended June 30,
	2015	2014
	(Dollars in thousands)
Interest on borrowings, net settlements on interest rate derivatives, and other liabilities	$101,648	$99,857

Amortization of deferred financing fees and notes discount	7,465	6,987
Interest Expense	123,750	125,084
Less interest income	(68)	(327)
Interest, net	$123,682	$124,757

Interest, net decreased by $1.1 million, or 0.9%, over the six months ended June 30, 2014. The net decrease is primarily a result of a $3.8 million decrease in amortization of interest rate derivatives related to deferred losses.

This decrease was primarily offset by higher interest on borrowings of $1.8 million, driven primarily by a higher weighted average debt outstanding for the six months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to a year ago.

Selling, general and administrative expenses for the six months ended June 30, 2015 increased slightly over the same period in 2014. Non-cash share based expense was $2.6 million and $2.2 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015 and 2014, respectively.

Impairment of Aircraft. See “Summary of Impairments and Recoverability Assessment” below for a detailed discussion of impairment charges related to certain aircraft.

Maintenance and other costs were $6.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015, an increase of $2.1 million over the same period in 2014. The net increase is primarily related to higher maintenance costs of $2.7 million related to unscheduled terminations and $0.4 million related to scheduled terminations and transitions, partially offset by a decrease in other costs of $1.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015 versus the same period in 2014.

Other income (expense)

Total other income increased $61.4 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to total other (expense) in the same period in 2014, primarily as a result of the following:

Gain on sale of flight equipment consisted of ten “opportunistic” aircraft sales and two “exit” sales in the six months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to eleven and twelve, respectively, in the same period in 2014.

Six Months Ended June 30, 2015	Number	Gain (Loss)

(1) We intend to sell these freighter aircraft in the third quarter of 2015.

Loss on extinguishment of debt. We did not record any loss on extinguishment of debt in the six months ended June 30, 2015. During the second quarter of 2014, we repaid our 9.75% Senior Notes due 2018 and recorded $36.6 million in debt extinguishment costs.

Other decreased by $0.5 million related to the mark to market value of an undesignated interest rate derivative.

Income tax provision

Our provision for income taxes for the six months ended June 30, 2015 and 2014 was $9.3 million and $7.4 million, respectively. Income taxes have been provided based on the applicable tax laws and rates of those countries in which operations are conducted and income is earned, primarily Ireland, Singapore and the United States. The increase in our income tax provision of approximately $1.9 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to the same period in 2014 was primarily attributable to changes in operating income subject to tax in Ireland, Singapore, the United States and other jurisdictions and the treatment of the $36.6 million loss on extinguishment of debt relating to Bermuda operations as a discrete item with no tax benefit in 2014.

All of our aircraft-owning subsidiaries that are recognized as corporations for U.S. tax purposes are non-U.S. corporations. These non-U.S. subsidiaries generally earn income from sources outside the United States and typically are not subject to U.S. federal, state or local income taxes unless they operate within the U.S., in which case they may be subject to federal, state and local income taxes. The aircraft owning subsidiaries resident in Ireland, Mauritius and Singapore are subject to tax in those respective jurisdictions.

We have a U.S. based subsidiary which provides management services to our non-U.S. subsidiaries and is subject to U.S. federal, state and local income taxes. We also have Ireland and Singapore based subsidiaries which provide management services to our non-U.S. subsidiaries and are subject to tax in those respective jurisdictions.

The Company received an assurance from the Bermuda Minister of Finance that it would be exempted from local income, withholding and capital gains taxes until March 2035. Consequently, the provision for income taxes recorded relates to income earned by certain subsidiaries of the Company which are located in, or earn income in, jurisdictions that impose income taxes, primarily the United States and Ireland.

Summary of Impairments and Recoverability Assessment

During the six months ended June 30, 2015, we impaired two MD-11 freighter aircraft and one 737-800 aircraft and recorded impairment charges totaling $24.0 million and recorded maintenance revenue of $18.2 million.

During the six months ended June 30, 2014, we impaired three 747-400 converted freighter aircraft one Boeing 737-400 aircraft and recorded impairment charges totaling $46.6 million. For these aircraft, we recorded maintenance revenue of $23.7 million and other revenue of $0.1 million and reversed lease incentives of $3.6 million.

Aircraft Monitoring List

At June 30, 2015, we considered four freighter aircraft with a total net book value of $106.7 million to be more susceptible to failing our recoverability assessments due to their sensitivity to changes in contractual cash flows, future cash flow estimates and aircraft residual or scrap values.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Our primary sources of liquidity currently are cash on hand, cash generated by our aircraft leasing operations, proceeds from aircraft sales, loans secured by additional aircraft we acquire and unsecured borrowings. Our business is very capital intensive, requiring significant investments in order to expand our fleet during periods of growth and investments in maintenance and improvements on our existing portfolio. Our business also generates a significant amount of cash from operations, primarily from lease rentals and maintenance collections. These sources have historically provided liquidity for these investments and for other uses, including the payment of dividends to our shareholders. In the past, we have also met our liquidity and capital resource needs by utilizing several sources, including:

- lines of credit, our securitization, term financings, secured borrowings supported by export credit agencies for new aircraft acquisitions and bank financings secured by aircraft purchases;

- unsecured indebtedness, including an unsecured revolving credit facility and unsecured senior notes;

- sales of common shares; and

- asset sales.

Going forward, we expect to continue to seek liquidity from these sources and other sources, subject to pricing and conditions that we consider satisfactory.

During the first six months of 2015, we met our liquidity and capital resource needs with $249.6 million of cash from operations, $500.0 million in gross proceeds from the issuance of our Senior Notes due 2022, $150.0 million of bank financings secured by two aircraft, $150.0 million draw down on our Revolving Credit Facility and $231.8 million of cash from aircraft sales.

In addition, we increased our revolving credit facility from $450.0 million to $600.0 million and we extended the maturity of our Revolving Credit Facility to May 13, 2019.

As of June 30, 2015, the weighted average maturity of our secured and unsecured debt financings was 4.3 years and we are in compliance with all applicable covenants.

We believe that cash on hand, payments received from lessees and other funds generated from operations, secured borrowings for aircraft, borrowings under our Revolving Credit Facility and other borrowings and proceeds from future aircraft sales will be sufficient to satisfy our liquidity and capital resource needs over the next twelve months. Our liquidity and capital resource needs include payments due under our aircraft purchase obligations, required principal and interest payments under our long-term debt facilities, expected capital expenditures, lessee maintenance payment reimbursements and lease incentive payments over the next twelve months.

Cash Flows

	Six Months Ended June 30,
	2015	2014
	(Dollars in thousands)
Net cash flow provided by operating activities	$249,606	$214,005
Net cash flow used in investing activities	(664,649)	(607,767)
Net cash flow provided by (used in) financing activities	488,328	(73,319)

Operating Activities:

Cash flow from operations was $249.6 million and $214.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015 and June 30, 2014, respectively. The increase in cash flow from operations of approximately $35.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015 versus the same period in 2014 was primarily a result of:

- a $22.7 million decrease in cash paid for interest;
- a $20.2 million increase in maintenance revenues; and
- a $5.3 million increase in cash from lease rentals.

These inflows were offset by:

- a $4.4 million decrease in cash interest from finance leases;
- a $2.1 million increase in cash paid for maintenance; and
- a $0.3 million increase in cash paid for taxes.

Investing Activities:

Cash used in investing activities was $664.6 million and $607.8 million, respectively, for the six months ended June 30, 2015 and June 30, 2014, respectively. The increase in cash flow used in investing activities of $56.9 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015 versus the same period in 2014, was primarily a result of:

- a $68.8 million increase in restricted cash and cash equivalents related to the sale of flight equipment;
- a $14.2 million decrease in proceeds from the sale of flight equipment; and
- an $11.2 million decrease in net investments in finance leases.

These outflows were offset by a $37.3 million decrease in the acquisition and improvement of flight equipment.

Financing Activities:

Cash provided by financing activities was $488.3 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015 as compared to $73.3 million of cash used in financing activities for the six months ended June 30, 2014. The net increase in cash flow provided by financing activities of $561.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015 versus the same period in 2014 was a result of:

- a $507.5 million decrease in securitization and term debt financing repayments, primarily due to the repayment of $219.9 million for Securitization No. 1 and $450.0 million of our 9.75% Senior Notes due 2018 in 2014;
- a $33.4 million decrease in payments for terminated cash flow hedges in 2014;
- a $32.8 million decrease in debt extinguishment costs in 2014;
- an $8.6 million increase in maintenance payments received net of maintenance payments returned; and
- a $4.2 million decrease in deferred financings costs.

These increases were offset partially by:

- a $15.6 million decrease in restricted cash and cash equivalents related to financing activities;
- a $3.3 million increase in dividends;
- a $3.2 million decrease in proceeds from notes and term debt financings; and

• $2.9 million decrease in security deposits received net of security deposits returned.

Debt Obligations

For complete information on our debt obligations, please refer to Note 7 - Secured and Unsecured Debt Financings in the Notes to Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements above.

Contractual Obligations

Our contractual obligations consist of principal and interest payments on variable and fixed rate liabilities, interest payments on interest rate derivatives, other aircraft acquisition and conversion agreements and rent payments pursuant to our office leases. Total contractual obligations increased to $6.50 billion at June 30, 2015 from approximately $5.30 billion at December 31, 2014 due primarily to:

- an increase in borrowings and interest payments as a result of the closing of our Senior Notes due 2022 in January 2015, additional bank financings on aircraft and borrowing on our revolving credit facility; and
- an increase in aircraft purchase obligations due primarily to the Embraer purchase agreement signed in June 2015.

The following table presents our actual contractual obligations and their payment due dates as of June 30, 2015.

Estimated principal payments for these non-recourse financings are based on excess cash flows available from forecasted lease rentals, net maintenance funding and proceeds from asset dispositions after the payment of forecasted operating expenses and interest payments, including interest payments on existing interest rate derivative agreements and policy provider fees.

(1) Includes scheduled principal payments based upon eight fixed rate, 12-year, fully amortizing loans.

(2) Includes principal payments based upon individual loan amortization schedules.

(3) Future interest payments on variable rate, LIBOR-based debt obligations and derivative instruments are estimated using the interest rate in effect at June 30, 2015.

(4) Represents contractual payment obligations for our office leases in Stamford, Connecticut; Dublin, Ireland and Singapore.

(5) At June 30, 2015, we had commitments to acquire 34 aircraft for $1,266,550, including the acquisition of 25 new E-Jet E-2 aircraft from Embraer S.A. Committed amounts for the purchase of aircraft include estimated amounts for pre-delivery deposits, contractual price escalation and other adjustments. As of July 31, 2015, after taking into account three aircraft acquisitions during July 2015, we have commitments to acquire 31 aircraft for $1,177,900.

Capital Expenditures

We make capital expenditures from time to time in connection with improvements made to our aircraft. These expenditures include the cost of major overhauls necessary to place an aircraft in service and modifications made at the request of lessees. For the six months ended June 30, 2015 and 2014, we incurred a total of $26.5 million and $14.1 million, respectively, of capital expenditures (including lease incentives) related to the acquisition and improvement of aircraft.

As of June 30, 2015, the weighted average age (by net book value) of our aircraft was approximately 8.0 years. In general, the costs of operating an aircraft, including maintenance expenditures, increase with the age of the aircraft. Under our leases, the lessee is primarily responsible for maintaining the aircraft. We may incur additional maintenance and modification costs in the future in the event we are required to remarket an aircraft or a lessee fails to meet its maintenance obligations under the lease agreement. At June 30, 2015, we had a $351.1 million maintenance payment liability on our balance sheet, which is a $17.7 million increase from December 31, 2014. The increase consisted of net maintenance cash inflows of $11.0 million and an increase in lease incentive liabilities of $6.7 million. These maintenance reserves are paid by the lessee to provide for future maintenance events. Provided a lessee performs scheduled maintenance of the aircraft, we are required to reimburse the lessee for scheduled maintenance payments. In certain cases, we are also required to make lessor contributions, in excess of amounts a lessee may have paid, towards the costs of maintenance events performed by or on behalf of the lessee.

Actual maintenance payments to us by lessees in the future may be less than projected as a result of a number of factors, including defaults by the lessees. Maintenance reserves may not cover the entire amount of actual maintenance expenses incurred and, where these expenses are not otherwise covered by the lessees, there can be no assurance that our operational cash flow and maintenance reserves will be sufficient to fund maintenance requirements, particularly as our aircraft age.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

We have entered into a joint venture with an affiliate of Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan, in which we hold a 30% equity interest, which does not qualify for consolidated accounting treatment. The assets and liabilities of this joint venture are off our balance sheet and we only record our net investment under the equity method of accounting. See Note 5 - Unconsolidated Equity Method Investment in the Notes to Unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements above. At June 30, 2015, the net book value of the joint venture's five aircraft was approximately $493 million.

Foreign Currency Risk and Foreign Operations

At June 30, 2015, all of our leases are payable to us in U.S. dollars. However, we incur Euro- and Singapore dollar-denominated expenses in connection with our subsidiaries in Ireland and Singapore. For the six months ended June 30, 2015, expenses, such as payroll and office costs, denominated in currencies other than the U.S. dollar aggregated approximately $7.4 million in U.S. dollar equivalents and represented approximately 26% of total selling, general and administrative expenses. Our international operations are a significant component of our business strategy and permit us to more effectively source new aircraft, service the aircraft we own and maintain contact with our lessees. Therefore, our international operations and our exposure to foreign currency risk will likely increase over time. Although we have not yet entered into foreign currency hedges because our exposure to date has not been significant, if our foreign currency exposure increases we may enter into hedging transactions in the future to mitigate this risk. For the six months ended June 30, 2015 and 2014, we incurred insignificant net gains and losses on foreign currency transactions.

Management's Use of EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA

We define EBITDA as income (loss) from continuing operations before income taxes, interest expense, and depreciation and amortization. We use EBITDA to assess our consolidated financial and operating performance, and we believe this non-US GAAP measure is helpful in identifying trends in our performance.

This measure provides an assessment of controllable expenses and affords management the ability to make decisions which are expected to facilitate meeting current financial goals as well as achieving optimal financial performance. It provides an indicator for management to determine if adjustments to current spending decisions are needed.

EBITDA provides us with a measure of operating performance because it assists us in comparing our operating performance on a consistent basis as it removes the impact of our capital structure (primarily interest charges on our outstanding debt) and asset base (primarily depreciation and amortization) from our operating results. Accordingly, this metric measures our financial performance based on operational factors that management can impact in the short-term, namely the cost structure, or expenses, of the organization. EBITDA is one of the metrics used by senior management and the board of directors to review the consolidated financial performance of our business.

We define Adjusted EBITDA as EBITDA (as defined above) further adjusted to give effect to adjustments required in calculating covenant ratios and compliance as that term is defined in the indenture governing our senior unsecured notes. Adjusted EBITDA is a material component of these covenants.

Management's Use of Adjusted Net Income ("ANI")

Management believes that ANI, when viewed in conjunction with the Company's results under US GAAP and the below reconciliation, provides useful information about operating and period-over-period performance, and provides additional information that is useful for evaluating the underlying operating performance of our business without regard to periodic reporting elements related to interest rate derivative accounting, changes related to refinancing activity and non-cash share based payment expense.

Limitations of EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA and ANI

An investor or potential investor may find EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA and ANI important measures in evaluating our performance, results of operations and financial position. We use these non-US GAAP measures to supplement our US GAAP results in order to provide a more complete understanding of the factors and trends affecting our business.

EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA and ANI have limitations as analytical tools and should not be viewed in isolation or as substitutes for US GAAP measures of earnings. Material limitations in making the adjustments to our earnings to calculate EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA and ANI, and using these non-US GAAP measures as compared to US GAAP net income, income from continuing operations and cash flows provided by or used in operations, include: depreciation and amortization, though not directly affecting our current cash position, represent the wear and tear and/or reduction in value of our aircraft, which affects the aircraft's availability for use and may be indicative of future needs for capital expenditures; the cash portion of income tax (benefit) provision generally represents charges (gains), which may significantly affect our financial results;

elements of our interest rate derivative accounting may be used to evaluate the effectiveness of our hedging policy;

loss on the extinguishment of debt related to our 9.75% Senior Notes due 2018; hedge loss amortization charges related to Term Financing No. 1 and Securitization No. 1; and adjustments required in calculating covenant ratios and compliance as that term is defined in the indenture governing our senior unsecured notes.

EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA and ANI are not alternatives to net income, income from operations or cash flows provided by or used in operations as calculated and presented in accordance with US GAAP. You should not rely on these non-US GAAP measures as a substitute for any such US GAAP financial measure. We strongly urge you to review the reconciliations to US GAAP net income, along with our consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this report. We also strongly urge you to not rely on any single financial measure to evaluate our business. In addition, because EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA and ANI are not measures of financial performance under US GAAP and are susceptible to varying calculations, EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA and ANI as presented in this report, may differ from and may not be comparable to, similarly titled measures used by other companies.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Interest rate risk is the exposure to loss resulting from changes in the level of interest rates and the spread between different interest rates. These risks are highly sensitive to many factors, including U.S. monetary and tax policies, U.S. and international economic factors and other factors beyond our control. We are exposed to changes in the level of interest rates and to changes in the relationship or spread between interest rates. Our primary interest rate exposures relate to our lease agreements, floating rate debt obligations and interest rate derivatives. Rent payments under our aircraft lease agreements typically do not vary during the term of the lease according to changes in interest rates. However, our borrowing agreements generally require payments based on a variable interest rate index, such as LIBOR. Therefore, to the extent our borrowing costs are not fixed, increases in interest rates may reduce our net income by increasing the cost of our debt without any corresponding increase in rents or cash flow from our securities. Changes in interest rates may also impact our net book value as our interest rate derivatives are periodically marked-to-market through shareholders' equity. Generally, we are exposed to loss on our fixed pay interest rate derivatives to the extent interest rates decrease below their contractual fixed rate.

The relationship between spreads on derivative instruments may vary from time to time, resulting in a net aggregate book value increase or decrease. Changes in the general level of interest rates can also affect our ability to acquire new investments and our ability to realize gains from the settlement of such assets.

Sensitivity Analysis

The following discussion about the potential effects of changes in interest rates is based on a sensitivity analysis, which models the effects of hypothetical interest rate shifts on our financial condition and results of operations. Although we believe a sensitivity analysis provides the most meaningful analysis permitted by the rules and regulations of the SEC, it is constrained by several factors, including the necessity to conduct the analysis based on a single point in time and by the inability to include the extraordinarily complex market reactions that normally would arise from the market shifts modeled. Although the following results of a sensitivity analysis for changes in interest rates may have some limited use as a benchmark, they should not be viewed as a forecast. This forward-looking disclosure also is selective in nature and addresses only the potential interest expense impacts on our financial instruments and, in particular, does not address the mark-to-market impact on our interest rate derivatives. It also does not include a variety of other potential factors that could affect our business as a result of changes in interest rates. A hypothetical 100-basis point increase/decrease in our variable interest rates would increase/decrease the minimum contracted rentals on our portfolio as of June 30, 2015 by $4.1 million and $2.2 million, respectively, over the next twelve months. As of June 30, 2015, a hypothetical 100-basis point increase/decrease in our variable interest rate on our borrowings would result in an interest expense increase/decrease of $3.6 million and $1.7 million, respectively, net of amounts received from our interest rate derivatives, over the next twelve months.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

Management's Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

The term "disclosure controls and procedures" is defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) of the Exchange Act. This term refers to the controls and procedures of a company that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified by the SEC and that such information is accumulated and communicated to the Company's management, including its Chief Executive Officer ("CEO") and Chief Financial Officer ("CFO") as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. An evaluation was performed under the supervision and with the participation of the Company's management, including the CEO and CFO, of the effectiveness of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures as of June 30, 2015. Based on that evaluation, the Company's management, including the CEO and CFO, concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of June 30, 2015.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

There were no changes in the Company's internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the quarter ended June 30, 2015 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

PART II. — OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

The Company is not a party to any material legal or adverse regulatory proceedings.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

Except for the risk factor stated below, there have been no material changes to the disclosure related to the risk factors described in our Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the SEC for the year ended December 31, 2014.

Risks Related to our Order of New Embraer E-Jet E2 Aircraft

We do not have lease commitments or financing in place for the 25 E-Jet E2 aircraft that we have contracted to purchase from Embraer which are scheduled for delivery between 2018 and 2021. Our ability to lease these aircraft on favorable terms, if at all, may be adversely affected by desirability of this new aircraft type and risks to the commercial airline industry generally. If we are unable to obtain the necessary financing or otherwise satisfy our contractual obligations to Embraer, we will be subject to several potential risks, including:

- forfeiting advance deposits and progress payments to Embraer, as well as incurring certain significant costs related to these commitments such as actual damages and legal, accounting and financial advisory expenses;
- defaulting on any future lease commitments, which could result in monetary damages and strained relationships with lessees;

- failing to realize the benefits of purchasing and leasing such aircraft; and

- risking harm to our business reputation, which would make it more difficult to purchase and lease aircraft in the future on agreeable terms, if at all.

In addition, the Embraer E-Jet E2 is a new aircraft variant under development and is not yet in production. While the E-Jet E2 aircraft will incorporate a modified version of the recently introduced Pratt & Whitney geared turbofan engine, it is also not in production. Airframe and engine manufacturers have occasionally experienced delays and technical difficulties in bringing new aircraft and engine types to market. If any aircraft for which we have made future lease commitments is delayed or if Embraer is unable to produce the aircraft in compliance with the performance specifications, some or all of our affected lessees might be able to terminate their leases with respect to such aircraft. Moreover, our purchase agreement with Embraer and the anticipated future leases for these aircraft contain certain cancellation rights related to delays in delivery. Any such termination could strain our relations with those lessees going forward. Lastly, we will rely on Embraer to return any advance deposits and progress payments if they are unable to meet their obligations to us and we may not be able to recover such amounts if Embraer defaults or becomes insolvent. Any of these events could materially and adversely affect our financial results and operations.

Item 2. Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities and Use of Proceeds
