To: Universal Employees Worldwide

From: Executive Leadership Team

Subject: MERGER ORGANIZATIONAL ANNOUNCEMENT

On Monday, June 4, we announced the name of our new, to be merged organization, Exterran, and we began the detailed merger planning phase. On Tuesday, June 5, we completed the initial Merger Integration Planning Team Kick-Off meeting. Each of the Hanover and Universal organizations were well represented by leadership personnel from both organizations. The energy, enthusiasm and collaboration from those who attended was inspiring. Based on our kickoff experience, we are confident in our ability to continue the planning required for integration and even more excited and optimistic about the future for Exterran. We appreciate the work of all of the companies' leadership and personnel this week both in this initial meeting and in the field and offices around the world to keep focus on our core business.

Now we are pleased to announce the Exterran management positions and personnel that will report to the Executive Leadership Team once the transaction officially closes. Over the past weeks, we have been working on an organizational structure that builds on the successes of both the Hanover and Universal organizations (see pages that follow). This rigorous organization design process has included input from the executive leadership of both companies, as well as advice from our merger consultant, McKinsey and Company. The organizational design process was followed by a disciplined personnel selection process that included identification of personnel in both organizations, interviews and, again, collaboration of the executive leadership of both companies. The group of leaders we are announcing today, and those supporting them, will be critical in creating the high performance organization we know Exterran can be.

Please join us in congratulating all of these leaders on their prospective positions with Exterran and supporting their work and efforts as they build their organizations through the integration planning process.

Over the next few months, an incredible volume of work must be accomplished. The Exterran Leadership Team is committed to a personnel selection process that continues to build upon the achievements and capabilities of both Hanover and Universal, and that is fair to the employees in both organizations. Based on what we have experienced in working with personnel from both organizations so far, we are confident that we will achieve this objective.

One of the first integration planning steps for these leaders will be to propose how their groups will be structured to achieve our new company's overall vision and to follow an agreed selection process for their respective teams. This process will be rigorous and fact-based with equal opportunity for potential candidates in both companies. If you believe that there is a position or department that you are interested in and would like to be considered, please contact your HR representative so they can inform the appropriate departments of your desires.

We continue to make progress with the regulatory process and anticipate a successful close but, like the majority of mergers at this stage of the process, do not yet know the exact date when we will become one company, Exterran. As we have repeatedly emphasized, until the proposed transaction officially closes, Universal and Hanover must continue to compete vigorously. Our customers expect that, and the antitrust laws demand it.

It is critical for us to stay focused on our day-to-day business and to continue to operate as independent companies.

Both Hanover and Universal have a history of success. Much of our success is due to your efforts.

Thank you.

OPERATIONS

Operations is about execution and consistent delivery of excellent service to our customers globally. In order to achieve this, we will maintain geographically organized operations management supported by a functional support infrastructure that assures a consistent global focus. These positions will report to Brian Matusek.

The operations managers will be responsible for assuring safe, efficient service delivery, and expanding growth in new and existing markets. These leaders will be:

North American Operations Region 1 Rob Rice

North American Operations Region 2 Kevin Bourbonnais

Latin American Operations Joe Kishkill

Europe, Africa, Asia, and Australia Operations Norrie McKay

The functional support infrastructure will include the following groups and managers:

The Total Solutions group will be led by Steve Gill, who will be responsible for turnkey construction, project management, and the balance of plant engineering for our integrated services. He will also oversee global business development for total solutions and gas processing plants.

Marketing and Business Development will report to Rob Price, who will be responsible for the global marketing strategy for services and products including pricing strategies, business models, marketing support documentation, applications engineering, and strategic equipment inventory and allocation.

The Global Accounts group will be responsible for overseeing relationships with worldwide strategic customers. This group will be led by Kirk Townsend.

Global Fleet Services will be responsible for all global compression and production equipment assets, including tracking, technical and operations support, setting and maintaining configuration specifications and standard operating procedures. This group will be led by Gerald Meinecke.

QHSE will be responsible for developing and measuring standards for HSE, Quality, and the process improvement efforts to assure effective service delivery in a safe manner. This role will be filled by Steve Abernathy.

The U.S. Operation Integration Manager will be Mickey McDonald. This role will work with the two North American Operations managers to ensure smooth transition of the two organizations into the new service delivery model.

SUPPLY CHAIN, MANUFACTURING, ENGINEERING AND REAL ESTATE SERVICES

Supply Chain, Manufacturing, Engineering and Real Estate Services reporting to Dan Newman are accountable for the delivery of cost effective and timely products to our global organization.
