Israeli Government Approves the New Seam-Line Route

Thursday February 24, 9:00 am ET

YAHUD, Israel, February 24 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- Magal Security Systems, Ltd. (NASDAQ NM:MAGS ; TASE:MAGS) commented on recent developments with regard to the Seam-Line Project, Magal's largest project during 2003.

On Sunday, February 20, 2005, the Israeli government approved the new seam-line fence route. This decision is expected to signal the renewal of works on the southern part of the seam-line project. Building of the seam-line fence was mostly halted during 2004 as the route of the fence faced a number of legal challenges.

As reported in the Israeli press, following the decision, the Israeli Ministry of Defense is soon expected to publish orders for the work on the southern part of the fence. It is widely believed that the majority of the remaining part of the project will be completed during this year.

Mr. Even-Ezra, Magal's Chairman and CEO, commented on the news: "As we were one of only two major suppliers of electronic systems for the seam-line project in the past, it is natural to expect that we will be asked to participate in the remaining part of the project as well. As we have said in the past, during 2005 we expect to resume significant work on the seam-line project."

Mr. Even Ezra concluded, "We welcome the Israeli Government's decision and believe that we are in a strong position to receive orders for the seam-line project in the near future."

About Magal Security Systems, Ltd.:
